Wilson Getting Action From State on Bridge

Stresses Noise, Use Two Ways

Engineers Coming For Local Study

The State Department of Public Works will send a representative of its traffic regulation unit and engineers to Ulster County to ascertain what can be done to eliminate the present inconvenience to traffic and alleviate the noise at the temporary bridge across the Esopus Creek.

This survey by the State has been brought about as a result of a talk with the department by Assembelyman Kennetn L. Wilson.

Assemblyman Wilson has been assured of the state's cooperation in solving the problem.

Today Assemblyman Wilson announced that every means available is being explored to adjust the flow of traffic over the temporary bridge crossing the Esopus Creek and to abate the noise resulting from it.

Wilson Fighting for Cause

Since the collapse of the bridge last August, the State has erected a one-way temporary bridge to replace the fallen span. Loose planking on the bridge creates such a noise that residents of the area charge it is a menace to health. Vehicles using the bridge are confined to one-way traffic entering the city. A two-way use of the bridge is urged.

Assemblyman Wilson stated that he sympathized with the inconvenience the present situation is causing many persons in the area and that he is exercising every effort and remedy within his power to have it corrected.

Stresses Inconvenience

Assemblyman Wilson said he has consulted with the State Department of Public Works and that he has emphatically brought to their attention not only the inconvenience of the flow of traffic, but that which he considers even more important, the alleviation of the noise which he said is detrimental to the health and well being of the families living in the immediate vicinity.

As a result of his talks with the department, Assemblyman Wilson has been assured of their cooperation in solving the problem.

At the meeting of Assemblyman Wilson with the State engineers and traffic regulation representative will be representatives of the Ulster County Highway Department.

Gets Local Cooperation

Assemblyman Wilson stated that he has been in constant communication with Mayor John J. Schwenk and that Mayor Schwenk has been cooperating with him wholeheartedly in their desire to have the matter resolved in a satisfactory manner. He also said that he was appreciative of the constructive assistance that he has received from Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle

After 'Family Welcome' by JFK

Ben Bella, Fidel Agree Big Navy Base Must Go

HAVANA (AP) — Announcing "essential identity of viewpoints" in world affairs, Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and Prime Minister Fidel Castro agreed Wednesday night that the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo must go.

(Editor's Note: Earier this week in Washington, the Algerian premier received what was described as a "family welcome" at the White House from President Kennedy.

Ben Bella was greeted warmly on Monday on the south lawn of the Executive Mansion at a 21-gun salute boomed out on the Ellipse facing that part of the White House.

The President told Ben Bella that America held out the hand of friendship to his new country and that he was sure all Americans rejoiced that an independent Algeria now is the United Nations 109th member.

The Socialist premier of Algeria told President Kennedy there is a particlarly warm spot for him in Algerian hearts because, back in 1957, while still a Senator, he told the world he felt Algerians deserved full independence from France if they desire it.

A joint communique emphasized, however, that the big naval installation in eastern Cuba will be "claimed in its opportunity through international law"—not by force.

28-Hour Visit

Despite the specific mention of Guantanamo, the communique was free of the usual Cuban diatribes against "Yankee imperialism" with which Castro greeted Ben Bella on his arrival Tuesday.

The communique was issued at the end of a 28-hour visit by the premier of the new North African nation, who came here direct from a White House lawn reception and talks with President Kennedy.

The communique said Castro

Esopus Board Will Vote on $335,000 Water Job Nov. 14

Nearly 200 residents of Port Ewen Water District attended a public hearing Wednesday night on a $335,000 proposal to provide a water supply pumping system using the Hudson River, and no major objections to the project were presented, according to Town of Esopus Supervisor Roger W. Mabie.

Approximately 20 persons asked questions about the proposal and only one person objected to the increase in the water tax rate, he said.

3 Killed In Rocket Fuel Blast

Hercules Mishap Injures Eighteen

BACCHUS, Utah (AP) — Three men were killed and 18 injured Wednesday in an explosion of 4,000 pounds of rocket fuel—the second in less than two months at the Hercules Powder Co. plant here.

An explosion of 3,000 pounds of experimental rocket fuel Aug. 23 also killed three men.

Killed Wednesday were Larry Larsen, 26, and Charles Eutsler, 30, both of Salt Lake City, and Grant C. Terry, 36, American Fork, Utah. They were inside or just outside a 20-by-30 foot frame and concrete block building used for preparation of solid fuel when the blast occurred.

Cause Not Known

The explosion left only a hole in the ground where the building had stood. Cause of the blast has not been determined.

The plant manager, R. C. Tucker, said the firm's production of solid propellant for Polaris and Minuteman missiles would not be affected. No rocket engines were damaged, he said.

The blast sent a fireball and a mushroom-shaped cloud of smoke and debris shooting about the plant, 15 miles southwest of Salt Lake City. It shook homes five miles away.

Building Damaged

An adjacent concrete block building used for mixing missile fuel was heavily damaged. Another structure 400 yards away housing a 25 million electron-volt X-ray machine was slightly damaged.

Of the 18 injured only four were hospitalized.

Most of the injured were hit by debris or suffered from concussion of the blast.

Authorities said further damage was avoided because the destroyed structure was barricaded and sat on a small hill, slightly above adjacent buildings. All but the roof was covered with dirt.

There was no estimate of damage.

N. Front Street Demolition Job Making Progress

Demolition operations in the project of clearance of buildings for the uptown parking lots were well underway today, with workmen concentrating on the building at 67 North Front formerly occupied by the Barnett Jewelry store.

Earl Killmer, foreman for the Poughkeepsie Wrecking Co., contractors in charge of the clearance project, said today that work will progress on the north side of North Front Street until the buildings at 65-77 are removed, then the work will shift across to the south side of the

Supervisors To Meet on New Building

A special meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors will be held on Monday evening, October 22, at 8 o'clock at the court house to consider the proposed new County Office building and its financing.

At a special meeting of the board held on Friday, September 28, preliminary plans were presented and discussed by board members. At that time the architect firm of Augustus R. Schrowang and Associates of Kingston was authorized to make an "overall study" of the county office building proposition.

To Study All Needs

This study was authorized at a cost not to exceed $2,500 and to include an overall study of present existing facilities at the court house property, as well as use of that property in connection with a new county building. Needs of the various departments to be housed in the new structure and an overall appraisal of needs at this time and in the future were to be included in the study.

At that time, it was stated about three weeks would be needed for the study. Preliminary plans for a new six-story building suitable to be erected on the site of the present Main Street parking lot were discussed with the board by the Schrowang firm at the September meeting.

During discussion of the proposed plans, use of the court house was raised and as a result it was deemed advisable to extend the study of needs to include possible use of the present court house in an over-all plan.

Gromyko at White House Today

JFK, Khrush May Talk Next Month on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy confers with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today in a White House meeting that foreshadows a Kennedy conference with Premier Khrushchev on the Berlin crisis next month.

Khrushchev has, in effect, made known to Kennedy through Foy Kohler, the new U.S. ambassador to Moscow, that he is very interested in a face-to-face discussion of the Berlin dispute with the President.

May Visit U. N.

Kennedy has already decided to see Khrushchev if, as expected here, the Soviet premier goes through with the decision to visit the United States to attend the U.N General Assembly. Gromyko, who came here from New York Wednesday, is due at the White House in late afternoon. After seeing Kennedy, he is scheduled to spend the evening with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a "working dinner" attended also by U.S. and Soviet policy advisers.

The White House session here follows by two days a Moscow conference between Khrushchev and Kohler. It was learned that Khrushchev indicated to the new American envoy that he considers more discussions on the Berlin situation to be desirable. He also clearly indicated that he considers a personal talk between himself and Kennedy to be advisable.

Easy, Relaxed Talks

While Khrushchev underscored his long-standing demand for withdrawal of U.S., British and French troops from West Berlin, the atmosphere of his conversation with Kohler was reported to have been easy and relaxed and devoid of any sense of immediate crisis or imminent deadline. Kohler made a full report of the talk to Washington for the information of Kennedy, Rusk and their top advisers.

Kennedy was expected to emphasize strongly in his meeting with Gromyo that Khrushchev's insistence on removal of Western forces from Berlin is totally unacceptable and that the Western powers are completely agreed on defending West Berlin and its military and civilian supply lines against any kind of Communist move against them.

Immediate Accord Unlikely

Top U.S. officials actually see no prospect at the moment of reaching any kind of accord with the Soviets on West Berlin's future, but they are strongly in favor of continued exploratory discussions aimed at some understanding which would reduce the tensions.

West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder reflected this view when he left the White House Wednesday after a 90-minute

Thayer Comment On Hospital Seen As Irresponsible

Dr .Alfred M. Feldshuh, president of the Medical Society of the County of Ulster, today said he deplored what he termed an "irresponsible and inaccurately based" editorial by WGHQ manager, Harry Thayer.

Dr. Feldshuh's statement followed a meeting of the governing body of the County Medical Society to discuss Thayer's editorial charges that the hospital admits and cares for patients at public expense who "have no business whatsoever in being treated there," and that the county no longer needs a TB medical facility.

Should Have Checked

'Had Mr. Thayer taken the time to check his facts with the Board of Health or hospital authorities before issuing his charges," Dr. Feldshuh declared, "he would have discovered that the TB hospital is still very much needed in Ulster County,

Enthusiasm Shown by 75 People

No Inconvenience To Come: Yosman

Kingston Urban Renewal Adviser Alexander Yosman Wednesday night, urged residents and businessmen in the city's downtown area to dispel fear, rumors and ill feelings about urban renewal and participate in planning the project.

Yosman, speaking to a gathering of 75 at Wimpy's Restaurant on Broadway, gave a brief history of developments in the Broadway East urban renewal project to date and discussed current and future plans.

"We are now at the point," he said, "where we need public participation. We have a plan which can, and will be changed if necessary, to conform to the specific needs of the project."

Will Find Homes for People

The urban renewal adviser told the gathering that under the present plan, 416 families in the Broadway East project will have to be re-located. However, Yosman emphasized, "everything within the project will not be leveled. Nobody will be out of their homes. The urban Renewal Agency will find suitable homes for those affected. They will be re-located in housing they can afford and no one will be forced into sub-standard housing."

Yosman also noted that all moving expenses will be paid, a re-location center will be set up where each individual case will be gone over and many other free services will be available. "We're dealing with human beings," Yosman asserted, "and one of our biggest problems is the fear of not knowing. We have no secrets in Kingston urban renewal and we invite suggestions and comments."

Yosman illustrated his talk by the use of maps, charts and colored slides. The re-location problem is only one of many in urban renewal, he said and described some of the many other facets that must be considered.

Enthused, Says Lipton

President Manuel B. Lipton of the Business Men's Association, speaking for his group, said last night's explanation was the first real full briefing ever given of the downtown renewal picture. "We were all enthused," he remarked, "and that the wheels of progress are really turning now."

Lipton, who is secretary-treasurer of David Gill Jr., a building supplies firm, said he felt people downtown are ready to cooperate in every way with the urban renewal plan.

Calls for 115 Units

Looking ahead to the future and the completion of the Broadway East project, Yosman told the gathering about shopping centers, apartment houses, parks, industrial buildings and a new firehouse. Current plans, he

Rocky Proposes State Aid To Solve Water Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican Gov. Rockefeller, opening an intensive campaign to grab more votes here in the Nov. 6 election, proposed today a 10-year program of state aid to encourage cooperative, area-wide solutions to water-supply problems.

The governor said that, under his plan, the state would pay the full cost of studies to determine water - supply and distribution needs of groups of cooperating communities and how to meet the needs most economically.

A spokesman for the State Division of Water Resources in Albany said the plan would be submitted to the 1963 Legislature. No estimate of the cost of the program has been made, he said.

Rockefeller focused his re-election campaign today on the sidewalks of Manhattan. His schedule included a rally in the garment district and walking tours in several sections of the borough.

Although New York traditionally provides the foundation of the Democratic Party's voting strength, the governor knows that if he is to achieve the "smashing victory" he has called for, he must reduce Democratic pluralities here.

The city contributed about 40 per cent of the total vote in the 1958 state election. Rockefeller won election then by 573,000 votes, but he ran behind in the city by 310,000.

The governor returned here Wednesday night from a three-day campaign swing through the Southern Tier and Central New York, where his principal effort was aimed at spurring interest in the election.

He expressed concern frequently that many voters seemed not to

Saud Fires Cabinet, Calls Faisal to Realign Regime

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Beset by a new challenge from President Nasser in revolt-torn Yemen, King Saud of Saudi Arabia summoned his brother, Prince Faisal, from New York today to form a new government and bolster his regime.

Nasser's United Arab Republic has increased the violence of its propaganda attacks on Saud since the desert king threw his support behind the Yemen monarchy toppled in an army revolt Sept. 26.

A broadcast from Mecca said only that the old cabinet was dissolved in the general interest. But there have been signs of disaffection inside Saudi Arabia since the Yemen revolt.

Saudi air force officers have defected to the U.A.R. in a transport plane and three trainers since the Yemeni uprising broke out. As in Yemen, pro-Nasser sentiment has been reported among Saudi officers.

With a hostile revolutionary regime in Yemen backed by Nasser, Saud apparently decided it was time to call back to the premiership a brother who might rally public support to the monarchy.

Faisal has been heading Saudi Arabia's delegation to the United Nations in New York.

Court Rules That Tantillo Name to Appear on Ballot

The name of Frank Tantillo, Town of Gardiner Democratic candidate for the office of Councilman, will appear on the ballot on election day as a legal candidate for that office.

Supreme Court Justice Lawrence D. Cooke Wednesday afternoon ruled an application made by Town of Gardiner Republican chairman Richard D. Borcherding and Louis Bevier, Republican candidate for the office of councilman, was untimely and dismissed the petition which sought to have the Ulster County Board of Elections reject the Tantillo designation.

The dismissal of the petition came after counsel for both sides had submitted memorandums of law.

Petitioners moved to have the nomination of Tantillo declared void on the grounds sufficient notices had not been posted or other notice given of the time and place of the Democratic caucus at which Tantillo was named. It was the contention of petitioners that the application to the Supreme court was timely and witnesses were in court to give testimony in support of the alleged lack of notice. John E. Gotelli appeared for petitioners.

Opposing was George Beck who contended the application was not made in time under the Election Law and that sections

Carolina Capes in Direct Path of Hurricane Ella

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Ella, carrying 90 mile-an-hour winds and threatening to get stronger, ploughed northward in the Atlantic today. Gale winds already were reaching out to flirt with the U.S. mainland.

Termed dangerous by weathermen, the season's fifth tropical storm was headed approximately toward the Carolina Capes at 7 m.p.h., sending rough seas ahead of her.

Early today the storm was about 375 miles south of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Gales extended 350 miles to the north and 25 miles to the south of the center.

Forecasters predicted Ella would intensify during the day and continue on her northbound course.

Ships 90 miles off the Carolina coasts reported gales and seas to 11 feet Wednesday night. Ella's fringe winds tousled Daytona Beach, Fla., with 40-mile gusts as the hurricane churned along about 325 miles from the Florida East Coast.

Ella's north-northwest course began Tuesday afternoon. Before that, the storm zigzagged between north and west as it gathered strength, in a gradual rise toward the hurricane status it reached Wednesday.

Gales were predicted from Georgetown, S.C., northward today and all interests from Georgetown to the Carolina Capes were urged to keep in touch with Weather Bureau warnings on Ella.

Vessels in Ella's path were advised to use caution.

If Ella reaches the U.S. mainland, she will be the first tropical storm this year to do so. Predecessors broke up or turned seaward before hitting land.

Fire Volunteers Join Paid Men in Dystrophy Aid Drive

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association at its regular monthly meeting held at Hurley Tuesday evening went on record as standing firmly behind the annual Muscular Dystrophy Drive which will get under way on November 18.

On motion of Morton Finch the association voted to carry on a county-wide "Fire Fighter March," beginning Sunday, Nov. 18.

Hugh Greer, representing the Kingston Fire Fighters Association (paid department), was present at the meeting and after endorsing the Muscular Dystrophy Drive, introduced Attorney Seymour Werbalowsky, Ulster County chairman of the Muscular Dystrophy Committee who spoke of the importance of the work. Werbalowsky said there are now five cases in Ulster County, three of which are in Kingston, and he pointed out the need for funds to carry on the work of the committee.

The meeting was called to order by President George Ohley of Saugerties. Thirty-seven companies were represented. There were approximately 150 members in attendance.

Attending the meeting was Justice Lawrence D. Cooke, president of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, who is presiding at the October trial term of Supreme Court in Kingston.

The first reading of a proposed amendment to the County Association by-laws was held. Under the proposed amendment the number of directors will be increased from five to seven and the president of the association would be authorized to appoint a chaplain, whose term would run concurrently with that of the president. The term of the directors would be fixed at five years.

Prevention Successful

James Hicks, chairman of the Fire Prevention Week Committee, reported on the success of the program. He extended thanks of the committee to all those who made the Week a success and also the Pardee Insurance Company, representatives of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, which provided much of the material for Fire Prevention Week, and also the National Board of Fire Underwriters for its assistance and the material supplied. A report on the winners in the eighth grade school essay contest conducted in connection with Fire Prevention Week will be announced at the next meeting.

Joseph Murphy, retired Kingston fire chief said the "open house" held by fire companies during the week were of great importance. Chief Murphy said there should be more activities at fire houses during the year to acquaint the public with the work done.

Ulster County Fire Coordinator Winfred Snyder reported on fire calls during the month of September. There was a total of 612 calls at fire control headquarters. The calls were: fire 63, mutual aid 6, Civil Defense 31, radio 32, quick calls 10. Miscellaneous calls made up the balance.

Voted into membership in the County Association was Charles Heissenbuttel of Rifton.

A report on the annual Hudson Valley Day at the Firemen's Home in Hudson was presented. This annual event sponsored by the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association was held on September 23. Seven members from Ulster County were in attendance. It was suggested that county firemen visit the home as often as possible.

The Hudson valley firemen this year donated an oxygen tent for use in the home hospital.

The meeting adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Charles Markle, a member of Bloomington Fire Department, who had contributed so much to the county association.

The next meeting will be held as guests of Ulster Hose No. 5, Town of Ulster.

Savings and Loan Score Record Gains

September established new thrift records for the month at New York State's 229 savings and loan associations. According to the Savings Association League of New York State, the inflow of new funds reached an all-time high for the period. In contrast, withdrawals declined in comparison with year-before figures. As a result, the net gain in savings for these thrift and home-financing instiutions exceeded that for any previous September.

"New savings for the month amounted to $162,376,623," David Ford, League president, reported. "This is $3,188,835 above the previous high, registered in September 1961, and represents a gain of 2 per cent. Withdrawals of $105,926,913 were 6.9 per cent below last September's. Net additions to accounts comprised $56,449,710. This is 24.4 per cent above the $45,381,093 gain in September 1961 and 18.9 per cent greater than the previous high of $47,472,526, established in 1960."

Urho Kekkonen, president of Finland, received a bear hug farewell from Premier Khrushchev before leaving Moscow by train for Helsinki. Kekkonen and his wife vacationed for two weeks in the Soviet Union as guests of the Khrushchevs.

Simon Cuentas, Bolivian minister of mines and petroleum, told a news conference in La Paz that his country will ask the United States for $14 million as compensation for the sale of U.S. strategic reserves of tin in the world market. Last month, President Victor Paz Estenssoro canceled a scheduled visit to the United States, ostensibly in protest against sale of the tin.

Actress Lauren Bacall and her husband, actor Jason Robards Jr., were in another room of their New York apartment when a thief sneaked into the bedroom and made off with jewelry valued at $3,000. Also in the apartment at the time were the couple's infant son and Miss Bacall's 10-year-old daughter, Leslie, by her previous marriage to the late Humphrey Bogart. Police said Leslie surprised the thief, a Negro, in the bedroom, but he fled when she ran to call her parents.

Javits Challenges Foe on Medicare, U.S. Education Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits today challenged his Democratic and Liberal Party opponent, James B. Donovan, on the issues of medical care for the aging and federal aid to education.

The Republican senator, running for reelection, recalled that the Liberal Party endorsed him (Javits) in four campaigns when he was a congressman from Manhattan years ago, and said:

Asks Specific Stand

"I think it's about time Democrats and Liberals began asking my opponent specifically where their standard bearer stands on the issues."

In a talk prepared for a rally in the garment center—a stronghold of the Liberal Party — Javits added:

"I believe those of you who are members of the Democratic Party and the Liberal Party.... should wake up.

In challenging Donovan, a Brooklyn lawyer, on the issues of medical care for the aging and federal aid to education, Javits said:

"The (medical care) bill which the Senate voted on this year bears my name — the Anderson-Javits bill. The President supported the bill....and although it lost by only four votes, it will be the bill which eventually will be enacted into law.

"And how does my opponent stand on that issue? The New York Times on Oct. 16 said this: 'On the question of medical care for the elderly, Mr. Donovan said every means to pay for it privately should be exhausted before turning to the government. He said that if payment though Social Security proved ultimately to be the only way, then he would support it."

Javits also said that Donovan in a recent television appearance took a stand on medicare that Javits did not approve.

On the federal aid to education issue, Javits said:

Position Shifts

"My opponent was asked by the United Parents Association, which is opposed to aid to private schools, this question: 'Do you favor and will you vote for granting school funds to private and parochial schools?' He answered 'no.'

"Then the Citizens for Educational Freedom, which favors aid to private schools, examined his statements on aid to private schools and found his position exactly the opposite, thus giving him their endorsement.

Signal Destroys Missile Headed For Fla. Area

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Minuteman missile, off course and headed for the Florida mainland, destroyed itself on signal from the range safety officer seconds after launching from an underground silo Wednesday night.

The spectacular blast rained chunks of flaming debris over a wide area and a Jupiter missile was severely damaged. A photographer was injured slightly while racing to safety.

The missile was far off course—aimed toward the mainland a few miles away instead of out to sea as intended—when it blasted out of the 85-foot-deep hole. The range safety officer triggered a radio signal to destroy the rocket after eight seconds of flight.

Walter Lewis, a documentary photographer recording the launching from a mile away, fell from a platform as he scurried for safety. It was thought at first he had broken a leg, but examination showed he was only cut, bruised and shaken up. No pieces of the Minuteman landed near him.

A fiery chunk of the shattered rocket plummeted onto a launch complex containing a Jupiter missile. The Air Force reported fire caused extensive damage to the Jupiter and some damage to its launch facilities, which are 1¼ miles from the Minuteman silo.

TOO MUCH HOT AIR

A lot of the world's troubles stem from faulty communications. They always have.

This has nothing to do with technical means of communications, or the lack of them. In fact, our modern inventions have actually aggravated the problem.

With so many more of us in existence wanting to say things, and with so many more means with which to say them—telephone, telegraph, television, radio, newspapers, magazines, journals, cards, memos, notices, bulletins, billboards, letters, books—the result is a flood of communications between the members of the human race.

Most of us wade through a jungle of babble every day, both in its oral and written forms. But how much real communication takes place?

Partly it is because we don't always have anything important or interesting to say, but we are expected to say something. A lot of our communication is in the form of polite formulas like "Good morning, how are you?", which we say automatically but which neither convey nor elicit any vital information.

But even in the fields of science, business and government, where efficient, precise communication is vital, a monster called gobbledygook eats up precious time, paper, ink and energy.

An illustration is the following question recently asked at a congressional hearing:

"If you do generate that know-how in-house, will it obviously follow that you could eliminate some of the contractural procedures that you are presently farming out because of lack of in-house know-how?"

But gobbledygook is not only esoteric words or opaque phraseology. It can also be good, orderly English which just doesn't know when to stop.

Illustration: A certain company had a problem in its cafeteria. It put a card with the following message on each of the tables:

"The number of complaints concerning the practice of 'reserving' a table has steadily increased through the failure of many to heed our requests for discontinuance. In the interest of orderly operation and the comfort of a majority of the patrons, notice is hereby given that the placing of articles of personal property on tables and chairs is done at the expressed risk of the owners thereof and with the understanding that they may be removed by our employes without responsibility."

The problem persisted. Finally the company put another card on the tables:

"No reserved seats in this cafeteria. We cannot be responsible for your personal belongings."

Problem solved.

Student writers are often told of the reply a preacher made to Queen Anne's compliment on the brevity of his sermon. Said he, "Had I had more time to write it, it would have been even shorter."

Today we have less time than ever. It would be ironic if the human race perished not from nuclear radiation but from linguistic asphixiation (hot air).

THOSE NASTY CHEERS

The Washington, D. C., schools have issued a guide for cheerleaders. It sounds high-minded, but we suspect that its recommendations will not, as the saying goes, win total acceptance.

Consider this admonition: "Harsh or senseless phrases are to be avoided. 'Smash em,' 'bash em,' 'knock em,' 'skin em alive,' etc., have no place in cheers." This will surprise an older and doubtless more bloodthirsty generation that happily whiled away Saturday afternoons demanding the dismemberment of the opposition.

Cutting out such phrases may not appeal much to present student bodies, either. It's hard to imagine a bunch of high schoolers yelling. "Counteract their best efforts with severity!" Or maybe, "Let's cause them difficulty!" That might not be harsh or senseless, but it wouldn't be much fun, either.

'These Days'

MORALS VS. HOOLIGANISM

The Judaic-Christian doctrine of sin is the foundation of our Western European system of morality. We sin not only against the offended person but against God. In the secular society in which we find ourselves at this moment, there are no sins. Even the younger clergy eschew the word, sin. They deal with a social conscience, with crimes against society, with the crimes of society against the individual. In the current Marxist system, there are no sins, but there are crimes against the state which may be little more than a difference of opinion—given the grandiloquent term of deviation.

To restore a system of morality, which may turn out to be the most serious task of the Ecumenical Council, it may be necessary to redefine the word, sin. For in the Judaic-Christian tradition, that is, in the Old Testament and the New Testament, in the Phophets and the Apostles, in the writings of the Patristic Philosophers and in such Jewish thinkers as Philo and Maimonides, there is no consideration for what the modern sociologist calls society. There is only thought for the individual who on the Day of Redemption must stand for judgement as to his own conduct. His alone and no one else's. His—as one single individual, one soul pleading for mercy.

This concept of sin produced the morality of the Western world—the resistance, the rejection of evil in thought and deed. We are now told that the Twentieth Century is different from all other centuries; that what has been sin since the day symbolically that Lot's wife was turned into a pillar of salt, is no longer sin; that abnormalities and disorders of thought and conduct are social disturbances. We have lost sight of individual and personal responsibility.

These are among the more serious problems that the Second Vatican Council must deal with and it will take much longer than a demonstrative day to analyze precisely at what point, the human race took a wrong turn and what must be done to right the world.

To ignore these problems is to accept defeat, for the secular forces are marching forward destroying centuries, fifty centuries or even more, of man's struggle from the lust of Cain to the gentleness of Tolstoy, to mention a modern. We need to find new paths to old truths. For truth is eternal and more is to be found in Micah or in the Beatitudes than in the repetitious platitudes of the sociologists and psychiatrists who dare not face the brutally chilling fact of individual responsibility.

Hooliganism is the Soviet equivalent for nuisance, evil, bad manners, misconduct. Opposition to hooliganism is a morality, too. But it is a response to collectivism. The individual is not as guilty of sin as he is of annoying the state, as though the state were a virtue instead of a mechanism.

Herein perhaps lies the essential error of the Twentieth Century: the assumption that the state is more than it is; that the state is an institution to be adored, despite the obvious historic fact that it is man-made and man-broken; that those who manipulate the state are, of themselves, superior men, although we all saw and knew them as they climbed to power with man-made tools and tricks and stratagems. In the quarrel between Karl Marx and Bakunin, Marx prevailed as Lenin prevailed over those who loved freedom and thus, in this century, in many parts of the world, government has taken on altogether a new personality. Instead of being a mechanism, a technique, it has become a master to be obeyed to the death, right or wrong.

God, we have heretofore believed, is a mystical power, beyond our knowledge and comprehension, which makes for righteousness. God therefore prescribed the Moral Law which teaches Man to restrain his nature, primitively, out of fear, in the higher orders of Man, out of love. Man's strength lies in his virtue, not in his physical power and it is this virtue that has built civilization in its diverse forms.

Wherever civilization appears, the family becomes an institution which is beautiful when man is virtuous and becomes ugly and confused when man degenerates. Thus, barbarism reappears. This is the cycle of virtue.

As the Second Council develops these problems will move wise men to important statements of truth.

Antibiotics Help Subdue Undulant Fever Debility

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have had undulant fever for many years. I feel weak and tired all the time. Is there any cure?

A—Although treatment with a combination of antibiotics can bring about rapid improvement in a person with undulant fever and may even save life, these drugs suppress rather than kill the causative germs. When the vague feelings of general debility that follow an attack of this disease in some people are not improved by a course of antibiotics, it is of no use to continue them. You should consult your doctor for ways to build up your strength both physically and emotionally.

Q—What has caused the great increase in diseases of the heart and arteries and different kinds of cancer in the last 50 years?

A—With an increase in the population and especially in the number of persons living past the half century mark, there was bound to be an increase in the diseases that are more common in persons over 50. Another reason is the fact that we now have better statistics. The U. S. Public Health Service says in spite of the increase in the number of persons with heart disease the death rate per unit of population from this cause has shown a decrease in the last 20 years.

Q—When I lie down at night my heart seems to beat very well for a minute or two then it gives one whopping big beat then it skips a beat or two. It will do this several times and it may keep me awake. After I go to sleep it never seems to wake me. I had to take a physical examination a few weeks ago. The doctor said my heart was OK. Could you please advise me what to do?

A—From your description I would guess that you have extra-systoles. This is a very common condition and in no way related to organic heart disease. The fact that your doctor found nothing wrong with your heart would confirm this. Skipped beats can be a nuisance but thousands of persons live with them.

Smoking may aggravate this condition. If you can train yourself not to worry about these skipped beats you will have less difficulty getting to sleep.

Q—I often read that we should not eat any concentrated sweets. Does a person need more sugar than is obtained in natural foods?

A—There is a general tendency for Americans to eat too much sugar. Starches are more easily digested and have the same food value. The answer to your specific question is no. It is possible to be healthy and eat no candy, jam or cake. This does not mean that, if you are not overweight and have taken an otherwise balanced diet, you should not put any sugar in your coffee if you prefer it that way or that you should never eat any of the concentrated sweets.

"You Mean You're Going Out an' Hunt MORE of Those Things?"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — What the average citizen gets out of the new tax law just passed by Congress is not much.

What came out was a series of highly technical amendments to exisiting tax law. The changes benefit corporations and businessmen. Business will even be allowed to deduct expenses for lobbying and trying to influence congressional votes.

As originally requested by President Kennedy last year, the tax bill was intended to close tax loopholes and increase tax receipts sufficiently to cover revenue losses from an investment tax credit of 15 per cent on new equipment purchases. This latter was cut to 7 per cent.

An administration proposal for compulsory deduction of taxes from dividend and interest payments to individuals was killed.

Treasury and congressional staff estimates put the government's loss of revenue from the new law for the fiscal year ending next June 30 at from $970 million to $1.3 billion. For full years after that the estimated losses will be from $170 million to $550 million.

These figures do not take into account the increased taxes which Treasury expects to collect from the stimulative effects on business of the 7 per cent investment tax credit. No one is smart enough to make any estimate of how much this might be.

FOR AVERAGE CITIZENS filing individual income tax returns, here are some of the new law's more important effects:

Companies paying dividends and interest to individuals will be required to make more detailed reports on such payments to the governement. If Internal Revenue Service checks up on all these reports, it may be able to collect taxes from a lot of people who have not been paying them. IRS hopes to collect about $175 million of the more than $1 billion that has been escaping the tax collectors through this old loophole.

Expense account deductions of salesmen and business executives for entertainment of customers were tightened a little. Expenses for maintaining yachts or hunting lodges will be deductible only to the extent that they are used for entertainment that leads directly to a business transaction.

Good will entertaining, banquets and business meals are made deductible for tax purposes only if they directly precede or follow a substantial and bona fide business talk.

Taking a customer to a night club or a prize fight would not be deductible expense if it is not preceded or followed by business negotiations. It's still a big loophole.

ARTISTS AND WRITERS who are now permitted to spread their income from the sale of a painting or a book over several years will now be permitted to spread back their charitable contributions in a similar manner.

People who are members of co-operatives will be required to pay income taxes on patronage dividends as they are received.

These dividends will be a deductible item for the co-op, but the members must report dividends on their tax returns and pay taxes on amounts they receive in cash or by written notice of a dividend allocation by the co-op if more than 20 per cent is paid in cash.

Taxpayers engaged in farming will be permitted to claim a current deduction of up to $5,000 or 25 per cent of income from farming operations—whichever is less—for expenses of clearing or leveling land and diverting streams to make acreage suitable for farming. Previously, this was a capital expenditure.

ONE LOOPHOLE THAT WAS CLOSED affects American citizens living abroad or receiving income from foreign sources. If they have been bona fide residents of a foreign country for three years, $20,000 of income will be excluded from U. S. taxes. If they have been living abroad five years or more, $35,000 will be excluded.

But all such people — Hollywood stars, for instance—will no longer be able to claim they are foreign residents for U. S. tax purposes and U. S. residents for foreign tax purposes.

They will have to pay taxes on foreign "fringe benefits" by a gradually rising scale until 1966. Thereafter they must pay taxes on the full amount. And income paid to U. S. citizens by foreign trusts will be made taxable in America for the first time.

matter of Fact

Children's games did not originate as pastimes at all. They played a much more important role in early civilizations. When children played ball or skipping games they were only imitating the performances of their parents. These activities, originally, were parts of primitive rituals to avert evil or make crops grow.

On Political Partisanship And Defense Contracts

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There is no issue on which the American people are more sensitive than fundamental integrity in public office. Many an otherwise able official has been defeated at the polls because of a scandal or an irregularity in the handling of the people's business based on selfish, private interest rather than the public interest.

President Kennedy has just made a speech which amounts to a confession that he puts private, political interest above the public interest. He says, in effect, that, with his help, a Democratic Governor of a state can get more lush contracts out of the Defense Department than a Republican can. He may rationalize this to himself as just "politics" and hence permissible as a part of the "game." But when it involves the people's money—the billions of dollars they pay in taxes each year, presumably for the public welfare and the national defense—it is bound to cause a different reaction.

In a speech at McKeesport, Pa., Oct. 13, President Kennedy asked the people to elect former Mayor Richard Dillworth of Philadelphia as Governor of Pennsylvania on the Democratic ticket this year to succeed the present Democratic Governor. Mr. Kennedy said Mr. Dilworth "is the kind of progressive, experienced legislator that this state, one of our great industrial states, is going to need." According to the transcript of the speech issued by the White House, Mr. Kennedy than added:

"For example, in the last 10 years, Pennsylvania, which used to be one of the great defense manufacturers in this country, found itself washed out, while all the new defense industry went to those parts of the country where industry and universities and government had worked to make it possible for them to secure contracts. Working with Gov. Lawrence since 1960, we have increased by 50 per cent the number of prime defense contracts that come to Pennsylvania, job retraining, cleaning out rivers, area redevelopment, increasing our food suplies for those on relief—all these measures which can be brought about with a progressive, Democratic Governor, working with all of us. So I am hopeful that you are going to elect in this state Dick Dilworth to be Governor of Pennsylvania."

Republicans Carry Load

Shouldn't "food supplies for those on relief" be distributed to the needy citizens by a Democratic administration in Washington even when a Republican is Governor of the state? As for defense contracts, should they be awarded on the basis of political party? Republicans, it so happens, pay into the treasury of the United States a vast amount of taxes—perhaps even more than democrats, and so many business men and creators of jobs are generally reported to be Republicans.

Has any President the right to distribute defense contracts on the basis of the political party affiliation of the governor of a state? Shall elections be won by allocating the peoples money in undue proportion to those states governed by the political party which happens to be in league with the party of the national administration? Is this fair to the other states which exercise their right to pick governors of the opposite political party because they may think the Republican candidate is better qualified and will give them a better administration in their state?

The President is an honest man, but an upbringing in ward politics has given him a feeling that all is fair on the campaign battlefront. Unfortunately, the Kennedy administration in recent months has given the impression that, in dealing with national legislation in Washington, it hands out favors to members of Congress who vote for the President's proposals and withholds even rightful allocations of governmental funds for projects that are sought for their states by members of the opposite party or even by Democrats who do not toe the mark.

Political Bribery

This has long been recognized as a species of ward politics resorted to by both sides in some of the big cities—a kind of political bribery to get votes. But when ward politics is transferred to the seat of government in Washington, it begins to take on an atmosphere of scandal.

The politicians themselves are not alone resonsible. The American people are really responsible for what is happening. They have not reacted as yet to the irregularities in Washington. Perhaps it's because they don't know about them. But when a President of the United States reveals that he distributes the taxpayers' money, not on the basis of efficiency or to the best qualified contractor or the lowest bidder, but on the arbitrary basis of helping a fellow Democrat in a governor's chair, the details ought no longer be kept secret. For the country may truly be "moving again," but it is moving back toward the reactionary times of Boss Mark Hanna of the McKinley era and to the days of Boss Tweed of Tammany Hall.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The other day, Fred J. Johnston, president of the Senate House Museum Association, asked me to stop by at his residence 63 Main Street (the former Van Leuven Mansion), to show me 176 original Vanderlyn sketches from the "Landing of Columbus."

He said, he was so inspired by my recent item on this painting that he wished to break up his collection and present several of these rare Vanderlyns to the Museum. This "Landing of Columbus" in life size figures has been in the Capitol at Washington, D. C., for over 100 years. (It is 15 feet by 24 feet.)

Mr. Johnston recently added to his building an addition of a warehouse done in 18th century design and lovely gardens. First we took a stroll around his gardens, which can be enjoyed by those passing that corner. They are laid in old brick and bluestone and set out with shrubbery and flowers of colonial times, with a lovely fountain on the Main Street side. Mr. Johnston designed this two-story warehouse, basically built of cement blocks but so disguised by a handsome white colonial door and gold knocker that it looks like an entrance to a fine home, yet can be approached by truck if need be for unloading.

Inside, the walls and flooring do not even hint of cement blocks, and houses showrooms of precious old Americana.

In one corner he showed me a Duncan Phyfe (1768-1854) corner, which included playing cards of that era, book of music, table and chairs, and so arranged as though the card players had just stepped out. All his grouping of furniture in the warehouse and home, which includes some 25 rooms, present the same lived-in look with china, glassware, primitive oil paintings over old fireplace, colonial wall paper, wide floor boards, and some painted walls as the case may be.

If I was asked to appoint, just one person to help beautify Kingston and retain the lovely Colonial atmosphere which it had years ago, it would be Fred Johnston, that is, if he could have free reign. What Mr. Johnston can do with such earthly material as bluestone and old brick, cement blocks and small areas of land, no matter where and what shape, is delightful. I know he will never forgive me for going on so, but I admire his talent because I saw proof of it.

Mr. Johnston and I spent some two hours over the 176 large sketches each telling more about Vanderlyn than words. The detail work of some two years that Vanderlyn put in, trying to sketch in charcoal, pencil and conte crayon, drapes of capes, sleeves, armor, etc., for this one picture.

Vanderlyn's sketches are massive, broad and brave and his highlights of soft white chalk or opaque white paint make his drawing sing with life, as though drawn yesterday, although Vanderlyn died in 1852.

Some sketches are signed by Jno Vanderlyn, some have notes in French, as he spent a number of years in France, and perhaps studied it in the Academy in Kingston before that.

I see that in the 1800's like in my time at the Art Student League in New York, they sketched a great deal in charcoal and pencil from antique statues (Greek gods, etc.). He did many sketches from life also, and I would say, had one male model, a muscular one, for many of his figures. I found some sketches on Whatmann's water marked paper, dated, I think, 1833 (Vanderlyn brought "Landing of Columbus" in oils to America in 1842.)

I notice Vanderlyn liked to draw hands and feet in various positions and also drapes, which reminds me some of the late George Bridgman, who taught at the League, and whose books such as "Hands" are considered first in art anatomy. Vanderlyn visited San Salvador personally and there sketched the foliage, trees, flowers, in pencil and chalk and marked the colors on his sketches. All these Vanderlyn precious sketches and drawings are now in the possession of one who appreciates Vanderlyn, no end, Fred J. Johnston.

Saugerties Man Named to Head Historical Group

John P. Remensnyder of Saugerties was elected president of the Ulster County Historical Society at the recent annual meeting succeeding Kenneth Hasbrouck of New Paltz, who served for three years.

Remensnyder, a native of New York City came upstate about 16 years ago to make his home in the old Mynderse house at Saugerties. A former president and board chairman of the Hayden-Newport Chemical Company of New York he is also a past president of The Pewter Collector's Society.

He is currently a member of the board of directors of the Albany Institute of History and Art, a member of several chemical socities including the American Chemical Society, the American Institute of Chemists and the Chemist's Club and of several Historical Socities including the New York Historical Society.

Sam Eskin of Woodstock gave a "singing lecture" on folklore. History presents facts but folklore tells of the feelings and emotions of the people and is therefore a living and vital picture of events, he pointed out. Accompanying himself on the guitar he gave a stirring tale of the Boston Tea Party. This he had heard in California from a woman who had learned it from her great grandmother in Georgia, an interesting footnote on the way these tales are carried about.

There followed a song about the burning by the British of a small American ship called Caroline during the border disputes with Canada in 1837. Often songs gave a picture of social conditions as the resort to piracy, politely called privateering by the British aristocracy when economic conditions were bad. Sea chanteys sung on the old square rigger ships, one describing the battle between the Confederate raider Alabama and the Union ship Kersage completed the program.

GREETS NEW PRESIDENT—Outgoing president, Kenneth E. Not Single Word Passes as State Candidates Meet

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton and State Sen. Junius Hill Gordon, both seeking election to Congress from New York's 35th district, passed within 12 inches of each other Wednesday but did not speak.

As Mrs. Gordon, a Republican, entered the Auburn Inn with GOP Gov. Rockefeller to attend a Republican rally, her Democratic opponent was on his way out after addressing a service club.

Stratton smiled at the voters, and Mrs. Gordon shook hands with them as they passed within a foot and a half of each other. But not a word passed between the candidates.

Officials Get Chance To Clean Up Gambling

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—City officials in neighboring Lackawanna have been given "a chance to clean house" through the enforcement of gambling, liquor and anti-vice laws, the State Investigation Commission says.

The four-member commission said at a meeting here Wednesday it had conducted an investigation of the steel-producing city after receiving complaints.

Chairman Myles Lane said Lackawanna Mayor John C. Orarek, a Democrat, and Police Chief Edmund V. Ryszka had pledged full support, and had been asked to make a report "within a reasonable time" on measures taken.

Parents Are Fun For Hayley, Too

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hayley Mills had her first date at the age of 3½. Laurence Olivier took her to a movie studio.

Hayley's dating slacked off after that. But now she is 16 and like all 16-year-old girls, she has more than a passing interest in boys.

"But I'm not utterly desperate about dates," she says. "I don't mind if I'm boy-less on a Friday night. I'm perfectly happy to go out with my parents. They're fun, too."

Differs From Some

In that regard she may differ from other girls of 16, who as a class are inclined to consider their parents square. True, Hayley has unusual parents, British film star John Mills and his authoress wife, Mary Hayley Bell. They have done a good job of keeping their daughter fresh and unspoiled despite her international fame.

Hayley's achievement is remarkable. She is unmistakably English, yet she has been adopted by American teen-agers as their favorite young actress. The Disney films "Pollyanna" and especially "Parent Trap" established her in the top rank.

She is now finishing up "Summer Magic," a modernized "Mother Carey's Chickens."

She paused on a work day to talk about dating, as practiced in England and America.

"It's a bit more casual here," she remarked. "In England we don't have the facilities you have here—the beach, drivein restaurants and so forth. A date generally means going to the theater and then returning to someone's house for a group party. Dating is done more in groups over there; it's not so much of a pairing off.

"Everything is much more casual here. I like it, although sometimes I think the dress can be a bit too casual. I see girls out in public with curlers in their hair, and I think that looks dreadful."

"I'm building him a guest room! He's expecting a friend over for the weekend!"

ScholarsPurchase Stock Building at 660-661 Broadway

Title of ownership to the former Stock Furniture Co. property at 660-661 Broadway, has been taken over by Joseph D. Scholar Sr. and son, Joseph Jr., proprietors of the appliance business which bears their name.

The final closing and paper signing was consummated with Harry Gold appearing as attorney for the purchasers of the property, and James G. Connelly attorney for Nicholas and Pauline Stock, the sellers.

The Scholar appliance business is presently in the process of moving from 78 North Front Street to the new location on Broadway, and owners of the business plan to be in complete operation at their new quarters by the end of October.

Joseph Scholar Jr., said it is planned to take over new major lines of appliances, vacuum cleaners, televisions and Hi-Fi sets with numerous other marchandise, which will be displayed on the attractive floor space of the new store. He said with the company's expansion plans, the repair shop for service, the appliance department and warehouse will all be under the same rooof, making it convenient for customers and employes.

GOP, Dems Trade Policy Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Campaign sniping over foreign policy still flashes between Republican and Democratic lines.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., concentrating his fire on GOP attacks against the administration's Cuban policy, said Wednesday Prime Minister Fidel Castro "could not have got into power without the direct or indirect aid of our government during the Eisenhower administration."

And the Republican National Committee zeroed in on a new target. It charged the New Frontier had wooed a "neutral" and won an enemy in President Sukarno of Indonesia.

"Does anyone now believe the New Frontier has either the wisdom or experience to cope with the international problems of today?" asked a statement in the Republican committee publication "Battle Line."

The cannonading over foreign policy has been growing hotter as the Nov. 6 election draws nearer, with President Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower joining in the firing.

Eisenhower has called Kennedy's foreign policy too sad to talk about. Kennedy, aiming in the general direction of Sen. Homer Capehart, R-Ind., railed at rash talk and "those self-appointed generals and admirals who want to send someone else's son to war."

McCormack, replying to a Republican National Committee statement which charged the administration with "tragic irresolution" in dealing with Castro, said Kennedy is "doing everything he possibly can, short of war, to meet the Cuban situation that he inherited from President Eisenhower."

Two Drivers Pay, One Forfeits $100

Two persons were fined a total of $115 in City Court this morning by Judge Joseph D. Saccoman. A third person forfeited bail.

Daniel D. Van Dyke, 52, of 25 South Water Street, Newburgh, was fined $100 for driving while intoxicated. A charge of leaving the scene of an accident against Van Dyke was dismissed.

Max Millens, 63, of 81 Andrew Street was fined $15 for speeding and John M. Fortney, 55, of 14832 Rockdale Street, Detroit, Mich., forfeited $100 bail by failing to appear in court this morning to answer to a charge of overloading on the Washington Avenue Viaduct.

College Dean Is Lions Club Guest

Dr. Harold Hodgkinson, dean of Bard College was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kingston Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Dr. Hodgkinson spoke of the high standards existing at the small liberal arts college at Annandale-on-the-Hudson, emphasizing the college's aims of intellectual excellence and personal contact with the student.

Bard College, although more than 100 years old has recently provided various lines of study which have attracted students from thirty-two states and eight foreign countries. As freshmen, the students are asked to commit themselves one of the four major programs that the college offers: science, language and liturature, social studies and the fine arts and the performing arts. As a result of individual attention made possible by an extremely high teacher to student ratio and the criteria of excellence imposed by a very capable faculty, Dr. Hodgkins cited the high percentage of students who continue their education in graduate schools.

Kingston and the Mid-Hudson area are indeed fortunate to have the growing number of progressive individuals whose aims are the betterment of higher education by increasing the number and calibre of undergraduate schools in this area and a more favorable climate for intellectualism.

Campaign Against Obscenity Is Conducted by CWV Groups

A vigorous campaign against all types of obscenity is being conducted by all Catholic War Veterans of the U.S.A units throughout New York State, according to an announcement by New York State Commander Francis X. McBarron, of the organization.

This announcement was made in conjunction with a campaign being conducted throughout the United States against "Obscenity" by the National Department of the Catholic War Veterans of the U.S.A. under the chairmanship of Edward F. McElroy, first vice commander of the National C.W.V.

The fight against pornography as outlined by James F. X. Carney, Department of New York chairman and first vice commander, "aims at countering the attack on the morals of our children, the nation's greatest treasure and future leaders." Carney stated that there is a dangerous conspiracy strangling the country which, although it seems innocent enough, is more deadly than any bomb or missile. "The enemy is Obscenity and it is attacking this nation through our children," Carney emphasized.

"By whatever name it is called, (pornography, indecent literature, smut, etc.), it is eating away the moral fiber of our children," Carney continued. "The problem is serious. According to director of the F.B.I., J. Edgar Hoover, it is truly shocking and shameful state of affairs that is made even more deplorable by the knowledge of sex crimes. Obscene and vulgar literature often go hand and hand.

"The most effective remedy against pornography is community action. The key to the problem is the general attitude of our whole society. We as parents, can put smut peddlers out of business if we make it unprofitable by making it clear to our children that there is nothing manly, nothing virile and worthwhile about gloating over suggestive pictures and pornographic books. We can put them out of business if we see that our children catch the wholesome movies, the wholesome books to read and build up sound bodies with vigorous sports and recreation. We can enforce the laws against obscenity if we let our local law enforcement authorities know our feelings. The police power is responsive to public pressure and it is up to us to press.

"We, as parents, are bound and should be self determined to rid the newsstands, stores and other places that are contributing to the destruction of the minds of our youth."

National anthem of the Sheikdom of Bahrein is only 40 notes long and has no words.

Completes Training

Army Specialist Four Richard K. Born, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Born, Longyear Avenue, Tillson, recently completed eight weeks of intensive field training with other members of the 4th Armored Division at the Seventh Army Training Area in Grafenwhor, Germany.

The training included day and night tactical exercises emphasizing mobility and chemical, biological and radiological warfare. An essential part of the training is range firing of individual and crew-served weapons including the Army's new M-60 machinegun and the 105 and 120-millimeter tank guns.

Specialist Born, a medical aidman in Headquarters Battery of the division's 78th Artillery in Crailsheim, entered the Army in November 1960 and received basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. He was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., before arriving overseas in May 1961.

Born attended Kingston High School.

Morgenthau Says Rocky Committed To GOP Approach

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert M. Morgenthau said today that Gov. Rockefeller "basically...has committed himself to the status quo approach of the national Republican Party."

The commital is "against the approach of the Democratic party in this state which wants to see New York moving forward again and regaining its lost primacy in the nation," he added.

Morgenthau, Democratic and Liberal Party candidate for Governor, made the criticism in a statement issued from his campaign headquarters.

He again assailed his opponent in the Nov. 6 election for refusing to debate with him on television or radio.

Morgenthau said:

"The issues in this campaign—unemployment, high taxes, the Republican state rent control scandal, inadequate higher educational facilities, slow business growth—are rapidly boiling down to a basic difference of approach by the Republican and Democratic parties..."

"The governor doesn't want an informed electorate. He wants to cloud the issues with happy promises and phony statistics in a campaign framework in which they cannot be challenged..."

Morgenthau's statement again accused Rockefeller of "a part-time attitude toward state problems" and said he "spends one working day in seven in Albany."

Morgenhau, still suffering from influenza which struck him Monday, put in almost 12 hours of stumping here Wednesday. But he called off scheduled walking tours in Manhattan to get a brief midday rest.

In a talk before the Metropolitan Chapter of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment officials, he urged building new towns in the state and then moving people into them.

Morgenthau proposed that state-chartered public corporations be created to buy, with state or private loans, large tracts of land on which new towns could be planned.

Morgenthau also urged creation of a State Department of Urban Affairs similar to the one proposed for the federal government by President Kennedy.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives will find such a variety of bargains at supermarkets this weekend that shopping will be a more confusing challenge than usual.

A wide range of beef and veal cuts are offered. There are many bargains in pork, both fresh and processed. Lamb legs, shoulders and chops are featured regionally.

Poultry Main Item

Poultry persists as a main course item that's very attractive to the budget-wise shopper.

On top of all these, it's cheese festival month and many stores are pushing this good source of varieties leading the way.

Among beef attractions, steaks, round roasts and pot roasts are most widely featured.

Among pork features, roasts, cutlets and spareribs are the leading fresh attractions. Other specials regionally include hams, bacon and sausages.

Turkeys still lead the poultry parade. But chicken fryers are also budget stars.

Good Fruit Buys

Among fruits, apples are the chief attractions as the national apple week promotion gives them prominence. Cranberries are coming in strong, as are tokay grapes, end-of-season strawberries, pears and avocados.

Vegetable features include squash, cabbage, onions, eggplant, pole peans and radishes. Late crop cucumbers, lettuce, tomatoes, cauliflower, potatoes, sweet potatoes and spinach are other vegetable attractions.

Indications Are Nikita Not Ready on Berlin Yet

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Evidently Premier Khrushchev once again wants to postpone a serious crisis over Berlin, perhaps bevond the first of next year.

The Soviet press gives the strong impression that the Kremlin is not ready for a showdown and the risks it would involve.

There seems a distinct relationship between Western toughness and Soviet tractability. The firm er the West, the more cautious the Kremlin drive seems to be.

Pravda and other Soviet propaganda organs appear to strive desperately to dispel the idea that a major crisis over Berlin's future is coming in the immediate future. The Soviet press chides those who speak of a Berlin "crisis," calling such talk warmongering to heat up the international atmosphere.

Softer Slogans

Another clue: The annual list of slogans for the 45th anniversary of the Communist revolution, to be celebrated in November, is much softer in tone than the slogans issued last spring for May Day.

The slogan on Berlin, for example, reads this way: "Peoples of all nations! demand the conclusion of a German peace treaty and the transformation of West Berlin into a free demilitarized city." That's all.

May Day slogans demanded conclusion of such a treaty in the swiftest possible time and violently denounced alleged Western plans to transform West Germany into a "hotbed of war."

Milder Now

The slogan concerning West Germany now reads: "Warm greetings to workers and all progressive forces of the Federal German Republic struggling against militarism and rebirth of fascism." That's much milder.

Another clue: The puppet Communist regime of East Germany has just announced plans for its sixth party congress early in 1963 to draw up new proposals concerning the German question. That hardly indicates that East German boss Walter Ulbricht expects decisive action before that time.

Why the Kremlin has shifted to a softer tone is not so easy to pin down. The reasons can be manifold. Khrushchev may be worried about internal economic and political problems. He may be worried that the U.S.S.R., now involved by way of Cuba in the Western Hemisphere, may be juggling too many dangerous things at the same time and overextending itself.

Khrushchev has his own set of pressures at home from a population growing more demanding all the time. Some time ago he said he would do nothing to push the West out of Berlin until after the U.S. elections. But he did not say how long after the elections. He left himself a way out.

Meeting Slated On Span Tonight

The Citizens Bridge Committee will meet this evening at 7:30 in The Barn when a report will be received on plans for "silence and safety" on the temporary structure over Esopus Creek.

A report on how to eliminate the noise of loose planking on the bridge as well as the cost of that operation, will be submitted to the committee. Also a plan and the expense for erecting a safety barrier along the footwalk will be submitted. Chairman Robert Teetsel said today.

One of the concerns for safety of pedestrians which has been expressed by the committee is that of erection of a suitable protective structure between the walk and the bridge.

Teetsel said today the committee will continue to press for two-way traffic over the temporary bridge, using lights to regulate traffic.

$15,500 Verdict Given for Fall

Gertrude Spawn of Saugerties was awarded a $15,500 verdict in Supreme Court late Wednesday afternoon for injuries which she suffered when she fell on an icy sidewalk on the Market Street premises of Morris Rosenblum Feb. 26, 1958. She sustained a fractured hip.

The 10-2 verdict was returned by the jury at 5:30 p. m.

Plaintiff alleged she fell on ice on a walk where water from melting snow had settled. She was twice hospitalized for the injury and sustained permanent injury. The premises on which she fell houses the law offices of Rosenblum and Lamb.

Abraham Streifer appeared for plaintiff and Francis X. Tucker of Cook and Cook for defendants.

Fire Destroys House on Estate Near Shawangunk

Fire early today destroyed an unoccupied framed tenant house on the Edward J. Wnuk Estate on Red Mill Road, Shawangunk Valley, south of Brunswick.

Shawangunk Valley Fire Company in command of Chief Eugene Corey and Assistant Chief Spencer Schoonmaker, were dispatched to the scene at 2:16 a. m. and on arrival found the six-room, two-story house enveloped in flames.

Mrs. Ethel DePew, who was in the main house caring for the Wnuk children, said Mr. and Mrs. Wnuk are vacationing in Florida. He said a neighbor, Bertha O'Neil, discovered the fire and summoned firemen by telephone.

Mrs. DePew said the fire apparently started more than an hour before it was discoverd, because lights in the main residence went out of service at 1:45 a. m. Mrs. DePew said when she awakened, she saw the reflection of the flames in her room.

Dies of Injuries

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — William T. Hoag, 62, of Angola, died Wednesday night at Our Lady of Victory Hospital in nearby Lackawanna of injuries suffered in a fall at his home Oct. 6.

Hoag was superintendent of Angola's public schools from 1923 to 1950, and supervising principal of the Lake Shore Central School

Dutchess Driver Is Hurt in Highland

A 35-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie man was injured at 3 a. m. today when his car left the dividing mall on Route 9W north of Grand Street, Highland, and overturned.

Trooper J. F. Czaplicki reported Edgar Lawrence Anderson, of Ireland Drive, Town of Poughkeepsie, was driving his 1955 car south on Route 9W when the left front wheel struck the mall. The car swerved across both southbound traffic lanes, left the pavement and overturned on its top.

Anderson was taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, and treated for multiple bruises of the head, face, arms and legs.

Official Interested in Counsel

Grand Jury May Get Ramos Murder Case on Wednesday

The first degree murder charge against Francisco Rosario Ramos, 39-year-old Modena chicken farm laborer, is expected to be presented to the October grand jury next Wednesday. Ramos is charged with the death of Paul Handy, 53-year-old Modena storekeeper on Friday, October 12.

Ramos is presently held in the Ulster County jail, without bail, on a first degree murder charge for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Philip Schunk of Town of Lloyd. When originally arraigned Ramos asked for an adjournment in order to obtain counsel. Since that time a Puerto Rican official has become interested in the matter of securing counsel and his wife is attempting to obtain a lawyer for him.

Wife Shot in Stomach

Mrs. Emma Handy, 51, wife of the deceased grocer, who also was injured by a bullet fired into her stomach, has been discharged from Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, where she was admitted on the night of the shooting.

The shooting took place at the Handy store in Modena where Mr. and Mrs. Handy were at work. No motive has been established for the shooting of the couple.

It is alleged Ramos entered the store, ordered a can of beer, and then without warning suddenly brandished an automatic pistol and began firing at the couple behind the counter.

Handy was shot in the abdomen and chest and died aabout 8 p. m. on Friday at Vassar Hospital. Mrs. Handy was taken to the hospital with a bullet wound in the abdomen. Ramos allegedly left the store. There were three others in the store at the time of the shooting.

Forced to Drop Gun

William Goehren, a nearby resident heard the shooting and ran to the store with a shotgun. Authorities report Ramos appeared across the street from the Handy store with the gun in his hands. Goehren forced Ramos to drop the gun and Ramos then fled from the scene. Town Constable Lester Wager Jr., who is also a deputy sheriff, on hearing of the shooting went to the LaPan's chicken farm on Route 32 where he saw Ramos in the driveway. Ramos took off but the constable overtook him and placed him in custody and later turned him over to state police.

Ramos has declined to discuss the matter and the authorities remain at a loss as to motive.

Pope Is Pleased With Progress of Catholic Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council went into its second week today. The record so far was one of satisfaction, struggle and a note of sorrow.

The satisfaction came from Pope John XXIII. The 80-year-old pontiff, who has made the worldwide meeting the keystone of his reign, told a general audience Wednesday he was pleased with the way it was going.

The struggle is among the 2,700 council fathers—cardinals, archbishops, bishops and patriarchs—assembled here from all over the world.

It is an undercurrent contest for ascendancy at this greatest religious gathering in modern times. On one side are leaders of the cautious traditionalist view who want to preserve the status quo. On the other are "progressives" who favor many changes in the nature of the church.

The note of sorrow came when Bishop Joseph B. Burke, 76, of Buffalo, N.Y. died of a heart attack Tuesday.

Auto Action Heard In Supreme Court

On trial in Supreme Court is an automobile negligence action brought by Miss Sherry Lyn Frisby of Kingston against Bruce Brady and others. Plaintiff alleges she was injured when the car in which she was a passenger was involved in an accident at McEntee Street. The accident occurred on the evening of December 12, 1959, as she was returning from Thieves Market where she was employed as a cashier.

Plaintiff alleges there were four cars involved in the accident. William P. Curran appears for plaintiff and defendants are represented by Cook and Cook; Oliver, Scully & Delaney; John L. Larkin and McCabe and McCabe.

The car owned by John Steigerwald, in which plaintiff was riding, was traveling north and the other three cars alleged to have been involved, were traveling south. The operators of these cars allege they had no part in the accident.

Morocco Defeats Nigeria for U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Nigeria's strength in its unsuccessful fight for a seat on the U.N. Security Council roused speculation today that the "gentlemen's agreement" allocating council seats may be on the way out.

In a contest that split the 54-nation Asian-African bloc, Morocco beat Nigeria 73-35 for the seat held by the United Arab Republic. Two ballots were needed Wednesday in the General Assembly.

The result upheld the 1946 agreement that an Arab or Middle East country should hold one of the nonpermanent council seats. But the vote showed considerable opposition to the agreement because it does not provide separate representation for Africa.

Nigerian Foreign Minister Jaja Wachuku made clear he would not drop the matter. He told a newsman "white solidarity" defeated his country. He accused Arabs and Europeans of teaming up because "they didn't want an African representative."

Two black African nations, Liberia and Ghana, have held council seats. But Liberia split a two-year term with Ireland for the West European seat, and Ghana held the seat allotted to the British Commonwealth.

Yule Mailing Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today set the Nov. 1-20 period for mailing Christmas gifts to military personnel overseas.

It urged families and friends of overseas personnel to mail their gifts as early as possible during this period to minimize possibilities of non-delivery before Christmas Day.

Scientists Honored

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A British scientist, Sir Geoffrey I. Taylor, and America's rocket expert, Dr. Werhner von Braun, were among 22 scientists and engineers honored Wednesday night by Franklin Institute.

The awards included one to Dr. Stanley D. Stookey, research and development division, Corning Glass Works, Corning, N.Y.

Meagher School Dedication Held, Accept Addition

The Frank L. Meagher Elementary School (formerly No. 5) Wynkoop Place, was the scene of formal dedication ceremonies recently when the new addition to the school was formally presented to the Board of Education of Kingston City Schools Consolidated. Andrew T. Gilday, president, accepted and John Lodes of the architectural firm of Perkins and Will, made the presentation.

Also present were Donald E. Sweeney, principal, who welcomed the group. Greetings were offered by Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools and Bernard Singer, member of the building committee of the Board of Education also spoke. Mark Kachigian, president of Meagher School P-TA was also on the platform.

Guests of honor were Mrs. Frank L. Meagher, widow of the late Frank L. Meagher, former principal of the school; Mrs. Oakleigh T. Cookingham Jr., a daughter and the following sons, Frank L. Meagher Jr., Donald A. Meagher, John C. Meagher and William J. Meagher. Donald Meagher spoke on behalf of the Meagher family.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor, Church of St. Mary, Kingston, offered the Invocation. The Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, Rector, St. John's Episcopal Church, offered the Benediction.

An open house and refreshments followed. Nearly 300 people attended. Many former teachers and students were present.

Included were Miss Carolyn Hearn, Miss Claire Ostrander, Miss Ruth Glendenning, Miss Anna Desmond, Mrs. Anne Barnes, Miss Alice Costello, A. J. Boyd, former principal (1938-1951) and William Reardon, principal of the newly dedicated Brigham School (formerly No. 6) and former pupil of No. 5 School.

Meagher School Glee Club under the direction of Miss Mildred Matylewicz sang several selections prior to the ceremonies. The prologue of music played by instrumentalists was under direction of Miss Terry Roberts.

Cunningham Talks To Dramatics Club

John Cunningham, an alumnus of New Paltz High School and who is now on the ligitimate stage, was the guest speaker at the first meeting of the Senior High Dramatics Club at the New Paltz Central School.

Cunningham was graduated from Dartmouth College and Tiebe Drama School after his graduation from New Paltz High. He was for two years with the National Company of "My Fair Lady" having both a regular part and understudying the lead part of Higgins, which he played in Washington, Boston and other cities of the United States. The company's tour of Russia with the play in 1960 was a cultural highlight in United States-Russian relations and an exciting exercise for the players. At present, he is playing the lead in "The Fantastiques" the off-Broadway musical play which celebrated its 1000th performance on September 25th.

Cunningham discussed musical theatre in America today. Members of the Girls Ensemble also enjoyed the talk. Mrs. Harriet Cunningham, Senior English teacher, is advisor to the Dramatics Club. She is also the mother of John Cunningham.

National Honor Society Officers

The New Paltz Chapter of the National Honor Society met recently and elected Paul Smiley president for the year. Other officers elected were: Vice President, Marc Kennedy; secretary, Jane Moehrke; treasurer, Katherine Winkky. Other members of the society are Linda Bank, Linda Berner, Wade Burkhart and Phyllis Erman.

Activities for the year were discussed. The first activity is the organization of plans for the Scholarship Bowl. This will be an inter-class quiz show at assembly on Friday, November 2nd.

The advisor is Thomas P. Benenati.

Republican Dance

The Ulster County Women's Republican Club Crystal Ball, which has been rescheduled because of conflicting events, will be held on Saturday night, October 27th, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

Those in the New Paltz area interested in securing tickets to this event may contact Miss Grace Elliott, North Ohioville Road, or telephone AL 6-3782.

Appellate Court Upholds Ruling Favoring Mercier

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court has unanimously confirmed the report of Official Referee Isador Bookstein dismissing a petition for removal of Town of Esopus Superintendent of Highways Paul Mercier.

On Oct. 8 Vincent G. Conneely moved for confirmation of Referee Bookstein's report which dismissed the charge. Bookstein held that the voters knew of the allegation of misconduct when they elected Mercier to office in 1961. The matter stems from the kickback investigation into Ulster County affairs conducted by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins.

Defeated once in the courts, the matter was referred to the Ulster County District Attorney's office when the Tompkins investigation concluded. District Attorney David W. Corwin continued the removal proceedings. He did not oppose confirmation of the findings of Judge Bookstein dismissing the proceedings.

Check Social Security Record

All of us are interested in our financial standing; therefore, we are always checking on our bank accounts, savings accounts, and on our other assets.

The Social Security Administration would like to remind you of another account — one that should be checked from time to time. This, of course, is your social security account. This is especially important if you have more than one employer in the course of a year.

If you are one of the 9 out of 10 working Americans with a social security card, the Social Security Administration is keeping a record of the earnings reported to your account. Year after year for as long as you work in employment covered by the social security law, regular reports of your earnings are sent to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland, to be added to your own personal social security record. It is this personal work history that will be used to figure the amount of social security benefits payable to you and your family in the future.

Have you checked your social security record in recent years? Do you know whether all your earnings have been correctly credited to your social security account? If your answer is "no" to either of these questions, you should take action now.

Your nearest social security office has a post card form with which you can request a statement of the earnings credited to your social security account. You need only fill it out, sign, stamp, and mail it. When you receive the statement, check it carefully.

If your own records, such as payroll slips, form W-2, do not agree with the amounts shown on your social security earnings statement, you should write or visit your local security office immediately. The time in which corrections can be made is limited.

The Social Security Administration District Office serving all of Greene and Ulster Counties, is located at 57 Albany Avenue, Kingston, New York. Telephone number is FEderal 8-7307.

Boat Firm Will Break Ground for Catskill Plant

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Tuesday afternoon for a new building to be constructed for Allied Boat Co., of Catskill.

The new structure will add 9,600 square feet of working space to the existing 18,000 feet now in use by the company. The building will be 60 by 158 feet, permitting the company to expand its present production capacity to between 60 and 80 boats each year.

Allied Boat Co. manufactures the Seawind Ketch, a 30-foot fiberglass auxiliary sailboat. The firm began operations in February and employs 19 Catskill residents. The plant is located on the bank of Catskill Creek, the site of the old Combined Metal Works.

According to Howard Forster, company president, the firm will double its working staff when the new building is completed. Charles W. Dorries Jr., of Leeds Turnpike, Athens, is plant manager.

Torrington Firm Low Bidder for Taconic Project

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Lane Construction Corp. of Meriden, Conn., submitted a low bid of $6,260,073 today on a contract for construction of 9.78 miles of the North-South Expressway in Jefferson County.

The work will extend between Orleans Four Corners and Route 12.

The Torrington Construction Co. Inc. of Torrington, Conn., submitted a low bid of $1,619,057 for paving 4.25 miles of a new section of the Taconic State Parkway from Route 203 in Columbia County north to the Berkshire spur of the New York State Thruway.

The Taconic now extends between Columbia County and Westchester County.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Emma S. DuBois

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma S. DuBois of 21 Lindermann Avenue, who died on Sunday, were held at St. John's Episcopal Church, Albany Avenue, Wednesday at 2 p. m. Services which were largely attended, were conducted by the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector. Monday and Tuesday evenings many called at A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl Street, and many floral tributes were received. Burial was in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Mrs. Catherine Messinger

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Messinger of Glasco was held from the Frank H. Simpson Funeral Home, 411 Albany Avenue, Wednesday at 9:15 a. m., thence to St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, where at 10 a. m. a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Archibald Damm. Responses to the Mass were sung by Mrs. James Sweeney. She was assisted at the organ by James Sweeney. Many friends, relatives and neighbors called at the funeral home to pay their respects and offer condolence to the bereaved family. There were many beautiful floral tributes and numerous spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards. The Rev. James McNally and the Rev. Bernard Gerrity called at the funeral home and offered prayers. On Tuesday evening, the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Joseph's Church called and were led in recitation of the Rosary with the assembled family and friends. Representatives from International Business Machines, Inc., also called at the funeral home. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father McNally pronounced the final blessing and absolution. Bearers were Albert Greco, Irving Peer, Charles Mayone and Joseph Ross.

Start Countdown For Ranger Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The launch crew ticked off the countdown today as the United States prepared to propel a Ranger 5 spacecraft to the moon to take pictures and gather scientific data.

A thick blanket of clouds and 20-mile wind gusts—fringe effects of the tropical storm Ella-plagued the launch area as the countdown started. But officials were hopeful of favorable weather conditions during the scheduled launch period, a 2-hour 40-minute span starting at 11:38 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

70-Hour Journey

A Minuteman missile which exploded Wednesday night did not affect the Ranger 5 or its Atlas-Agena B launch vehicle, on a pad two miles away. A Jupiter missile was damaged severely when a flaming chunk of Minuteman landed on its pad.

Ranger 5 was ticketed for a 231,500-mile, 70-hour journey to the moon.

The flight plan called for the vehicle to approach the moon about midday Sunday, snap a total of about 140 television pictures, relay them back to earth, and land an instrument capsule to register moonquakes and other lunar seismic disturbances.

A Ranger 5 success would end four years of frustrating moon launching efforts by the United States. Eight attempts to send payloads to or around the moon have failed.

Earlier this year, Ranger 3 missed the moon by 22,862 miles and Ranger 4 crashed on the backside without sending desired data or pictures. Both were identical to Ranger 5.

The latest U.S. moon effort encountered trouble earlier this week. A technical problem with the spacecraft forced a postponement on Tuesday, first day of a four-day period in which the moon is in a favorable position for launching. The shot was reset for Wednesday, but the threat posed by Hurricane Ella prompted the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to put the flight off until the next favorable firing period, starting Nov. 15.

But a shift of Ella to a more northerly course, away from Cape Canaveral, resulted in the Ranger 5 shot being rescheduled.

Briefly the Largest

NEW YORK (AP)—Momentarily the United Lutheran Church slid behind the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in size, after leading it for years. But the United Church forged ahead again in late June in a merger wth three smaller Lutheran bodies. Temporarily, the figures were: United Church — 2,495,763; Missouri Synod — 2,544,544. However, the total involved in the merger is 2,200,000 once again putting the Missouri Synod in second place.

Favor Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three business groups and a coal company operator have gone on record in favor of the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

At a hearing before two Interstate Commerce Commission examiners Wednesday, spokesmen for the Cleveland, Buffalo, N.Y., and Pennsylvania Chambers of Commerce appeared in behalf of the merger.

Curtis Lee Smith of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce told the examiners "we owe railroads the opportunity to permit them to take such self-help steps as will result in a sounder and more competitive rail operation.

P-TA Would Teach About Religion To Inform Pupils

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Instructors in the State's public schools should teach about religion only for educational purposes, the State Congress of Parents and Teachers urges. The stand was taken Wednesday at the closing session of the P-TA's annual three-day meeting.

The Congress approved a resolution urging the state to "assist in furthering the curricula aspects of moral and spiritual education... and rededicate itself to the promotion of the welfare of children.. .in homes, schools, places of worship and community."

The endorsement follows the view of State Education Commissioner James E. Allan Jr., that teaching about religion for the education of pupils was acceptable but not the teaching of religion as a religion.

Several hundred of the convention's 1,200 delegates attended the meeting at which the resolution was approved. The affirmative vote was not available, but at least 80 votes were cast against it.

At a business session, the delegates elected Mrs. John M. Mallory of Endicott as president for a three-year term. She succeeds Mrs. William H. Cobb of West Sand Lake.

Others elected were: Mrs. Remine Forste of Pittsford, Mrs. Edwin Mulbury of Windham, and Dr. Franklin T. Mathewson of White Plains, vice presidents, and Mrs. Oscar Willet of Syosset, L.I., secretary.

Jaquith Attacks On Basis of School Prayer Position

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — The Conservative candidate for governor, David H. Jaquith, has attacked Gov. Rockefeller because of the State Education Department's position on school prayers.

Jaquith, addressing a dinner Wednesday night, also accused Rockefeller of "apathy towards a restoration of prayer in our public schools."

The candidate, a Syracuse businessman, asserted that the Education Department has chosen to make the "broadest possible" interpretation of the U.S. Supreme Court decision banning officially prescribed prayers in school.

"When our school boards are advised that it is perfectly proper to sing the Star Spangled Banner, but not to recite the same words as a prayer," Jaquith said, "we think the height of absurdity has been reached."

Concerning the suggestion that children pray silently in school, Jaquith said:

"For children in their early school years any suggestion that silent prayer is a satisfactory substitute for spoken prayer is too ridiculous to sustain discussion."

Dorpian Lawyer Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Adam F. Ciesinski, a Schenectady lawyer and executive assistant to the New York secretary of state from 1955 to 1958, has been appointed statewide chairman of the Polish division of the nationalities committee of the Democratic Campaign Committee.

Annual Dinner And Bazaar Will Be Held Oct. 27

The annual bazaar and dinner of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone Streets, will be held on Thursday, Oct. 25. The theme for this social event is "A Country Fair."

All societies of the church will participate in this event. Mrs. Frank Snyder is general chairlady, and is being assisted by Shirley Smedes, president of Trinity Women's Guild, and Louise Branigan.

The committee for the bazaar: Dinner, will be Louise Branigan, Ida Eymann, and Anne Rider. Marian Benjamin will be dining room hostess. The young people of the Luther League will assist in serving at the tables.

Rita Brandt and Helen Ketelsen will serve at the booth offering canned goods and fish foods. Louise Branigan, Elsie McAdoo, and Helen Ellsworth will be in charge of the apron booth. Shirley Smedes and Mary Diehl's booth will offer fancy goods. Assorted cards will be offered at the booth of Winnie Castor, Betty Hyatt and Katherine Merritt. Irene Britt and Kathy DeCicco will be in charge of the Holiday and Flower booth.

The members of the Ladies Aid Society will sponsor a Variety booth. The Men's Club will have charge of ice cream and sodas. The Sunday school will sponsor a Fish Pond; Roger Gille in charge. The young people of the Luther League will offer a brief entertainment. Ronald Smith, Gail Woerner, Nancy Nonnenmacher and Sharon Spath are the committee for the league. The art class of the Rev. Albert Shultis will sponsor a special display.

Sharp Sense of Timing

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Police Chief Eugene F. Golden is a man with a sharp sense of timing.

When the city received a traffic-safety plaque at a meeting of the City Council, Golden quickly reminded the council members that he has requested a 10 per cent pay increase for the force.

Hercules Firm Is Given New Patent

Hercules Powder Company, yesterday was issued its second basic patent in recent weeks relating to the polymerization of polypropylene, another phase in the worldwide contest for pre-eminence in the manufacture of polypropylene.

The new patent, U. S. No. 3058963, provides a significant improvement over the Ziegler system of polymerizing olefins, particularly polypropylene. The inventor is E. J. Vandenberg of Hercules' Research Center, the same inventor named in another basic polypropylene patent issued August 28.

Polypropylene is generally recognized as the most versatile of the new polyolefin resins and is used to manufacture plastic, film, and textile fiber. Hercules was the first company to manufacture polypropylene in North America, beginning production in December, 1957.

The commercial significance of this newest patent is that it permits the manufacture of catalysts by more economical methods than previously disclosed and at the same time giving higher yields of polymer at better rates. Hercules' policy is consistent with its previously stated position of licensing its polypropylene and polyethylene patents on reasonable terms.

Cattaraugus Site Is Approved as Nuclear Center

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission Advisory Committee on Safeguards has approved a Cattaraugus County site as a state nuclear center.

The announcement of the approval was made Wednesday night by Oliver Townsend, director of the State Atomic Development Office, in a speech at the annual dinner of the Construction Industry Employes Association.

The 3,000-acre site will be developed jointly by the state and private industry to accomodate a nuclear fuel reprocessing plant and waste storage facilities.

Penny Parking Out

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. (AP) — Parking won't be "worth a cent" in this community much longer. The Common Council has approved the purchase of 250 meters charging 5 cents an hour, to replace the present penny-an-hour meters in use since 1946.

MODENA — Members of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill will assist Dr. Helena Mathiasen of Poughkeepsie, at the clinic and child health consultation to be conducted on Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, from 1 to 3 p. m.

A new table has been provided by the Nursing Committee for the purpose of use at the clinic.

The Republican Club of the Town of Plattekill will meet Tuesday evening, Oct. 23, at 8 at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. Refreshment committee is comprised of Mr. and Mrs. John Edler, as chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Becker, Ronald Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Scott, Mrs. Joh Hagenah, Edward Neuwirth, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Porcara.

Plans will be discussed for the serving of the roast beef dinner, honoring candidates for election to Ulster County offices, on Saturday evening, Nov. 3rd, at Villa Nueva, Plattekill.

Mrs. Florence Hyatt, former executive secretary of the Newburgh Public Health and Tuberculosis Association, recently named assistant executive secretary of the Dutchess County Health Association, was honored with a farewell dinner of tribute at the Hotel Newburgh, recently.

More than 100 persons attended the dinner and signed a scroll in honor of Mrs. Hyatt, in recognition of 10 years of service to the Newburgh Association. She was presented with a watch and other gifts.

The dinner was sponsored by the Greater Newburgh Council for Community Affairs and the Newburgh Public Health and Tuberculosis Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Coleman have moved their mobile home from Rossville, to the property of Mrs. Coleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith, in Ardonia.

Mrs. Richard O. Crawford and son, Richard, of Wappingers Falls, were guests of Miss Glennie M. Wager on Friday.

Mrs. Anthony Wild of Montgomery and Mrs. Roy H. DuBois of this place, were recent visitors in Kingston.

The Myron W. Miller Srs., of Hauppauge, Long Island, entertained guests at their summer home here, last weekend.

The Rev. James E. Brimelow, formerly of the Clintondale area, who has been pastor of the Newburgh Associate Reformed Church for the past eight years, delivered his final sermons at services held Sunday, Oct. 14, at the church. A covered dish luncheon and farewell program was held at the conclusion of the services. The Rev. Mr. Brimelow has retired from active service in the ministry.

Release time for religious instruction has commenced in the Modena School, with Protestant pupils having as their teachers, Mrs. Harold West, 1-2 grades; Mrs. Herbert A. Winters Sr., 3-4 grades; Mrs. LeRoy Gruman, 5-6 grades. The Catholic pupils have as teachers, Father Hickey and Mrs. Albert Molson. Sessions are each Friday, from 11 to 12 o'clock.

William Doolittle visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burke and family in Poughkeepsie, last weekend.

Word has been received here of the birth of a son, recently, to the Rev. and Mrs. George T. Johnson, of Yonkers, formerly of Modena.

Rocky Endorsed By 2 Groups, Split on Senator

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State Federation of Citizens for Educational Freedom and the Building and Construction Trades Council of Greater New York both have endorsed Republican Gov. Rockefeller for reelection.

The construction council, which represents about 125 local unions with a total membership of 250,000, also endorsed the reelection bid of Sen. Jacob K. Javits, but the federation gave its support in the senate race to Democrat James B. Donovan.

Both organizations made their endorsements known Wednesday.

Bloomington Vols Plan Annual Fete For October 27

Preparations have been completed for the 19th annual dinner of the Bloomington Fire Co., Inc., to be held Saturday evening, Oct. 27 at the Alpine Restaurant on DeWitt Lake Road. Warren Prandoni, committee chairman, reports the dinner will feature roast beef and will be served promptly at 7:45 p. m.

Music will be provided for dancing at the dinner which is traditionally the highlight of the company's social program each year.

Based on the extremely large response by the public to previous affairs, the chairman urges all who are making plans to attend to obtain their reservations as soon as possible for themselves, their groups or for party tables at Reilly's in Bloomington or at the Alpine. Aiding Prandoni on the committee are Fred Sauer, Howard Slover, William von Ohlen, Herb Faurote and Charles Peterson.

The truck committee reports that word has been received from the contractors that preliminary construction will shortly begin on Bloomington's new pumper. The recently approved contract with the Galway Fire Equipment Corp call for a 750 g.p.m. cab forward pumper which will be delivered about the first week in April of 1963.

President Fred Sauer recently announced that the company is now in the process of having new emergency telephone number cards prepared for distribution throughout the district. The cards contain the telephone numbers to be used by Bloomington district residents to summon the fire department for a fire or any emergency which may arise. The Blomington district includes all of Bloomington, Creek Locks, Whiteport, Maple Hill, Eddyville and Rt. 32 north to the city line.

Leslie Evory, chairman of the clam bake committee, reports that the affair held last month at the firehouse was a huge success, both socially and financially. On behalf of the company, he extends his gratitude to all who attended or aided in any way. Proceeds have been placed in the equipment fund of the company.

A reminder has been issued to all members that nominations for officers for 1963 will take place at the November meeting of the company. Fred Sauer, president of the company for the last 16 years, has recently hinted that due to reasons of health, he may be forced not to run for president next year, in which case, a new candidate may have to be selected by the membership.

Woodstock Petition With 650 Names Opposes College Site

A total of 650 Woodstock township residents have signed a petition protesting the selection of the Liggett-Rondout Valley site for the proposed Ulster County Community College.

The petition bearing the signatures was presented to the Ulster County Board of Supervisors at its meeting last week by Woodstock Town Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux, who received the petition from Kiki Godwin, one of the co-editors of the Ulster County Townsman and a leading advocate of the Winston site at Saugerties.

In addition, the Board received two separate petitions from the township of Saugerties, one with 450 names, the other with 350 for a total of 800 and grand total of 1450 signatures against the selection made by the college Board of Trustees.

The Woodstock petition asked the Board of Supervisors to invalidate the trustee's vote on the following grounds:

Reasons Outlined

(1) The reported prejudice of Kenneth Davenport before trustees in a statement implying that the college would go to Saugerties over his "dead body."

(2) That a conflict of interest could exist due to the fact that Kenneth Davenport owns 40 acres of land only one-half to three-quarters of a mile from the college site, as verified by Lewis Protess, assessor (R) of High Falls. Considering both the above he should have disqualified himself from voting.

(3) That the Stone Ridge site, according to Trustees Harry Rigby Jr., Mrs. Rose LeFever, Donald DeWitt and Fabian L. Russell, would cost the taxpayers far more than if the college were built on the Winston site at Saugerties.

(4) The Stone Ridge location is too close to several already existing colleges — New Paltz, Poughkeepsie and Orange County C. C. at Middletown. While there is no need for a college in southern Ulster, one in northern Ulster would have accessibility for tuition-paying Greene and Columbia County students. Furthermore, more than a 65-mile void lies between the New Paltz college and Albany State College.

Other Letters Sent

In addition to the petition, the Board of Supervisors also received protest letters from the Woodstock Township Chamber of Commerce, the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association, Woodstock Rotary, Mt. Tremper Grange and the Phoenicia Area Chamber of Commerce.

Woodstock area residents who sent in personal letters of protest against the Board of Trustees' selection included Mrs. Ruth Bark, Bearsville; Mrs. David Elliott, Willow; Sidney Slayton, Lake Hill; Mrs. Caroline Lovelace, Woodstock; and Nathaniel C. Robinson, Woodstock.

A motion was adopted by the Board of Supervisors to request the college trustees to maintain closer communications with the board, since no official notice had been received by the supervisors of the 5 to 4 vote of the trustees at the time of the board meeting. A joint meeting between the trustees and the Board of Supervisors community college committee will be held in the near future to exchange information.

Supervisor Molyneaux informed Woodstock area reporters that the board will compile all letters and petitions and forward them to Dean Paul B. Orvis of the State University, within whose power lies the approval or rejection of the Stone Ridge site.

OCS Authorizes Investment Of $400,000 In School Funds

The Onteora Board of Education has established a new financial policy which authorizes the district business manager, George Smith, to invest up to $400,000 in the highest producing manner.

Authorization for the new fiscal policy was granted by uanimous vote of board members present at this week's meeting. Present and voting were: Philip Gordon, presiding; and Trustees Arthur P. Knight, Lloyd K. Collins, John W. Ebbs, Harry Allen and Janet Greene. Absent were Trustees R. C. Cruthers, Anne Larys and the Rev. H. Chase Page.

The board adopted recommendations submitted in a memorandum by Smith. The recommendations were

1) Each year the business manager shoulld scrutinize the accounts during the months of September and October and establish an investment plan to produce income for the district.

2) In terms of the new policy, the business manager should start this year's investment program by investing $400,000 in the highest producing manner. This should be followed by other shorter term investments to obtain the best return on dormant funds.

3) Authority to establish a bank account for investment purposes.

Asks Early Start

Smith's memorandum suggested that beginning as soon as convenient to the district monies be deposited on the basis of the following plan:

National Bank of Orange County should have the following accounts: Internal school fund, cafeteria; health insurance, tax liability (Social Security); special surplus account (established yearly from the general account.)

Kingston Trust Company, Phoenicia branch, should have the following accounts: general fund, extra-curricular, internal school fund and payroll.

The special surplus account for the National Bank of Orange County consists of one-half the amount of the lowest monthly balance in the General Account between September and May of the previous year. The remaining one half would remain in the general account of the Kingstoin Trust Company.

These amounts in either bank may be withdrawn on demand with no specified length of time for the money to remain deposited. Monies from the National Bank of Orange County would be transferred as needed to the general account in the Kingston Trust.

WOODSTOCK — 6 ....

The special surplus account would be closed out at the end of each fiscal year.

Woodstock's Share

Former Woodstock District No. 2 and the remainder of Woodstock produced 12.4 per cent of the funds for the district in 1961-62. The total amount was $287,535.43 of the overall district total of $1,146,473.00. Woodstock No. 2 produced $142,371.38 and the remainder of Woodstock, $145,143.60.

Total district revenues projected for 1962-63 amount to $1,378,765.00 of which Woodstock will furnish 12.9 per cent or $358,065.27. Of this amount, $178,394.92 will be produced by Woodstock 2 and $178,670.35 by the remainder of Woodstock.

Bank accounts indicate a balance of $18,022.00 in the internal school fund cafeteria as of Aug. 31, 1962. Total deposits in the Woodstock bank from June 6, 1961 to June 6, 1962 amounted to $100,660.00.

Balances on deposit in the various accounts in the Phoenicia branch of the Kingston Trust Co., as of Aug. 31, 1962 were: general fund, $20,943.00; Health Insurance Account, $39.00; Extra-curricular account, $4,050.00; Internal School Fund, $332.00. There were no balances in the tax liability account (Social Security) and payroll account. The total balance was $25,364.00.

Deposits made in the Kingston Trust Company, Phoenicia branch from June 6, 1961 to June 6, 1962 totalled $1,825,144 broken down as follows: General Fund, $1,755,517; Health Insurance Account, $19,805; Extra-Curricular Account, $19,807; Internal School Fund, $5,525; Tax Liability Account (Social Security, $24,490.

Smith told the board there are three types of investment plans school districts are permitted to use: treasury notes, certificates of deposit and special time deposits. He did not indicate a preference at this time.

W. Hurley School Observes Fire Prevention Week

Water splashed and sirens sounded recently as the West Hurley Fire Department demonstrated the operation of the pump truck and the new ambulance to the West Hurley school children as part of the observance of National Fire Prevention Week.

Fire captain Frank Raffaldi, assistant chief Daniel Fochi, former chief Howard Hopkins, town constable Otto Swalding and fireman Skip Carney conducted a fire drill for both sessions students and carefully checked the West Hurley school to insure fire safety for the children.

Highlight of the day was the demonstration of the equipment for the students. The firemen explained the operation of the truck and ambulance and then answered the many questions asked by the students. Fire prevention was stressed during the demonstrations.

As a followup, literature was given to the school for distribution. The students have become junior fire inspectors and have each been given a sheet in order to check their own homes for fire hazards. Hopkins stressed that the best way to stop a fire is before it starts.

The teachers at West Hurley will continue the teaching of fire prevention throughout the year.

Senior Citizens 5th Anniversary Is Gala Affair

More than 100 persons, including delegations from Golden Age clubs of Kingston and Saugerties, attended the gala fifth anniversary celebration of the Woodstock Senior Citizens Club Tuesday night at Town Hall.

In addition to an excellent bill of entertainment, refreshments were served and several distinguished guests were introduced by Edgar T. Baker, the 86-year-old master of ceremonies from Wittenberg and Anna Frisard, president of the Senior Citizens Club.

Supervisor Abram F. Molyneax gave a brief speech of welcome. Also introduced were Miss Anne Cassidy, former town health nurse; Mrs. Lillian Curtis, president of the Kingston Golden Age Club; Mrs. Eva Watts, president of the Golden Agers of the Town of Saugerties; Harry Slobodian, chairman of the Recreation Council for the Elderly of the Saugerties Club; and Mr. and Mrs. William Van Tassell of Saugerties, who were observing their 55th wedding anniversary.

The entertainment included lute solos and ballad singing by Sonia Malkine of Shady; banjo selections by Peter Mathews of Kingston and music for dancing by a trio consisting of Bill Spanhake, Fennell Franckling and Elting Hoyt of Lake Hill. Mr. Baker also recited a poem.

Officers of the Woodstock club are: Anna Frisard, president; Dewey Hill, vice president; and John Kricker, treasurer. Mrs. Monroe Longendyke assisted in the program which was by far the most enthusiastic and successful in the history of the Woodstock club.

Reigns of Portuguese government have been held since 1928 by Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—It's those decisions that are so tough.

For instance, I just can't make up my mind whether I want to get rid of dirt backwash, have my clothes not just clean but clean clear through or put some muscle in my washing machine.

Is my hair normal, easy to manage or hard to manage? Is it really what's up front that counts or does fine tobacco gentle the smoke as it travels mouthwards? And, if so, why am I fretting about that extra margin?

Do I want double-pleasure or an assortment of gay colors in my chewing gum? Why can't I get my family to brush after every meal? After all I find time to give myself a soap beauty treatment three times a day. Would I rather have the girls in my bridge club see the ugly stains in my sink or know that my little family is protected by the germicidal action of my scouring powder?

Do I want fast, fast, fast relief from pain of headache, or would it be better if I took another pill to stop snapping at my poor old mother who only wanted to put some salt in the stew?

I tell you, these are the things that keep you tossing through the morning hours. Maybe I'll just put myself on a commercials diet until this trouble clears up.

ABC will slip a new color fim, "A Story of David," into its Sunday night movie spot on Nov. 18 — a radica departure from its policy of showing vintage movies. the two-hour show was originally made in the fall of 1960 in Israel for a two-part television special for network use but was not ready in time for that season.

Preliminary popularity ratings, based on a 30-city Nielsen survey, indicate that, among the season's new shows, the audience still loves "Lucy" best, with "Beverly Hillbillies" and "The 11th Hour" in place and show positions.

Recommended tonight: "The Hitchcock Hour," CBS, 10-11 (Eastern Daylight Time) James Mason and Angie Dickenson in "Captive Audience"; Andy Williams Show, NBC, 10-11—Martha Raye is the guest star.

HIDDEN DANGER — Mrs. Kathryn Gasker, director of a county-wide disaster drill in the Cleveland, Ohio, area, was forced to direct the operation from a hospital bed. She slipped on an acorn in her yard and broke her leg.

CAPITAL SHOWING — Uruguayan sculptor Alfredo Halegua explains one of his works, a Jacqueline Kennedy head, to visitor in Washington. His sculptures, wood and bronze, are being exhibited in the Organization of American States headquarters.

Temple Emanuel

Final Succoth services will be held in Temple Emanuel Friday, Oct. 19, at 7:45 p. m. Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom will preach on the theme The Palm Branch of Triumph. Saturday morning services will be held Oct. 20, at 10 a. m. with the procession of the Torahs. Rabbi Bloom will speak on Educating Our Souls. All music is under the direction of Cantor Julian Lohre. Tonight at 8 o'clock, the Temple Board of Trustees will convene for their monthly meeting.

Holstein Record Plan Is Success

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America on July 1 inaugurated a new production recording program termed Total Nutrient Testing. Already registered Holsteins in 20 states are being tested individually on a monthly basis for solids-not-fat production. This is now a voluntary addition to the regular testing programs for butterfat and the recording of milk production.

A record of total nutrients produced by each cow is provided, although the butterfat and solids-not-fat are recorded separately.

Association officials are heartened by the fact that the SNF production data is now being received regularly on more than 3,000 cows each month in the Herd Improvement Registry phase of the testing program. They estimate that this figure will double before the end of the year.

In addition, complete lactation records which include pounds of solids-not-fat produced during the lactation are being received under the Dairy Herd Improvement Registry phase of the production testing program.

The Association's Total Nutrient Testing program is the first of its kind inaugurated by a dairy association in the United States. Essentially, it is a recording program for solids-not-fat as an addition to its regular recording of butterfat and pounds of milk for individual Registered Holsteins.

More than 70 per cent of America's rainfall is used by growing plants or returned to the atmosphere by evaporation and breathing.

Cline Chairman Of Chest Drive

The residential division of the Saugerties Community Chest campaign will be headed this year by Robert Cline, as chairman, and Mrs. Donald Leard as co-chairman it was announced this week by Robert Carnright, chairman of the Saugerties Area Community Chest. Cline will be concerned with the over-all drive while Mrs. Leard will be responsible for organizing the campaign in the widespread areas north and west of the village from Mt. Marion to Saxton.

Cline is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and served in both World War 2 and the Korean Conflict. Prior to Annapolis, he graduated from Poughkeepsie High School and the Admiral Farragut Academy. After leaving the Navy in 1951 he lived in Kingston and moved to Saugerties in 1958 where he now is employed as assistant to the president of the F. L. Russell Corporation. He resides with his wife, Ynes, and children Lisa, John and Peter on Washburn Terrace.

Mrs. Leard, a graduate of Newburgh High School, also attended Spencerian Buisness College in that city. A resident of Blue Mountain, she has been very actice in community affairs since moving here in 1955. In addition to aiding in charity drives, she has been active in the Brownies, and the Main Street Parents Group of which she is a past president and vice president. Mr. and Mrs. Leard are the parents of five children, Donald, Karen, Patricia, Charlene and Douglas.

Know Your School Board Meeting Oct. 24

The "Know Your School Board" program, planned for October 24th, in the high school cafeteria by the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association, will provide parents and other interested citizens an opportunity to question the board of education representatives on their plans to meet the acknowledged classroom shortage in the district.

Inasmuch as nearly five months have passed since the previous bond issue was defeated, considerable concern has been shown by many parents as to the status of alternate proposals which were supposedly offered by opponents of that issue. The school board will be asked to explain to the public the nature of these plans and why they have not been made public.

Because of the continued interest in public schools, a large turnout is expected at this meeting. Board of Education President Robert Herb has indicated that seven of the nine board members will be in attendance to explain the board's activities and to answer questions. The meeting will start promptly at 8 p. m.

VFW Will Hold Barn Dance Saturday

The Saugerties Memorial Post, 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary, is sponsoring an old fashioned barn dance Saturday night at the post home on Livingston Street.

The K-Ray Trio will furnish music for dancing, with emphasis on the old time tunes for square and round dancing according to Senior Vice Commander Bernard Nolan, chairman of the event. Proceeds will enrich the fund to provide a new and modern kitchen for the present building. Refreshments will be available during the evening. Those attending are requested to dress in denim and calico to add to the authenticity of the theme.

No one under 18 years of age will be admitted unless accompanied by responsible adults, Nolan stated.

Jayncees to Resume Story Hour Program

The Saugerties Jayncees have resumed the Story Hour program for children between the ages of five and seven years at the public library on the second and fourth Saturdays of the month. The sessions are held in the kindergarten room between the hour of 10:30 and 11:30 a. m. with Jayncee ladies supervising. Guest speakers will present programs of interest during the winter months, with the second session each month being arranged through the courtesy of the Kingston Junior League.

The Girl Scout Troops of Saugerties also participate in preparing programs for this community project and will present the next one scheduled for October 27.

Parents of the small children attending are urged to be prompt in meeting them following the program.

Area Notes

Mrs. Gladys Amend, president of Lamouree-Hackett American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 72, and Mrs. Catherine VanGaasbeek, membership chairman, attended the installation of county officers at the Rosendale-Tillson Post on Monday night as delegates of the Saugerties unit. Mrs. Marie Flockart ,past county president, of Wallkill was the installing officer.

Mrs. Richard Overbaugh of Lafayette Street has returned to her home from the Benedictine Hospital where she has been a patient.

John J. Helfert has returned to his home in Malden following a two week visit with relatives and friends in Long Island and New Jersey.

Entertain at Dinner Following Baptism

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt O. Stade entertained several guests at dinner on Sunday following the service of baptism for their daughter, Laura Alice, at the Atonement Lutheran Church, performed by the Rev. Walter Cowen.

Present were Mrs. Johanna Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Scarselli, Mrs. Oliver Holden and children, Betsy and William, Lawrence Spatz, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bauser Sr., and son Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Burch and children, Laura and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hudson and children Charles and Lance. Also Mrs. Katherine Glacer of Alsen; Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Ankele and children, Sheila and Caroline of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Werner Otto and children, Peter, Monica and Renata of Springfield, Mass. and Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Wolf and daughter Monica of Kingston.

Also present were the Stade children, Kurt, Peter and Wolfgang.

The Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962

Briefly, this new law permits self-employed persons—doctors, dentists, lawyers, engineers, business entrepreneurs—to contribute annually to retiremet plans and to take income tax deductions for some of the money they thus put aside.

The practical meaning of this is that you and other self-employed professional people will no longer be forced to try to save funds for retirement after taxes on your peak income. You will now share in the privilege of placing your funds in a tax-free fund that can grow until distribution, when whatever tax there is will inevitably be far lower.

For a concise statement of the new law and how it benefits you, send for our new folder, "EXPLANATORY SUMMARY OF THE SELF- EMPLOYED INDIVIDUALS TAX RETIREMENT ACT OF 1962." Just fill in and send back to us the coupon. Of course, there's no obligation.

Will Head New Planning Group Of Scout Council

JOSEPH P. O'REILLY

Announcement was made today that Joseph P. O'Reilly of Hurley, Saugerties, has accepted the position of chairman of the newly created committee on long-range planning of Rip Van Winkle Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America.

O'Reilly's acceptance of the new post was made known by Clifford A. Henze, Council president and Alex Macdonald, scout executive.

Purpose of the newly formed Long-Range Planning Committee, according to O'Reilly, will be to relate anticipated boy membership growth to such areas as the expansion of camping facilities, Council Office facilities, the organization of new Scouting Units, the increase in executive personnel and future budgetary needs.

"Long Range thinking is essential for achieving successful Boy Scout Council Operation," Chairman O'Reilly said. The increased interest in the Boy Scout program in the two-county area, as evidenced by the recent first place membership growth recognition won by the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, underlines the necessity for long range planning in order to keep pace with the desires of local boys to become Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers, according to O'Reilly.

Serving as members of the newly formed long-range planning committee will be representatives from each of the six districts of the Council area, augmented by civic leaders representing Greene and Ulster Counties .

Further guidance in setting up a long-range planning program for the Rip Van Winkle Council was received by President Henze and Scout Executive Macdonald at the Region 2 annual meeting held recently at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Buffalo.

A special program on Council Long Range Planning was featured as a part of the Region 2 Annual Meeting program, with Victor T. Ehre, president of the Buffalo Insurance Co., and chairman of the Buffalo Council, BSA, Long Range Planning Committee, as the guest speaker.

New Benefits Are Listed by Agency For County Vets

Peacetime veterans with noncompensable service connected disabilities are now eligible for VA medical and dental treatment under a new law, according to an announcement made today by Charles Culver, counselor of the State of New York, Division of Veterans' Affairs and John Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency.

Veterans with service connected dental conditions must apply for treatment within one year from discharge. They receive one-time dental treatment. Those veterans needing hospitalization for service connected conditions, will have a high priority for hospital care.

Culver and Tyler pointed out that peacetime veterans who have no service connected disabilities did not become eligible for medical, dental or hospital care under the new law. Peacetime veterans with compensable service connected disabilitiies always were eligible.

For more information about benefits under the new law, or to make application for medical, dental, or hospital care, veterans should contact the office of The New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs or The Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency located at 32 Main Street. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Both Prove Less Bold Than Speech-Writers

Rocky-Morgy Campaign One Of Dullest Ever in State

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The hordes of assorted propagandists behind the two New York gubernatorial candidates are managing to produce one of the dullest political campaigns in history.

These experts include liberal percentages of advisers, specialists, speech-writers, radio-television experts, press aides, researchers, pollsters and advertising-agency men.

Only 18 Days Left

Eighteen days remain before election for a reversal of the widely held verdict the campaign has been almost totally devoid of interest and excitement.

Both parties helped bring about this situation.

Neither candidate for governor has added any essentially new thought to the state political and governmental scene.

Gov. Rockefeller has adhered in the main to a stock speech he has been using for the last two years.

His campaign strategy dictates that he he have no direct clashes with his Democratic opponent, Robert M. Morgenthau.

The governor has refused to engage in a television debate with his lesser known opponent.

As of yesterday, the governor had held no general news conferences during the formal campaign and thereby avoided questions on his position on various matters pertaining to state government.

The governor's strategists evolved the idea of answering Morgenthau through a series of press releases entitled "Morgenthau's Mistakes." These are distributed in the form of mimeographed statements without personal comment by the governor.

Draws on Recent Years

Morgenthau appears to have drawn extensively for his campaign material on broad statements, charges and allegations made repeatedly by Democratic legislative leaders and other party spokesmen in recent years.

The candidates have proved themselves somewhat less bold than their speech-writers.

The Democratic campaign committee distributed a speech quoting Morgenthau as making a sharp attack on Rockefeller's late grandfather, John D. Rockefeller Sr., the oil billionaire.

But Morgenthau did not read that reference in delivering his speech. A matter of taste, he explained later.

A Rockefeller speech referred to Morgenthau as being "dirty-handed." But, when the governor delivered it, that reference came out as a less personal statement that a man who throws mud gets his hands dirty.

Can Give Up 10 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized the Lehigh Valley Railroad Tuesday to abandon a 10-mile stretch of track between Ithaca and Trumansburg, N.Y., on the line's Ithaca Branch.

The railroad was ordered, however, to continue to operate a 27-mile section of the same branch. The section links Geneva Junction and Trumansburg.

The railroad had asked permission to abandon all 37 miles of track. The ICC decision was based on an examiner's recommendation.

Council Topic Is Reform of Church Dogmas

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is another in a series of articles on the major issues to be considered by the Second Vatican Council prepared for the Freeman by the Rev. Daniel F. Hickey, CSsR, assistant editor of Perpetual Help Magazine, Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus.

Reform of Doctrine

In his book, The Council, Reform and Reunion, Hans Kueng speaks of hopes for a reform in doctrine or dogmas at the Second Vatican Council being held at Rome.

What are dogmas and can they be reformed or changed?

Dogmas, in a general meaning, are those truths which God has revealed to mankind and which are believed in the Church. In a more restricted meaning, dogmas are those revealed truths which have been exactly defined and formulated by the church. The doctrine of Papal Infallibility, for example, is a dogma in this strict sense, as are also the divinity of Christ and the bodily assumption of Mary into Heaven.

Revealed truths, or dogmas, have been defined from the early days of the church. The equality of the Word of God with the Father was formulated and defined in 325 at the Council of Nicea; Christ's twofold nature, human and divine, united in the one Person of the Word, was defined at the Council of Chalcedon in 450; in recent times, Mary's Immaculate Conception was defined by Pope Pius IX in 1854, and her bodily Assumption into Heaven, by Pope Pius XII in 1950.

The Catholic Church believes that these definitions are made infallibly, that is, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit and free from error. She also believes that they are not new truths but merely a more explicit formulation of truths always held in the Church, at least implicitly.

These official definitions or formulations of belief, however, are written in human language. And since human language is limited it is capable of improvement—of a better expression. Therefore, the Catholic Church holds that, though present definitions adequately express the truth believed, they do not embrace every aspect of the truth and thus can be improved upon.

Pope Pius XII, in his encyclical letter, Humani Generis, written in 1950, stated this clearly when speaking of the use of words to express a truth, "Everyone is aware that the terminology employed . . . by the teaching authority of the Church is itself capable of being perfected and polished; and we know also that the Church herself has not always used the same terms in the same way."

In speaking of a reform of doctrine or dogmas at the Vatican Council there can be no question of changing what was previously believed, as for example, now stating that Christ was not divine or that Mary was conceived with original sin on her soul. But there can be an improvement in expression ,a polishing and refining of it.

To this kind of reform can be added the work of making more explicit the historical background of the dogmas of the Church that is, an explanation of how these truths are contained in the fonts of revelations, namely, Sacred Scripture and Tradition.

Moreover, a reform in doctrine could be made through the development and explanation of truths related to dogmas already defined in order to draw out their full meaning and limitation. A clearer explanation of episcopal authority in the Church, for example, would show the limitations of Papal primacy which was defined at the Council of the Vatican in 1870.

A reform of the Church's doctrine by the present Vatican Council should be understood in this sense and not in the sense of a reversal of doctrine or belief. Thus the Holy Father pointed out last month, "It is more evident that the coming Vatican Council will not produce new doctrines or sensational formulas. But the Council will extend the dimensions of charity to the various needs of the people and will present to them in a clearer manner the message of Christ."

4 Amendments to Constitution Up for Vote

Subsidizing Rents Most Centroversial Question

(EDITORS: This if the fifth and last of a series of special Associated Press features on the New York State election.)

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Should the state spend $3 million a year to subsidize rents of 5,000 families so they can live in middle-income apartments?

This is the most controversial of six questions that will confront voters in the Nov. 6 election after they have balloted for candidates.

A plan for adding $25 million to the state's present, $75-million program for expanding outdoor recreational facilities in expected to win overwhelming approval.

The private housing industry and tax-minded organizations, such as the Empire State Chamber of Commerce, oppose the housing-subsidy plan, advanced originally by Republican Gov. Rockefeller.

Families in the $5,000 to $7,500-a-year income bracket would be eligible under the state's definition of low-income families.

Most in N. Y. City

The opponents ask why all taxpayers should be expected to subsidize rents in private housing of a selected few. Most of the middle-income housing projects are in New York City.

The state housing officials say the plan actually would be cheaper than building new, low-income housing, which the state now is subsidizing at the rate of $19 million a year.

The other spending question before the voters involves a state program for buying parklands and expanding recreational facilities.

Would Use Bond Method

The additional $25 million would be borrowed through a bond issue, also the source of the $75 million. Fees from persons using the recreational facilities are to be used to repay the borrowing.

Gov. Rockefeller has said that, because no tax money is involved, the plan does not breach his policy of pay-as-you-go financing of state government.

The original $75-million plan was approved at the 1960 election by a vote of 2,390,585 to 889,284. More than four million persons who balloted in that election did not indicate a choice on the bond question.

4 Proposed Amendments

In addition to the two spending questions, four proposed constitutional amendments will be before voters.

The changes are intended to simplify involved passages in the constitution. The amendments were recommended by a commission that sought ways to modernize the state's basic law.

But Democrats have tried to turn one amendment into a test case for their argument that the present system of apportioning legislative seats discriminates against the populous areas of the state.

Proposed amendment No. 4 would eliminate a detailed description of each of the Senate district and substitute a statement that the original descriptions be continued.

If a reapportionment were decided upon, the revised version could be amended and new descriptions drawn. But Democrats say Republicans who have opposed reapportionment would try to show that voter approval of the proposed change this November was proof that present lines were satisfactory.

Other Amendments

Other proposed amendments would clarify provisions dealing with bribery of public officers. Ownership of lands and the state militia.

State law adequately covers the subject of bribery of public officers and detailed matter in the constitution is not necessary, the Legislature said in approving a proposed amendment and sending it to the voters. The sections to be eliminated prohibit acceptance or offers of bribes free passes, free transportation or reduced utility rates by public officers.

The militia amendment would reduce a six-section article to two sentences and give the Legislature more freedom to make organizational changes.

In advocating the housing subsidy plan, Rockefeller pictured it as a step that eventually could lead to "getting the government out of housing."

Middle-income housing projects are built by private developers with money lent by the state at relatively low interests rates. Municipalities grant tax relief. In return for the aid, the owners must keep rents with prescribed limits. The maximum now is $29 a room.

Low-income public housing projects are operated by authorities. The state pays to these authorities the difference between total rent collections and operating costs.

How Rent Determined

The amount of rent paid is determined by the family income and number of children. In new projects, large families with incomes up to $7,500 a year are eligible.

Middle-income housing is open to persons in the $5,000 to $10,000 bracket.

A spokesman for the state housing office said families seeking middle-income apartments tend to have fewer children than those seeking admission to low-rent, public projects.

In appealing for support for the subsidy, the state housing agency says the cost of low-rent projects averages $20,000 a dwelling unit, compared with $18,000 for middle-income construction.

The builders put up 10 per cent of the cost of middle-income projects; the housing authorities pay the full cost of low-income projects.

As a result of the lower costs of middle-income projects, the spokesman said, it would be cheaper in the long-rung for taxpayers to support the amendment and eliminate need for 5,000 new low-rental units with higher subsidies.

FCC Recommends Ellenville Station

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authorization for three broadcasting companies to join in the operation of a new daytime standard radio station in Ellenville, N.Y., was recommended Wednesday by a Federal Communications Commission examiner.

The Ellenville Broadcasting Co. and the Ulster County Broadcasting Co. had merged with the Catskills Broadcasting Co. and submitted a single application for the authorization after each applied competitively.

Examiner Annie Neal Huntting recommended that the three be authorized to operate under the name of Catskills Broadcasting Co. on 1370 Kilocycles, with 500 watts of power.

4 Fires Extinguished

Four fires in leaves were extinguished by units from city fire stations Wednesday. A unit from Wiltwyck Station extinguished burning leaves on Albany Avenue near Tremper Avenue at 11:17 a. m. A Central Fire unit put out a leaves fire on the railroad crossing on Second Avenue at 4:30 p. m. A unit from Cornell Station extinguished another at 4:37 p. m. at 163 Hunter Street and a fourth leaves fire was extinguished at 242 Downs Street by a unit from A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Company.

Can Still Sign Up For Civil Defense Medical Study

Major H. Edgar Timmerman, director of Civil Defense for Ulster County, has announced that registration is still open for the medical aide course which is being given under the Adult Education Program in Kingston High School. He says that if enough interest is shown, a second class will be started.

This course is open to both men and women and is similar to the American Red Cross first aid course but has a civil defense flavor. Major Timmerman especially recommends this course to young couples who may register at the High School on Monday, Oct. 22 at 7 p. m.

At this time registration for an advanced course, medical aide 1st class, is taking place at the Port Ewen School. Mrs. Genevieve Tinnie, RN, will be teaching this class which is open to all those who are now medical aides 2nd class. This class will also be taught under the Adult Education Program and Major Timmerman urges area residents to avail themselves of this free training.

There is no registration fee for any Civil Defense course.

New Paltz Driver In Two Mishaps In 43 Minutes

Within 43 minutes a 68-year-old New Paltz woman was apparently involved in two automobile mishaps on city streets Wednesday, according to reports at Police Headquarters.

Reports say that at 3:02 p. m. Wednesday cars being operated by Dora Amann, 68, of 5 Pine Crest Road, New Paltz, and Madeline Smith, 59, of Hillside Terrace were in collision on Washington Avenue near the intersection of Lucas Avenue. The Amann car was reportedly going south on Washington Avenue and the Smith car east on Lucas Avenue when the mishap occurred.

Patrolmen Francis Buchanan and Richard Scherer investigated.

At 3:45 p. m. Wednesday a car being operated by Dora Amann struck a vehicle being operated by Francis J. McCardle, 99 Henry Street, in the rear according to police reports. Patrolmen Buchanan and Scherer again investigated.

Two other mishaps were also reported at headquarters.

Cars being operated by James M. Waddell, 28, of 57 Overlook Drive, Rhinebeck and John J. Dugan, 18, of Orlando Street were in collision on Broadway 300 feet north of Dederick Street according to reports. The Waddell vehicle was reportedly going north on Broadway and the Dugan car was pulling away from the curb on Broadway at the time of the mishap.

A third vehicle owned by Raymond Demskie, 115 First Avenue, was also reported to be damaged in the mishap. It was reportedly parked at the curb on Broadway.

The mishap was investigated by Patrolmen Otto Short and George Barringer.

BRIDGE

She Improvised, Got to Seven

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a hand from a duplicate game at the Bridge Deck in Dallas. Mrs. Jacoby sat North with a hand much too strong for a mere game forcing bid. She decided to try out the new four minor suit bid to see how it would work.

Of course, I went to four spades. I had just about as minimum an opening bid as there is.

When Mrs. Jacoby continued with four no-trump I knew something unusual was going on, and I dutifully showed my one ace and hoped that nothing too bad would happen.

Her next bid really left me hanging on the ropes. Did six clubs mean she had forgotten the convention and had a club suit? No! Her four-club bid had definitely shown good spade support with at least four trumps headed by two of the three top honors and a singleton or a void in clubs.

Therefore her six-club bid had to be saying that she was void in clubs. Also, it had to be an invitation to seven. I still had my minimum opening, but I knew that I held the right cards to fit my partner so I jumped to seven spades.

There are probably other ways to bid this lay down grand slam, but no one else got there at this duplicate game.

Law Enforcement On N. Y Thruway Topic at Rotary

Captain Robert V. Annett, who is troop commander of Troop T, New York State Troopers, whose responsibility is the enforcement of law on the New York State Thruway and connecting roads, gave a very worthwhile talk on police duties in connection with the Thruway at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday. He was presented by Edwin Bolz, program chairman, who reviewed his "police record" since joining the New York State Troopers in 1929.

The captain pointed out that the vast majority of motorists using the Thruway were law abiding as only two per cent were violators.

Of the some 40,000 arrests each year, approximately 50 per cent was for speeding. The other arrests ran the gamut of the penal code.

He warned against giving hitchhikers a lift as invariably they have police records.

In explaining the radar system, he said there was but one way to beat it—obey the speed limit. He saw the radar detecting gadgets as worthless.

He also described the variety of articles found and some of the unusual offenses and their implications.

Next Wednesday there will be a joint meeting of Kiwanis with Rotary at which time Thrift Week will be observed.

More than 70 per cent of all banana exports are from tropical Central and South America.

Will Ask NBC Cancellation

Fear Video Would Jeopardize Safety Of Berlin Tunnels

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. proceeded today with preparations for a 90-minute special television program Oct. 31 about an escape tunnel under the Berlin wall.

Announcement of the project last Thursday precipitated a running controversy. Seventeen of the West Berlin students who dug the tunnel said they had asked NBC not to show the film. So did the West Berlin Senate, which expressed fear for the safety of those who helped 29 East Germans escape to freedom. The U.S. State Department also was drawn into the matter.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Wednesday it has told two U. S. television networks that television reports on escape tunnels under the Berlin wall may jeopardize the safety of refugees and complicate the Berlin problem.

The West Berlin Senate said Tuesday it would ask the National Broadcasting Co. to cancel showing of film it made about refugee tunnels. A spokesman said the West German Foreign Office and the U.S. government had been advised.

No Official Word Yet

The State Department said official word had not been received up to noon Wednesday. But the press office said that the problem of television reporting on the tunnels had been raised with both the Columbia Broadcasting System and NBC.

In the CBS case, the State Department had learned in early August, the statement said, that network representatives in Berlin "were involved in preparation of a television report on an escape tunnel."

The State Department said it told CBS that, by reducing secrecy, it enhanced the risk of injury, capture, or death for would-be escapees; and that such activities could well complicate the delicate Berlin problem.

CBS Withdrew

"CBS accepted this assessment by the department of state and promptly cooperated by withdrawing from the tunnel undertaking. This cooperation was and is most appreciated by the government," the statement said.

A State Department spokesman said the department would ask NBC management to give careful consideration to the views of the West Berlin government and of the people who were involved in the escape incident. But he said the department did not plan to ask NBC not to show the film.

Fire Student Editor; Assailed Barry, Ike

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The editor of the University of Colorado's student daily newspaper, who printed attacks on Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was fired by the university president Wednesday.

In announcing the dismissal of Gary Althen, 21, a senior, President Quigg Newton said the editor "had displayed a pattern of editorial irresponsibility that required his removal."

"I'm not sure this is in the best interests of the university," said Althen.

Both Newton and Althen had apologized to Sen. Goldwater for publication of a critical article written by Carl Mitcham, 21, a philosophy student from Dallas, Tex.

Javits Running Scared: Donovan

TICONDEROGA, N.Y. (AP)—James B. Donovan, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, moved his campaign further into Northern New York today, continuing his sharp attacks on Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

Donovan charged Wednesday night that the Republican senator, who seeks re-election Nov. 6, put forth conservative views in the Upstate area while "in New York City he poses as just plain Jake Javits, the liberal."

"For the past six years," Donovan said, "Sen. Javits has been talking out of both sides of his mouth."

Donovan made the comments at a meeting of the Saratoga County Democratic Committee in Saratoga Srpings.

His itinerary today called for him to campaign in Essex County. Scheduled stops, besides this Northern New York community, included Crown Point, Port Henry, Westport, Keeseville, and Au Sable Forks.

Tonight in Elizabethtown, he addresses a dinner arranged by the Ticonderoga Democratic Club.

Donovan was making his first Upstate campaign tour since winning the nomination in mid-September. Much of the time since then, he has spent in Havana, Cuba, negotiating for the release of 1,113 Cuban-invasion prisoners.

Enroute to Saratoga Springs Wednesday, Donovan told newsmen in Albany he believed Javits was "running scared."

"He has been living with the myth of invincibility," Donovan argued, "and he is not used to someone attacking him and his record directly."

The Democrat said Javits had not been effective in the effort to win a greater share of defense contracts for the state.

realize that an election campaign was under way.

After his return from Upstate, Rockefeller spoke at the annual testimonial dinner of the Protestant Council of the City of New York, and outlined the state's various programs for wayward youths.

In another development Wednesday night, the governor's office announced he would deliver the sermon and receive the first annual National Baptist Layman award at services Sunday in the Antioch Baptist Church in Brooklyn.

In the statement announcing his water-supply proposal, Rockefeller said that many communities had found that their supplies were "less than adequate for present or future needs."

"Other localities with adequate supplies may find it in their financial and long-range interest," he said, "to share in the joint provision of water supplies with nearby communities."

The water resources spokesman said that the severe three-month drought in the state last summer was not a major factor leading to the proposal.

SaudFiresCabinet

monarch, Faisal as premier in 1959 embarked on a program of austerity and domestic reforms. He reportedly began diverting more of the desert kingdom's vast oil revenue from the royal coffers to improving the lot of the impoverished, illiterate masses.

Saud dismissed him as premier in December 1961 amid reports Faisal had stepped down too hard on royal spending and some of the numerous other princes had applied pressure to get him out of office.

But Saud and Faisal—who is the king's heir—were not estranged. Last March Saud made Faisal deputy premier and foreign minister with authority to preside over Cabinet meetings. Saud retained the premiership.

Meanwhile, Saudi Arabia's radio at Mecca matched propaganda guns with Nasser's Cairo radio, announcing that the dethroned Imam Mohammad Al-Badr of Yemen was massing forces to overthrow the rebel regime.

Badr, first reported assassinated by the rebels, has set up headquarters inside Yemen and formed a new royal government, Mecca Radio said.

Ben Bella

and Ben Bella "considered the unpostponable necessity of evacuating (foreign) troops and dismantling foreign military bases in other countries, including Guantanamo naval base."

This also was a reference to French military forces and bases still in Algeria.

'Fraternal Atmosphere'

The communique said the two leaders, talking in "a completely fraternal atmosphere," also agreed that the only way to maintain peace was through application of the "peaceful coexistence principle."

Ben Bella and Castro discussed the strengthening of ties between their two nations and decided to establish diplomatic relations at the embassy level. Castro also accepted an invitation to visit Algeria, but no date was announced.

Amplifying his previously voiced support for Castro's revolution, Ben Bella said he "fully appreciated the great efforts made and optimum fruits harvested in the construction of a socialist society" in Cuba. He has announced he plans an Arab socialist state in Algeria.

Ben Bella flew to New York en route home wearing Castro's olive-green beret, a last-minute gift of the Cuban prime minister.

Ben Bella is expected to remain in New York until Friday, when he leaves for home by way of Paris.

would be financed by a bond issue. It has been estimated that the water district tax rate would be increased by $6.176 per $1,000 based on assessed valuation, to $18.30. The current rate is $12.124 which includes the hydrant tax.

The new system, which is expected to receive the approval of the Town Board, would cost about $300,000 and elimination of dead ends in the present system would cost about $35,000.

Supervisor Mabie estimated that the new system could be working by 1964. The project involves further planning, advertising for bids, floating a bond issue, acquiring land and actual construction, he said.

Explanations Made

Mabie, working from a fact sheet, which was distributed to all water district taxpayers, explained the proposal.

Christus Larios of Brinnier and Larios, consulting engineers of Kingston, explained the various facets of the program. Harry Edinger, county health department invironmental engineer, also spoke about the project.

William J. C. Buddenhagen, chairman of the water board said the board exhausted every alternative before deciding on the present proposal.

Name Pros Complete In Ontario Open

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — The $25,000 Ontario Open Golf Tournament opens today with a small but select field of better known professionals.

Among those entered were Gene Littler; Tony Lema, who was the runner-up last week to Billy Casper Jr., in the Bakersfield Open; Bob Goalby, George Bayer, Billy Maxwell, Jim Ferree and Jacky Cupit.

The 72-hole event is due to wind up Sunday.

The site is the Whispering Lakes Golf Club, at 6,541 yards one of the shorter courses the pros have played in their Far Western swing this fall. Par is 35-35—71.

Court Rules That of the Civil Practice Act were not applicable.

On Tuesday petitioners agreed the application had not been made in time under the Election Law but contended relief could be sought under a section of the Civil Practice Act.

Says Time Expired

Wednesday, in announcing his decision from the bench, Justice Cooke cited law and decisions which precluded prosecution of the allegation under existing law.

"It is clear the time limitation had expired" when the order to show cause was obtained on October 11, and Justice Cooke ordered that the petition be dismissed and an order to that effect be prepared and submitted.

After the decision of Justice Cooke, Tantillo stated that he was "pleased and proud" that the court had dismissed the suit commenced against him by the Republican chairman of the Town of Gardiner and said, "Once agian, the American political system and our traditional concept of fair play has prevailed in the courts."

Text of Statement

Continuing Tantillo said:

"In attempting to invade the realm of Democratic politics in our Town the Republican machine clearly overstepped the bounds of justice and propriety. Fearing defeat at the polls, they attempted to have my name stricken from the ballot. If they had been successful in this attempt, the effect of their suit would have been to deny the voters of the Town of Gardiner the free choice of candidates which our laws entitle them to. The dismissal of their suit speaks for itself in this regard.

"Despite the efforts of the Republican machine and of my opponent, my candidacy for councilman in the Town of Gardiner has been upheld. I shall now devote my efforts entirely to campaigning vigorously for election to that office, which my opponents sought to deny me by their unfounded legal action."

Downtown

noted call for 115 low rent housing units.

"We have five years to do this," he said. It won't be done all at once, but in stages. Otherwise, it would be impossible." Again asserting that Urban renewal is a project of the people which it affects, Yosman appealed for suggestions. "Tell us what you require. We are willing to discuss this with anyone — any group — organization or committee."

Suggests Corporation

The urban renewal adviser touched on the subject of re-establishment of businesses within the project area. He said it might be beneficial if the merchants formed a corporation or holding company which could deal with the city. Later, he pointed out, the company or corporation could be disolved.

Yosman made it clear that the downtown project "has not been forsaken for the uptown project. Both programs are running concurrently," he said. He also noted that the Uptown project will actually lag slightly behind downtown's program because it started later.

Yosman also pointed out that with the adoption of a housing code buildings and dwellings in the city will not be allowed to deteriorate, and ruin the purpose of the urban renewal program.

Supervisors to board on Thursday, October 11, Joseph F. Saccoman, Kingston real estate broker, presented another proposal, that of the county acquiring the building on North Front Street, head of Wall Street, presently occupied by the Montgomery Ward store. Saccoman said it was rumored that building would be available in the near future if the Ward store moved out.

Saccoman said, if the premises could be altered for county office use, it could be acquired from the owner, Mrs. Vincent Gorman, for a sum around $350,000. This would save the county around $1,000,000, Saccoman said. He told the board definite word as to whether the Ward store would move, would be known in a few weeks and stated that he would then be able to give concrete figures and facts. This he said could be done by the next regular meeting in November.

The sole purpose of the meeting next Monday evening is to discuss the county office building and its financing.

Students Invited To Enter Safety Contest by AAA

Two safety slogans, "Watch for Turning Cars" and "Walk on Left Facing Traffic," have been assigned to local students in the 19th annual National Traffic Safety Poster Contest of the American Automobile Association, it was announced today.

The national contest will embrace 10 basic safety themes used by the AAA in its year-round program of elementary school safety instruction. Subjects are assigned to students on a regional basis.

Prizes totaling $3,725 will be presented for the most appealing and original posters. The 10 best posters will be reproduced and distributed by the AAA to schools throughout the country.

The deadline for submitting entries is February 28, the Automobile Club of New York reported. Students attending public, parochial and private schools who have not reached their 21st birthday by that date are eligible to enter.

There will be first, second and third prizes in each of four grade levels — primary, elementary, junior and senior high schools. A grand prize of a $500 savings bond, intended as a one-year art school scholarship, will be awarded for the best poster. Other prizes will range from $5 to $75.

More than 16,000 poster designs were entered in last year's competition. Applications for the current contest are available through school principals and art instructors. Further information and rules may be obtained from the Automobile Club of New York, 28 East 78th Street, New York 21.

The contest has the approval of the Contest Committee of the National Association of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association.

It has been endorsed by Dr. John J. Theobald, New York City superintendent of schools; the Rt. Rev. John Paul Haverty, superintendent of schools, Archdiocese of New York; the Rt. Rev. Henry M. Hald, superintendent of schools, Diocese of Brooklyn; the Very Rev. Edgar P. McCarren, superintendent of schools, Diocese of Rockville Center and Rabbi Leonard Rosenfeld, director of the Jewish Education Committee of New York.

Thayer Comment

and that the admission and treatment of patients is conducted with full compliance to the rules and regulations of the New York State Department of Health, and the County Health Department.

"And, contrary to Mr. Thayer's inference that all but four or five patients are there for 'so called observation'," Feldshuh continued, "the fact is that no less than 26 proven TB cases have been under care during any month of the current year, and that the overwhelming majority of those remaining patients under observation have proven to be active TB cases."

County Ranks Second on TB

Dr. Feldshuh pointed out that Ulster County ranks second highest of 59 counties in the incidence of tuberculosis, and that Kingston ranks ninth highest of cities over 25,000 population in the state. Also, Ulster County has the fourth highest TB death rate of all counties, and Kingston the fifth highest TB death rate of cities over 25,000 people.

TB is still a vicious and dangerous disease, the County Medical Society president noted. It is highly contagious, almost invariably causes two to three months of hospitalization, and at least six months of economic hardship results due to the inability of the victim to work. This is why the state and county operate a special hospital for TB patients, he added.

Feldshuh called attention to the fact that of the 131 patients treated at the TB hospital during the past nine months, 92.7 per cent proved to be positive TB cases. The remaining 7.2 per cent were discharged as soon as arrangements could be made for their care, he said.

Tests Take Time

He pointed out that it requires as much as eight weeks of diagnosis and laboratory tests before a suspected TB case can be confirmed or safely judged to be free of the disease. Since better than 90 per cent of those suspected prove to be TB cases, he explained, it is important to keep them in isolation during the testing period lest they spread the disease by contact with the public.

Finally, he said, the County Medical Society periodically reviews the need for a county TB facility, and as recently as last May voted that when and if occupancy levels decrease, it would recommend that available beds be used for chronic chest disease patients. With the occupancy averaging 80 per cent of capacity so far this year, he declared, that time has not yet come.

"It is indeed unfortunate," Feldshuh concluded, "that the reputation and importance of so vital a medical facility as the Ulster County TB Hospital can be laid open to public suspicion by an editorial based on unchecked and inaccurate information."

'Doll' Busses Morgy

NEW YORK (AP)—When politician kisses baby, that's not news, but "Baby Doll" Carroll Baker made some news on a street corner by bussing Robert M. Morgenthau on the cheek.

Miss Baker, who starred in the movie "Baby Doll" and is now appearing in a Broadway show, planted the kiss at the suggestion of someone in the crowd that gathered around Morgenthau as the Democratic gubernatorial candidate campaigned in midtown Manhattan Wednesday.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market displayed an irregular trend to the downside in moderate trading early today.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional.

The market was in an uncertain mood following yesterday's decline which was cut back considerably in late trading.

Steels were irregularly lower.

Motors were mixed.

Rails, drugs, and airlines were fairly steady on balance.

The New York Stock Exchange monthly report on the short interest was due after the close. This is the total of shares sold short—sale of borrowed shares with the obligation of repaying the borrowed stock in the future when the short sale contracts are concluded.

RAYMOND E. DAVIS

Named Manager For Valley Area By Investment Co.

A Port Ewen general insurance operator has been appointed Hudson Valley Division manager for King Merritt and Company which specializes in mutual funds and investment securities.

Raymond E. Davis will handle the company's business at his present office, 239 Broadway in Port Ewen, where he serves clients desiring various types of insurance.

A graduate of the University of the State of New York and the Insurance School in Delmar, Davis has been associated with prominent security and insurance companies including Nationwide Insurance Company and Heritage Securities, Inc. From 1953 to 1957 he was an insurance inspector and special investigator for claims in the Poughkeepsie office of the Retail Credit Company. Previously he worked in the Workmen's Compensation Department, State of New York.

Active in community affairs, Davis was for a number of years director of Civil Defense for the Town of Ulster prior to moving in 1961 to Port Ewen where he and his wife, Kathleen, and three children reside.

Scientific Tools On Hand, If Used Can Stamp Out TB

"If we make full use of the scientific tools we now have in hand, can stamp out tuberculosis completely," says Dr. E. Franklin Hall of the Ulster County Department of Health.

The tuberculosis death rate is at a record low, but it is still one of the nation's greatest killers among contagious disease. Dr. Hall urges wider use of the TB skin test, particularly among children. Nine states now have TB testing programs for their school children. The skin test for TB is simple, quick and practically painless. It is also inexpensive and reliable.

A positive test does not necessarily mean that the person has active TB, because people usually react positively even when the TB is inactive or healed. But it does signal the need for further examination to make sure all is well. A negative is a good indication that there is no TB. Most important, the test can detect the disease early, sometimes when least suspected. The simple skin test and early treatment might have prevented many of these deaths and stopped spread of the disease to others.

"The Great White Plague," as TB used to be called, is no longer the plague that it was. But it is still an ominous threat, especially to children and young people. In babies who become infected from parents with unsuspected TB, medical experience indicates that early treatment can prevent TB meningitis, the brain infection that was formerly almost 100 per cent fatal.

Treatment for tuberculosis in most cases today is not the laborious, confining, expensive process it used to be. Especially when detected early, the disease can be treated with modern drugs that are relatively inexpensive and easy to take. For those with the more severe forms of the disease who require admittance to hospitals, ample facilities are available.

If detected early with the TB skin test it may not be necessary to go to the hospital at all.

street where buildings from 72 to 78 are to be cleared.

Killmer stated that Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. crews are disconnecting electric and gas service lines and pipes today, and water lines are being shut off.

The foreman stated that the former Barnett building will be cleared first, to open sufficient areas to operate trucks from North Front Street to the rear of the buildings.

Most of the merchants occupying stores that are being removed in the parking lot project, have moved to other quarters, and those remaining are expected to move within the next few days, according to Killmer.

The wrecking firm foreman stated that the project probably will be completed in six weeks or two months. All the demolition work will be done by hand, and not by the crane with huge ball attached, Killmer said.

Killmer said that a large crew of workmen will be on the job on Monday.

Advice Given Elderly Couple on Property

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "We are an elderly couple of 75 with an income of $300 a month but no savings. We own two houses. One, a single house, is free and clear. The other, an apartment building, is valued at $35,000 and has an $8,000 mortgage. After paying amortization on the latter, we don't have much left. In our place, would you sell one of these houses?"

A. D.

A) If I reach your age, I hope I will be able to write as good a letter as yours and have my wife with me, as you have.

In your place, I would sell the single house, pay off my mortgage and put the balance in a savings account which you most certainly should have. If your apartment house is well located, it will not only provide a home for you and a moderate income, but also it will increase in value over the years ahead. And I hope these will be many and pleasant for you.

Q) "Please tell me about California Electric Power and Pillsbury. I have 100 shares of each."

C. E.

A) It is a pleasure to tell you about two stocks that I like very much. If these are your only holdings, you're fortunate in your good judgment.

California Electric Power operates in an area that is growing rapidly in population and industry. Its territory includes southeastern California and southwestern Nevada. Earnings growth has been held back by increased fixed charges for expansion, but dividends have been raised moderately in each year since 1955. The stock yields a well-protected 4 per cent.

Pillsbury is, of course, a household word. It's a flour miller but gets the bulk of its profits from prepared flour mixes. Because of varying wheat crops, earnings in recent years have been steady but have shown little growth. If the latter is your major goal, I would switch to Corn Products or General Foods, where the yield is lower but the growth is stronger.

Dutchess Mother Called Critical, Shot Self; Report

A 29-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie mother of six children was reported in critical condition at St. Francis' Hospital today, suffering what authorities said were self-inflicted shotgun wounds of the body.

Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan told The Freeman, the victim, Mrs. Rocco Tallarita, of 75 Fairview Avenue, Town of Poughkeepsie, told a telephone operator shortly before 11:30 p. m. Wednesday she had just shot herself.

Found on Floor

The operator immediately notified the sheriff's office and Deputy Lawrence Hart was assigned to investigate. Quinlan said Hart entered the Tallarita residence and found Mrs. Tallarita lying on the living room floor.

Quinlan said the deputy found a .300 Savage rifle on a chair nearby. An ambulance was summoned and the wounded woman was rushed to St. Francis' Hospital and admitted after emergency treatment.

According to investigators, 10 rounds of ammunition for the rifle were found under a mattress in a bedroom of the Tallarita home.

At home at the time of the shooting were four of the woman's children, Rocco, 7, Ursala, 6, and Rozara and Joseph, both five. Mrs. Tallarita's bed-ridden father also was at home, but was unable to leave his bed. He later was taken to a hospital.

Quinlan said the woman's husband left home last Friday. Two other children were not home at the time of the shooting.

New Directors Are NamedbyGateway

Gateway Industries, Inc., held its annual meeting Monday night at which time board of director members were named.

Former Mayor William F. Edelmuth, president of the corporation, today announced election of the following new members to the board:

Six New Directors

Arthur Richter, William Klein, Myron Klutcher, Harry Kapreilian, Sam Mann and Peter Williams, all elected for a three-year term. Members re-elected to the board for three-year terms are William F. Edelmuth, Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, John Clyne and Carl Lipton.

President Edelmuth outlined the history and the progress of the Workshop since its beginning. He explained that the Workshop began with only four of the blind making rubber mats. With the assistance of local organizations, service clubs and local industry, the Workshop secured power sewing machines and thus was able to expand its program to train the handicapped for gainful employment. Since then the Workshop has added various types of activity which includes chair caning, the refinishing and upholstering of furniture, assembly work, typing, bookkeeping and use of the adding machine.

19 Accept Jobs

Gateway Industries has had 19 of its handicapped leave the Workshop to accept jobs in the various areas of gainful employment.

Preceeding the business meeting, the membership observed the trainees demonstrating their work. Following the meeting refreshments were served to the board of directors and members by the handicapped.

Gateway Industries Inc., is sponsored by the Kingston Lodge of B'nai B'rith and is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Installed were Mrs. Joseph Wickes, past president; Marie Flockhart, president; Ethel Smith, first vice president; Clara Hanke, second vice president; Pauline Auchmoody, secretary; Vera Prisco, treasurer; Nettie Daley, sergeant-at-arms, and Edna Roach, chaplain.

The following chairmen were chosen by Mrs. Flockhart to head the standing committees: Americanism, Dorothy Wickes; American Legion Mt. Camp, Gertrude Cameron; Civil Defense, Mabel Folkard; Constitution and By-Laws, Anna Lown; Education and Scholarship, Nettie Daley; Historian, Anna Lown; Legislation, Clara Hanke; Pan American Study, Katherine Sowa; Publicity and Rehabilitation, Marie Flockhart; Finance, Empire State News and Past Presidents' Parley, Vera Prisco; Cancer Control, Louise Scarzello; Child Welfare, Helen Backofen; Community Service, Adele McLean; Coupons, Mabel Almquist; Empire Girls State, Edna Roach; Junior Activities, Jeannette Napoli; Music, Olive Vandemark; Poppies & Posters, Ethel Smith.

A Communion breakfast will be served by the auxiliary at the Legion Home to the Catholic personnel of the Wallkill Prison on Sunday, October 28.

A ham supper is being planned for election night by the ladies of the auxiliary with Mrs. Clara Hanke as chairman in charge.

A social hour followed the meeting and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mabel Folkard and Clara Hanke.

Chamber Appoints 1963 Committees

At the regular meeting of the Wallkill Chamber held Monday evening, a group of approximately 20 members attended. President George conducted the business session.

A report was heard from Mrs. Edward Kilduff who represented the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce at the recent meeting of the Wallkill Teachers Association planning for the National Education Week which will be held the week of November 11-17 in the Wallkill Central School. Topics will be carried out for each day of the week, with the main theme being "Education Meets the Challenge of Change." More complete details will be announced by the school at a later date, when complete plans have been formulated.

Reports were heard from the various committees functioning, the Banquet Committee, Operations Flagpole, and the Trash Barrel Committee.

A vote of thanks was given by the members to Clifford Hotaling who did a great amount of brush clearing along the Wallkill River in order that the view of the Wallkill River may be more thoroughly enjoyed by passers-by.

Committees were announced by Mrs. George Brach as follows: Agriculture, Clifford Hotaling, Albert Haessig, Herbert DuBois and Carl Lucht; Regional Development, George Sanford and C. E. Penney; Merchants, Clifford Quick, Harry Dunn, J. A. Howell, Charles Hardware, L. C. Edsall; Publicity, Joseph Vogel, Elizabeth Hammesfahr and Lois Morris; Christmas Lighting, George W. Parliman, C. E. Penney, E. L. Mack, Walter Smith, Harry Dunn; Finance, Claude Decker, Chauncey McLean and George Vogel.

The matter of a summer program was brought up to attract the permanent residents to Wallkill when they are looking for a place of retirement. A band concert was suggested with theater activities, and a Fourth of July celebration. Mr. Brach will appoint a committee to look into the matter.

The Regional Development Committee will be in charge of the next meeting's program, at which time, Mr. K. Smith of the Walden Telephone Company will show a film and talk on the progress made in the Wallkill area by the company.

Following adjournment of the business session, the meeting was turned over to Clifford Hotaling who introduced the speakers of the evening, Jesse C. McHugh, supervisor, and C. E. Penney of the Town Board who talked about the proposed new sidewalk district in the Town of Shawangunk. McHugh emphasized to the group that this district was formed only because of the petitioning of the residents of the village for the action. This could only be done after the required 51 per cent of the signatures was obtained and presented to the Town Board.

Penney presented the financial aspect of the picture stating that the proposed charge would be 10 cents a foot for the taxpayer, based on the frontage of the property. This would be used mainly for maintenance and repair of the existing sidewalks. No new sidewalks would be laid unless residents desire such in front of their property and properly petition the Board. If new walks were laid, the taxpayers would then pay 50 per cent of the cost in accordance with former regulations.

Both Penney and McHugh stated that the Sidewalk District, if formed, will give the Town Board the legal right to repair the existing sidewalks which is the main issue.

They announced that the public hearing will be held at the town clerk's office on Monday, Oct. 22, at 7 p. m. at which time the public is invited to attend and participate in the session.

Following the talk, George Hammesfahr showed movies of the recent Trade Fair held by the Chamber, and other public events in the area.

Birthday Observed

Sunday, Oct. 14, a gala celebration was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Velders for their daughter, Linda Goldie Velders who was 10 years old. A notable fact was the four generations on the Velders' side who attended the gathering; Linda's great-grandmother, Mrs. Emma Christian; her grandmother, Mrs. Goldie Velders; her father, John E. Velders, and Linda, making the four generations in attendance.

Also attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Decker and son, of Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad G. Velders with Sharon, Davis and Greg Velders; Mr. and Mrs. William Young and daughter, Judy; Miss Marion Lavalle, Miss Bonnie Keator, Mrs. Harry Keator Jr., Wilbur Christian, Joey and Debbie DuBois, Conrad Velders Sr. and of course, Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Velders.

TIZZY By KATE OSANN

"But if I have to EARN the money, it's no longer an allowance, it's a salary!"

Conversation lagged for a moment, according to a Life story; then, as he sipped his tea, he remarked quietly, but with a meaning emphasis,

He—You are to be married.

She—Mercy me! To whom?

He—To me; I came today on purpose to tell you.

The draftee sat down next to the optician at the induction center.

Optician—Read the third line from the bottom on that chart. Turning to the next man in line, the draftee said,

Draftee—What chart is he talking about?

Nine Girls Hurt As 2 Rug City School Buses Hit

AMSTERDAM, N.Y. (AP) — A high school girl was hospitalized and eight others were treated for minor injuries Wednesday after the collision of two crowded school buses on a steep hill in the downtown section of this Mohawk Valley city.

Nancy Raeano, 15, of Amsterdam, was reported in good condition today at St. Mary's Hospital. She suffered an arm injury and bruises, the hospital said.

The eight other girls were treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises and then were sent home.

Police said the brakes on one of the buses failed on the Market Street hill, and the vehicle smashed into the rear of the other bus.

Bay State Man Killed

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — George Mayberry, 40, of Wayland, Mass., was killed Wednesday night in the head-on collision of his automobile and another car on Interstate Route 81 just north of Syracuse.

Trusted Inmates Will Get Knives, Forks

DANNEMORA, N.Y. (AP) — Cutting through a tough piece of meat should become an easier task for some 40 inmates at Dannemora State Hospital.

Knives and forks have been issued to replace the traditional large soup spoons used for eating. The switch was made for a group of trusted inmates on an experimental basis. The hospital for the criminally insane has nearly 1,200 inmates.

Knives and forks had not been used previously because of their potential use as weapons.

A spokesman for the Department of Correction said other inmates at Dannemora and at Matteawan State Hospital would continue to use spoons pending further study of the experiment.

Colonie Man Killed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Clifford Mohl, 33, of 7 Shannon Lane suburban Colonie, was injured fatally early today in a two-car collision on Route 7 in the Town of Colonie.

School Secretaries Will Attend Meeting At Paltz College

School secretaries, representing 45 school systems in the Mid-Hudson area, will attend the annual Office Secretaries Conference scheduled at the State University College, New Paltz, Friday, Oct. 26.

Sponsored by the Mid- Hudson School Study Council, the conference will include two main topics of discussion: "How to Cope With Stress in the School Office," by Dr. Gladys C. Murphy of Siena College, and "Aspects of Psychology of Help to the School Office Secretary," by Dr. Ronald Crawford, Phychologist, at the Mahopac Central School.

In the afternoon, the secretaries will be divided into groups to discuss the following topics on what the school secretary should know about "Current Problems of Attendance," by Gilbert Hennessey of the New Rochelle Public Schools; "Data Processing," by William E. Behnk of the State Education Department; "Speed Reading," by Mrs. Gladys Lupton, Reading Consultant from Somers; "Effective Communications," by Thomas M. Thiss, Coordinator of the Management and Development Department for International Business Machines in Kingston; and "Secretarial Shortcuts," by Miss Dixie Davidson, Senior Staff Assistant of Educational Services for IBM in New York City.

Df. William J. Fageny, Professor of Education of the State University College at New Paltz, who is executive Secretary of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, is in charge of the conference.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN E. MONTEMARANO

Hein-Montemarano Wedding Is Announced; Church Ceremony Takes Place October 13

At St. Charles Church, Ireland Corners, on Saturday, Oct. 13, Miss Judith E. Hein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hein of Gardiner, and John E. Montemarano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Montemarano of Haverstraw, exchanged nuptial vows. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Joseph Hickey. Mrs. McDowell was organist.

The bride wore a gown of satin and Chantilly lace. It was styled with long tapered sleeves, fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt of Chantilly tiers and nylon tulle ruffles. Her elbow length silk illusion veil was secured to a crown of cut crystal and she carried a missal with an orchid.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Ellen Wood, cousin of the bride, served as her maid of honor in a ballerina gown of coral in peau de soie with an overblouse of scalloped edging and cap sleeves. Her flirtation silk illusion veil was secured to a caplet of stylized leaves and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Arthur Tereglia of Haverstraw was the best man. Ushering were Michael Hein and Stephen Hein, both brothers of the bride.

Approximately 100 guests were entertained at a reception given in the Crossroads Inn in Gardiner.

The bride was graduated from St. Joseph's School in New Paltz and Wallkill High School. She attended Middletown School of Nursing. Her husband is an alumnus of Haverstraw High School.

For her wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a dark plaid wood suit with an orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Montemarano will reside in Stony Point.

County Meeting of Garden Clubs Is Set for Oct. 25

A County Day meeting of all Federated Garden Clubs in Ulster County which will be held on October 25 at Lake Minnewaska, has been announced by Mrs. Kenneth B. Robinson, Ulster County chairman.

Time of registration is 9:30 a. m. to 10 a. m. Plans for the day include a little flower show, landscape design, conservation; and horticulture and flower arranging lecture-demonstration.

Mrs. W. R. King, Third District Director of the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State, and members of the third district board will be guests of Ulster County clubs for the day.

The afternoon program will feature Mrs. A. Keith Smiley Jr. and Mrs. George R. Bishop, both from the New Paltz Garden Club.

Mrs. Smiley, Third District Horticulture Chairman, will present a lecture-demonstration using specimens of permanent plant materials as well as materials from the garden and the wild which may be dried and used effectively in flower arrangements.

Mrs. Bishop, well known lecturer on horticulture and the various phases of flower arranging, will give a lecture-demonstration featuring long term flower arrangements. She will use plant material from the garden and the wild, as well as the more exotic materials from the florist, and will demonstrate the "when to" and "how to" for arrangements of long lasting beauty.

This day is open to every member of Ulster County Federated Garden Clubs, and to Third District board members. County clubs which will be represented are: Community Garden Club of Marlborough-on-Hudson, Little Gardens Club of Kingston, the New Paltz Garden Club, Saugerties Society of Little Gardens, and the Woodstock Garden Club.

Reservations may be made until October 21. Send to: Mrs. Kenneth B. Robinson, RD No. 1, Box 47, New Paltz, New York.

To Visit Kingston

MRS. JOHN A. ROGALIN, the former Wilma Sivertson, will be a guest at the open house reception for wives of Ulster County GOP candidates on Friday. The reception will be given at the home of Mrs. Walter Dunham, 76 Wilson Avenue. Mrs. Rogalin is president of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York State Inc., and vice chairman of the New York Republican State Committee. Assisting Mrs. Dunham with arrangements is Mrs. Raymond LeFever, vice chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee.

Area Baptist Women Will Meet Saturday, Hear Gotham Pastor

The Rev. George D. Younger, minister of Mariners' Temple Baptist Church in New York City, will address the Hudson River Central Baptist Association's two-session meeting Saturday, Oct. 20, in Nyack.

Introduction of the guest speaker will be made by Mrs. Arthur T. Pedersen of Hurley Heights, president of the Hudson River Central Women's Association. The Rev. Mr. Younger will speak on women's work in the Baptist Jubilee Advance fifth year program during the 11 a. m. session.

The entire assembly will hear the New York City cleric at 2:15 p. m. when he will speak on his work as director at the Mariners' Temple.

A dinner at 5:15 o'clock with installation of officers will conclude the sessions.

The Rev. Mr. Younger, who has been at the Mariners Temple since 1955, was baptized and ordained in the Riverside Church and attended the Lincoln and Trinity Schools.

In his present position, he has served as member of a three-member team serving a downtown church center on the Lower East Side of New York City. The church conducts a seven-day-a-week program of Christian fellowship while serving nearby low-income housing projects and the surrounding neighborhood.

The Mariners' Temple Baptist Church, an interracial church, received an "Effective City Church Cittation" at the Urban Convocation of American Baptists in 1957.

The Rev. Mr. Younger was graduated from Yale College in 1947 with a BA in English following two years of service in the U S. Army. He later attended Yale Divinity School where he was graduated cum laude in 1950. His wife, Doris Anne, also received her BD degree from Yale.

The Gotham minister spent four years as pastor of First Baptist Church, Rochester, Pa., a steel town outside of Pittsburgh. During this tenure he was instrumental in forming a County Council of Churches, increasing church contact with labor unions and political parties and in sponsoring Christian social relations program for Pittsburgh area Baptists.

The Mariners' Temple minister is editor of Foundations, a Baptist Journal of History and Theology, published by the American Baptist Historical Society. He also is the author of The Bible Calls for Action, published by the Judson Press in 1959.

Doris A. Cogswell, Albert T. Snow Wed At St. Catherine

Miss Doris Anna Cogswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cogswell of 97 Gage Street, this city, exchanged marriage vows with Albert Thomas Snow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snow Sr., Mt. Marion Park, on Sunday, Sept. 30 at 2 p. m. in St. Catherine Laboure Church in Lake Katrine.

Officiating was the Rev. Bernard P. Gerrity.

The bride was given in marriage by her father who escorted her to the altar which was decorated with white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums. She wore a full length gown of silk nylon lace styled with mandarin neckline, long tapered sleeves and bouffant chapel length skirt. A queen's crown held her veil of silk illusion. She carried white roses.

Attired in a full length gown of yellow was the maid of honor, Marguerite Ellsworth of 139 Hunter Street. A queen's crown held a short circular veil and she carried yellow mums. Bridesmaids were Frances Smith, Sharon Gray of Kingston, Linda Smith of Saugerties and Rose Cogswell of Lomontville and Gail Smith, who were junior bridesmaids. All are cousins of the bride. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the honor attendant except in blue. They carried matching mums. Susan Vot, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She was also dressed in light blue and carried a basket of mums.

Richard F. Snow Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushering were Ruel Cogswell, brother of the bride, Vincent Stoll, the bridegroom's cousin, and Dennis Miller, all of Kingston. Martin Stoutenberg of Saugerties was the child ringbearer.

A reception was given at Moose Lodge Hall, 82 Prince Street for approximately 200 guests.

For her wedding trip through New England the bride wore a three piece Navy blue suit with red accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Snow will make their home in Rockfall, Conn.

Little Sawyer Arts and Crafts

An art exhibit is now being prepared by members of the Little Sawyer Arts and Crafts Guild. It will be given in Odd Fellows Hall, Main Street, Saugerties during American Art Week, November 5-9. Included in the exhibit will be paintings, sculpture and ceramics.

The exhibit will open on Monday, Nov. 5 at 7:30 p. m. The public will view the exhibit on Tuesday through Friday of that week from 2-5 p. m. and from 7-9 p. m. on Wednesday and Friday.

Next regular meeting of the Guild is scheduled for November 8 at 8 p. m. A film on portrait painting will be shown. New members are welcome.

AUNT TAKING NO PART IN NIECE'S WEDDING

Q: I am writing this letter on behalf of my mother who has been asked to be the matron of honor at her niece's wedding. She is 50 years old, very attractive and young looking for her age. The bride-to-be is 22 years of age. My mother is honored that her favorite niece has asked her to take part in the wedding but she doesn't know whether or not it will be proper for her to do so. She feels, as I do, that she is too old and will look conspicuously out of place. We would like to have your opinion.

A: A woman of 50 who looks very attractive and young when seen with people of her own generation will, I'm sorry to say, look at least her own age when in direct comparison with the youthful freshness of her niece and the bridesmaids. My advice to your mother is not to accept her niece's sweet and flattering invitation to be her matron of honor.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR FIANCE

Q: My fiance had a birthday recently and I gave a surprise party for him at my house. I did not invite his mother and father to the party and I understand they are very much put out because I did not do so and feel that I have slighted them. Will you please tell me if I was wrong not to have invited them?

A: Not if the party was strictly for those of your age, but if you have your parents and any of their friends were at the party, you should have invited his parents as well.

ON LEAVING A NEW ACQUAINTANCE

Q: Will you please tell me what is the proper reply to make to someone who says, "I'm glad to have met you"? I become absolutely tongue-tied when anyone says this to me and I never know what to say in return.

A: You say, "Thank you," or "I'm glad to have met you."

Marie Edna Schoeps Weds Leonard Cooper In Double Ring Ceremony at Hurley Church

On Sunday, Oct. 14 at 1:30 p. m., Miss Marie Edna Schoeps, daughter of Mrs. Winifred Schoeps of Lucas Avenue extension, exchanged marriage vows with Leonard Leroy Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Cooper of 20 Van Buren Street, this city. The ceremony took place in the Hurley Reformed Church with the Rev. H. F. Schadewald officiating. Mrs. Edward Landsman was the organist and Alan Vogt, soloist.

The bride, who is the daughter of the late Mr. Schoeps, was given in marriage by her brother, Charles, of Woodstock. She wore a gown of peau de soie fashioned with a molded bodice, long tapered sleeves and circlet neckline. The softly pleated skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train. The bodice and skirt featured appliques of Alencon lace motifs and her wide English illusion veil was shirred to a crown of matching lace reembroidered with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white pompons accented with white velvet leaves and white streamers.

Miss Melinda Rowe of Hurley Heights, was the maid of honor. She wore a cocktail length gown of pervanche blue peau de soie styled with a molded long torso, mid-length sleeves and circlet neckline. She also wore a matching feathered pillbox hat with a circular tulle veil. Her flowers were yellow pompons with matching streamers in cascade fashion.

The bride's niece, Martha Keely, was the flower girl. She wore a pervanche blue peau de soie frock with a wreath of matching flowers in her hair. She carried a basket of white and yellow pompons with matching streamers.

The bridegoom's brother, Lance W. Cooper of 17 O'Neil Street, was best man. Ushers included John Mertus of Kingston, cousin of the bridegroom, and Robert Messenger of Marbletown.

A reception was given at The Capri in Port Ewen for approximately 70 guests. Music was provided by Wendell Scherer.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper are graduates of Kingston High School. They are employed at Walter Smith Welding Supplies Inc., Kingston. Mr. Cooper is a member of the 156th Artillery, New York State Armory, Manor Avenue.

When the Coopers return from their wedding trip to Washington, D. C., they will be at home at 10 Van Buren Street, this city. For traveling, the bride wore a beige brocade suit with black accessories and a corsage of pompons.

Marist College Will Sponsor Education Series This Friday

On Friday night, the Office of Teacher Education of Marist College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will inaugurate a new lecture series entitled "Discussions in Education."

These lectures, which will be offered each month from October to April, are designed to provide an opportunity for teachers and administrators from the Mid-Hudson area schools to meet and to exchange ideas on current educational trends. The emphasis of the series will be on the practice aspects of these problems and their application to actual school situations.

To open the series, the Office of Teacher Education will present a film entitled "The Influential Americans," dealing with experiments in team teaching as conducted by the Franklin School of Lexington, Mass., and the Township School of Evanston, Ill. This presentation, beginning at 8 p. m., will be followed by a talk by Mrs. Ethel B. Bears, principal of Franklin School. Mrs. Bears has directed the team teaching experiment at Franklin since 1957, as part of the SUPRAD project. She plans to bring projectuals to illustrate her talk.

Comments and questions will be welcomed from the audience. Representatives from every school in the Mid-Hudson area have been invited to attend. The program will be held in the Marist College gymnasium.

At 2 p. m., there will be an introduction of the Study Books. The session will close at 3 o'clock.

Reservations for the luncheon should be made by October 20 with Mrs. Willys Ryder, 129 Clinton Avenue.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN GERARD

Lynnette Usherwood, John Gerard Wed October 14; Ceremony at Esopus Church

It was a double ring wedding ceremony for Lynnette Usherwood and John Gerard who exchanged their vows on Sunday, Oct. 14 at the Sacred Heart Church in Esopus. Officiating at the 2 p. m. wedding service was the Rev. Joseph Wall, CSsR.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Usherwood of Esopus. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lockwood of Eddyville.

White gladioli and pompons decorated the church for the occasion.

Mr. Usherwood gave his daughter in marriage. She was gowned in embroidered satin. Features of the gown included a scalloped neckline, elbow length sleeves edged with lace and a bouffant chapel length skirt. Her veil of silk illusion was secured to a crown of cut crystals and she carried a bouquet of gladioli and carnations.

The bride's sister, Merrily Silvera, served as honor attendant in a ballerina length gown of chiffon. styled with a bouffant skirt, scooped neckline, the gown was azalia pink. She also wore a miniature crown and short face veil. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Mrs. Hanna Hansen of Tuttletown, N. Y., and Miss Louise Calsen of New Paltz, also served as attendants. They wore ballerina length gown of light pink silk chiffon with carker pink cummerbunds. Their miniature crowns held short veils and silk illusion and they carried bouquets of dark pink carnations.

Tiffany Usherwood, the bride's sister, was a flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of silk organdy in pale blue and carried a miniature fireside basket of assorted light and dark carnations. She also wore a crown of Tiny flowers and short pink veil.

Tibor Horvath of Lake Katrine was best man. Ushers were Don Donaghy, Groff Street, this city, and Edward Ford, also of Kingston.

Kevin Van Wagenen of High Falls was the child ringbearer.

Guests were received at a reception given at the Pleasure Yacht in Eddyville.

Mrs. Gerard was graduated from New Paltz High School and is employed by Wallace's. Her husband is employed by IBM in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to New York City, the bride wore a black and white wool tweed suit, black mink hat and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard will reside in Tillson.

Woodman spare that tree. You just might be slicing into milady's wardrobe of the future. Modern wood-utilization technology has made it possible to produce from paper fabric the smartly styled outfit, upper left, complete with hat and purse. Other items include vest for under ski jacket, handbag and accessories, pot holders.

St. Ursula Alumnae

St. Ursula Alumnae will have its annual communion breakfast on Sunday, Oct. 28 after the 9 a. m. Mass in the Chapel. Breakfast will be served in the school cafeteria.

Celebrant and guest speaker will be the Rev. Charles Charest of the Blessed Sacrament Fathers.

UNICEF Program at YW

The UNICEF Halloween program was started in 1950 by a small Sunday School Class with Treats totaling $36. Now there are over 2½ million American youngsters participating in each of the 50 states. The Halloween coins, multiplying each year, have helped to provide medicines, food, and care for millions of children living in the underdeveloped countries. The gift to UNICEF in 1961 was over $2,000,000.

The YWCA would like to remind everyone that there are only two weeks left to pick up containers and tags. There are a few openings left for reserving the film "Assignment Children."

Kennedy Rests Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has an open date on his campaign schedule today, and after Wednesday's lively reception in Connecticut he's probably glad to have this day of comparative rest.

For Kennedy drew one highly enthusiastic audience — and got one loudly booing reception—during his 60-mile drive through an area that contains a lot of industry and a lot of Democrats.

Kennedy hits the campaign trail again Friday on a three-day trip that takes him all the way to Seattle in his effort to get a Democratic Congress elected Nov. 6. If he runs into similar crowds, it should be an entertaining weekend.

Beats Mrs. Chilson, 7 and 6

Mrs. Harris Captures 5th Twaalfskill Title

Scores 81 Medal In Title Match

Mrs. William D. (Chris) Harris has captured the Twalfskill Club women's championship for the fifth consecutive year.

The trim, sharpshooting Port Ewen ace trounced Mrs. Bess Chilson, 7 and 6, Wednesday in the finals of the 16-player championship flight with a sparkling 42-39-81 medal score.

Mrs. Harris canned a birdie-3 and the par-4 fourth hole and wavered only when she posted 7-6 on the seventh and eighth holes of the front nine.

Mrs. Chilson, shooting above her normal range with 47-45-92, was able to win only one hole, the seventh.

After going 1 up on the second hole, Mrs. Harris birdied the fourth and parred the long-par 5 fifth to lead 3 up. Mrs. Chilson shaved the margin to 2 holes on the seventh but lost the ninth to trail by three at the turn.

On the back nine, Mrs. Harris never went higher than a 5 and won the 10th, 13th, 16th and 17th holes to cement her 7 and 6 victory.

The cards:

Men's Par Out	433	453	544—35
Mrs. Harris	444	354	765—42
Mrs. Chilson	454	574	666—47
Par in	433	453	544—35—70
Mrs. Harris	435	454	545—39—91
Mrs. Chilson	535	554	765—45—92

Mrs. Harris wins, 7 and 6.

Austrian Bid For New Title For Griffith

VIENNA (AP)—The Austrian Boxing Federation prepared an appeal today for recognition of Emilie Griffith as world junior middleweight boxing champion.

A catch is that Griffith, as current world welter champ, is prohibited from holding two titles simultaneously and even if Austria wins its point, Emile probably will have to decline. It figures he'll prefer to keep the welterweight title.

The welter champ won Austrian recognition as the titlist in the newly created junior middleweight class Wednesday night with a 15-round decision over Teddy Wright of Detroit before a disappointing crowd at Vienna's ultra-modern Stadthalle.

The promoters, expecting a turn out that would tax the 14,700 capacity, wound up with something like 8,500 admissions and promptly blamed the small turnout on the fact the European Boxing Union had announced Tuesday it would not recognize the winner as the 154-pound king.

The World Boxing Association, formerly the U.S. NBA, also refused recognition. The WBA recognizes the new class but gives its sanction instead to the Oct. 20 bout in Portland, Ore., between Denny Moyer and Joey Giambra.

The Austrian appeal will be made to the European Union, and in the meantime, Griffith's camp isn't commenting on what comes next.

Griffith weighed 149¼ and Wright 153¼.

In Soccer Duel, 3-1

Stroudsburg Teachers Stop New Paltz Skein

East Stroudsburg Teachers (Pa.), a semi-finalist in the National Intercollegiate soccer championship tournament in 1961, stopped State University of New Paltz's 4-game winning streak with an impressive 3 to 1 victory Wednesday at New Paltz.

More than 700 persons, a tremendous turnout for soccer in this part of the country, saw the slick Pennsylvanians score a single goal in three of the four periods to turn back Coach Al Miller's Hawks.

Kifia Alenja, State University's star exchange player from Kenya (Africa), saved the Ulsterites from the ignominy of a shutout with a penalty shot at the 3-minute mark of the fourth period.

East Stroudsburg is the alma mater of New Paltz coach Al Miller, who earned All-America honors while at the Penn school. Although the "homecoming" was spoiled by the defeat, Miller had reason to be proud of his protege, Alenja, who may be headed for All-America honors in his own right.

The East Stroudsburg goals were scored by Ken Cutler, 7 minutes, first period; Walter Ostlehousten, 3:15 of third period; Paul Grube, 17:53 in the fourth period.

Tom Clark, New Paltz goal, had 17 saves and his rival, John Petronis, 13 saves. New Paltz plays the Army "B" team Friday at West Point.

Day After Finds Ralph Terry Relaxing on Metroplis Links

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Writer

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — What does a World Series hero do 24 hours after he has pitched the greatest game of his life? Well, if he's Ralph Terry and can play golf he goes out on the golf course.

That's just what the 26-year-old pitching star of the World Champion New York Yankees did Wednesday despite having gone without sleep after his series clinching 1-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants on Tuesday.

Terry and 11 other Yankees arrived in New York early Wednesday morning after a 3,000-mile jet flight from San Francisco.

"We sang all the way home," said the jubilant right-hander who won 23 games this season, plus two series games out of the last three played.

At three o'clock Wednesday, 24 hours after Terry had four-hit the National League champions at Candlestick Park, he was at the Metropolis Country Club.

To Pick Up Car

"I had planned to fly home to Larned, Kan., to see our new baby boy (Frank Gabe Terry, born Oct. 6) but I flew to New York instead to pick up the sports car I won," said Terry. "I'm hoping Tanya, my wife, will receive doctor's permission to join me here this weekend. Tanya has been living with her parents and I'm sure they can handle the formula for a few days."

Terry was surprised to learn that he made only 103 pitches in his 1-0 shutout. He also was astonished to learn that only once did he throw two non-strikes in succession.

"At times it seemed like I was out there pitching for a week, especially to Jim Davenport," Terry said. Davenport fouled off eight pitches in the third inning and four in the sixth. Terry had fanned Davenport four times previously in the series.

"Today? I'o golf. I'll pick up that sports car and try to catch up on my sleep."

Houk Admits Yankees Need More Pitching

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees are prepared today to sacrifice some of their strong bench in order to shore up an undermanned pitching staff for 1963.

Neither General Manager Roy Hamey nor field leader Ralph Houk was in a mood to discuss the matter following the Yankees' hard-fought World Series triumph over the stubborn San Francisco Giants. However it has been learned that such skilled operators as Johnny Blanchard, Hector Lopez and Phil Linz will be used as bait this winter to lure a top experienced relief pitcher to the Yankee pinstripe.

Series Deceiving

Hamey and Houk weren't fooled by the World Series in which brilliant pitching carried them to the club's 20th championship. Houk used only six pitchers in the seven games with three—Whitey Ford, Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford—getting the starting assignments. The wily manager, whose manipulation of his pitching staff was one of the highlights of the series, is fully aware that he needs more than three starters and more than six pitchers for the long 162-game schedule next year.

"Sure we could use more pitching but who couldn't," said Houk. "We may trade for a pitcher at the winter meetings but we certainly do not intend to break up our team to get one. We're not desperate by any means. And remember we have some highly promising youngsters coming up from our own farm system."

Houk laughed off reports that Baltimore has offered right-hander Milt Pappas for Blanchard and Lopez but the rumor persists.

Cards Acquire George Altman

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals completed a trade with the Chicago Cubs for George Altman Wednesday after turning down a similar deal that would have brought them the power-hitting outfielder last summer.

The 28-year-old left-handed Altman, key man in the swap, comes to the Cardinals with pitcher Don Cardwell and catcher Moe Thacker.

Going to the Cubs are pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

General Manager Bing Devine of the Cardinals and John Holland of the Cubs handled the deal.

A similar deal substituting pitcher Bob Anderson for Cardwell was reportedly nixed by the Cardinals earlier although approved by the Cubs.

"Cardwell's a quality pitcher with a quality arm, who's never lived up to his potential," Devine said of the hard-throwing right-hander who had a 7-16 record and a 4.91 earned run average this season.

But Altman was the man the Cardinals were trying to get, to the extent of giving 16-game winner Jackson, 31, and one-time relief ace McDaniel.

Altman hit .318 and had 22 homers and 74 runs batted in during the 1962 season.

Jordan Loses Calif. License

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Athletic Commission lifted Don Jordan's boxing license permanently Wednesday after hearing a referee's report that the former welterweight champ "took a dive" in a recent bout.

The fight in question ended in the first round Oct. 5 when Jordan went down for the count during the bout with Raymundo (Battling) Torres of Reynosa, Mexico. Ringsiders said they didn't see Jordan hit. Jordan had gone into the Los Angeles bout a 3-1 underdog after seven consecutive losses.

Secretary Clayton Frye of the Athletic Commission, watching the fight from several rows back, sprinted to the ring and immediately declared it "no contest."

Torres later was absolved of any misconduct and was awarded his share of the purse. He has a 47-4 record, including 39 victories by knockout.

The commissioners directed that Jordan's $1,500 purse be forfeited. But they said they will give him a chance to appeal both the license revocation and forfeiture of the money.

Robinson Lone Repeater on AP All Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — For the second straight year, outfielder Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds has been named to The Associated Press major league All-Star team.

Robinson is the lone repeater from last season's squad to make the 1962 team announced Wednesday in the annual poll of members of the Baseball Writers Association.

The Los Angeles Dodgers monopolized the team with four players being selected. They are shortstop Maury Wills, outfielder Tommy Davis, left-handed pitcher Sandy Koufax and right-handed pitcher Don Drysdale.

The National League pennant winning San Francisco Giants were the only other club to place more than one man on the team. The Giants' representatives are first baseman Orlando Cepeda and outfielder Willie Mays.

The rest of the squad includes second baseman Bobby Richardson of the New York Yankees, third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles and catcher Earl Battey of the Minnesota Twins.

Nats Rally Tops Boston Celtics

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The Syracuse Nationals fashioned a 10-point rally late in the fourth period Wednesday night and defeated the National Basketball Association Champion Boston Celtics, 124-110, in an exhibition game.

Larry Costello scored 22 points for the Nats, while teammate Len Chappell tallied 18. Tom Heinsohn had 18 points to pace the Celtics.

The victory was Syracuse's sixth in nine exhibition contests.

Boston played without backcourt ace Bob Cousy, who suffered a shoulder injury Monday against Fort Wayne. However, he is expected to be in the starting line-up for the Celtics' first league game Saturday.

Three Major Conference Will Defy AAU Rulings

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—At least three major conferences, and quite possibly all of them in the United States, are going to enter athletes in NCAA-supported federation meets despite AAU warnings they will be disqualified for international competition.

The Big Six of the West Coast—Stanford, UCLA, Southern California, California, Washington and Washington State—has taken the most vigorous stand so far. It has adopted legislation that it not only will boycott AAU meets but also will not permit the AAU to use its athletic facilities.

The Big Eight also is preparing stringent regulations opposing AAU control.

The Big Ten is on record as backing the federation movement and Commissioner Bill Reed told The Associated Press that legislation is expected to be adopted at its December meetings similar to that of the Big Six.

Taken No Stand

"We have taken no official stand against AAU participation at the present time," Reed said. "But a poll of coaches by me showed that none plans to enter AAU meets. I don't think the American public would allow the AAU to rule our boys ineligible for international competition. It is my opinion that all major conferences in the U.S. feel as we do."

Reaves Peters, Big Eight executive director, said Wednesday that conference officials are preparing rules revisions which would require coaches and administrators to resign their AAU memberships and any offices they might hold.

Issue Warning

The AAU issued a formal warning Wednesday in Chicago to athletes competing in federation open meets that they will be ineligible for certification for international competition.

This means that athletes—primarily in track, basketball and gymnastics where federations are operative at this time—who participate in a federation meet will be disqualified by the AAU for the 1963 Pan American games and the 1964 Olympics.

The AAU has the control—under sanction of the international body, which has reaffirmed it as the certifying group for the United States—but the federations apparently have most of the athletes.

The stalemate, which has existed for two years, is nowhere near being compromised. The forces under the Track and Field Federation, the primary sport of the Olympics, include 507 colleges, 180 junior colleges and 14,539 high schools with a total of 106,388 meets and 538,263 participants.

Dodgers Rehire

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers—apparently convinced it takes all kinds — will string along another year with Manager Walt Alston, who seldom raises his voice, and Coach Leo Durocher, who seldom rests his.

Alston, rehired Wednesday for a 10th season, said he wanted to retain Durocher despite reports Leo had second-guessed him after the Dodgers lost the National League playoffs.

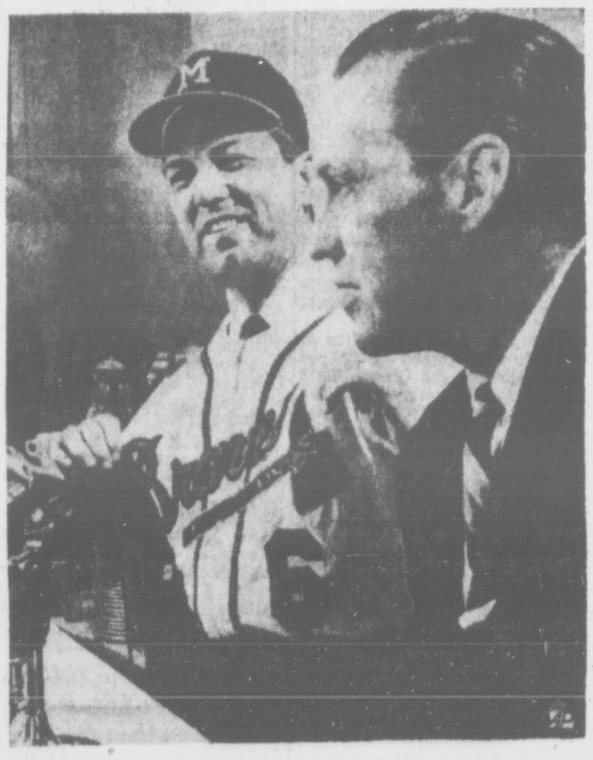
Durocher, asked whether he would return, said he had no comment. "I'll let Mr. Bavasi (Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi) make all the statements," Durocher said.

"There is no doubt in my mind," Bavasi said later, "that Leo will be back."

Bavasi, who called a news conference to announce Alston's contract renewal, seemed to think the collapse of the Dodgers this year was more attributable to the team than to the manager.

"It took a team effort to lose it," Bavasi said.

The renewal of Alston's contract was generally expected, although some suspected he might be blamed for the way the Dodgers folded in late September.



NEW BRAVES MANAGER NAMED—Bobby Bragan, wearing a Braves uniform shirt and cap, registers pride as President and General Manager John McHale, right, introduces him in Milwaukee as the new manager of the Braves. Mrs. de Lisio Has 93 in Nationals

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lisio of Woodstock Country Club posted a 44-49-93, well off the pace in the first round of the National Women's Amateur Seniors golf tournament at Oreland, Pa.

Maureen Orcutt, former national ranking star, and Mrs. Allison Choate of Rye, N. Y., playing partner of Mrs. deLisio tied for the lead with 80s.

Mrs. Gerald Hallenbeck of Catskill was out in 38 to tie for low nine in the first round, but ballooned to a 48 to card an 86.

A disastrous day on the greens ruined Mrs. de Lisio's bid to get a good start in the 54-hole tournament which ends Friday.

Mickey Mantle, Robinson Keep Slugging Titles

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees won his fourth American League slugging crown and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati captured his third straight National League title in 1962, final figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

The championships are based on total bases accumulated on all hits and official times at bat.

Mantle slugged .605 the past season. In 377 at bats, he collected 121 hits including 15 doubles, 1 triple and 30 home runs for 228 total bases. The switch-hitting center fielder had a .687 mark in 1961. He also led in 1955 and 1956.

Robinson produced 380 total bases in 609 trips for a .624 average. Among 208 safeties, he had 51 doubles, 2 triples and 39 homers. Robinson finished on top in 1960 with a .595 mark and in 1961 with .613.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee was runner-up to Robinson in 1962 with .618. The Braves' outfielder piled up 366 total bases in 592 times at bat, getting 28 doubles, 6 triples and 45 home runs among 191 hits. He won the senior circuit slugging title in 1959.

Al Kaline finished second in the American League with a .593 mark. The Detroit outfielder had 236 total bases in 398 times at bat. He had 121 hits, including 16 doubles, 6 triples and 29 homers.

Bragan Oozes Confidence in Milwaukee Post

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, a placid fifth in 1962, have hired a new manager —bouncy Bobby Bragan.

That guarantees that no matter where the Braves finish next year, they'll do it with some screeching.

"The players and the fans will know I'm around. I'll be in sight a good deal of the time," said Bragan as he took over the job Wednesday with an introduction from Milwaukee President and General Manager John McHale who said, "I like the mouthy type of manager."

"I'm on cloud nine," said Bragan, given a one-year contract, as he stepped into a managerial hot spot. He's the third Milwaukee manager since 1959 when Fred Haney quit. Charlie Dressen couldn't get the club above fourth in a month less than two seasons and under Birdie Tebbetts last season they were fifth, their lowest finish in the National League since moving from Boston 10 years ago.

Is Optimistic

Bragan was optimistic about the future, saying, "the club has experience, a lot of good ball players. I have seen the club's personnel for some years now and I think we all can get the job done."

He said he was impressed with every phase of the Braves' operation except the outfield. "I think Henry Aaron is the greatest, but the other two fields have to be strengthened."

In talking about changes, the 44-year-old Bragan said he feels he has matured since 1956 and 1957 when he managed the Pittsburgh Pirates and 1958 when he guided the Cleveland Indians for the first half of the season.

He managed at Spokane in the Pacific Coast League until 1960 when he went to the Los Angeles Dodgers as a coach. He moved over to Houston to scout for the Colts in 1961 and coached there the last season.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Jim Sims, who holds two Kingston High track records, two DUSO League marks and a record in Section 9, is continuing his superlative performances for the Cross Country team at Cornell University.

In a recent meet against Harvard, the Big Red harriers lost by a point despite the fact that Sims and teammate Jim Byard finished in a tie for first. Jim came back against Penn State and ran fourth but was only 14 seconds behind the winner. Cornell will be at Yale this week and Sims, a junior at the upstate school, is expected to aid the Big Red in an attempt to upset the favored home harriers.

Sims holds the record for the 880 yard and the mile run at Kingston. His DUSO records are in the 880 and in cross country and he also holds the Section 9 cross country mark. His 4:31 mile in the New Paltz Relays, set in 1960, is a record. Quite a boy is Jimmy, in the classroom as well as on the track.

A SAD PERFORMANCE

In the four years we have been covering high school sports for this newspaper, we have yet to see a Kingston High football team look as bad as it did Saturday against Poughkeepsie.

This is not taking anything away from the PHS eleven, which was charged up right from the start. However, the visitors completely outplayed Kingston in all phases of the game. Their line was quicker, their backs more alert and their general all-around play was simply too much to handle.

Tackling, at least by the Kingston players, was—to put it bluntly—awful. If Coach Bill Burke and his staff were seen talking to themselves after the game, there was a reason. After all, a coach can teach the boys only so much. They have to go out there and do the playing themselves. If they fail to tackle, to block or to carry out simple fundamental assignments, they shouldn't expect to win football games. It's that simple.

JUST RAMBLING AROUND

Though they were beaten by Pine Bush on Friday night, it's our general opinion that the Onteora Central football players are far superior to last year's team and will win more than one game this season . . . Middletown overcome a big hurdle in beating Portchester Saturday at the Mid City field. The Westchester County team had a shiny winning streak broken and it kept the Middies' winning string going. It's now 12 straight games. Incidentally, it's nice to see other clubs in the DUSO League, in addition to Kingston, finally putting someone on the schedule that will give them competition. Year after year Coach Bill Burke has scheduled the likes of New Rochelle, White Plains, Mont Pleasant, etc. He feels it's better to be beaten occasionally by a good team than by lopsided scores against inferior clubs . . . Larry Magill, the flashy center for Poughkeepsie High's gridders, is the son of Bob Magill, one of the best referees in the area . . . Roland Butts, the quarterback for PHS, is a brother to Al, who is one of the top performers for the Columbia University eleven . . . The "ground" crew at Dietz Stadium should be commended. With Onteora using the field last Friday and Kingston on Saturday, it was put in perfect shape for both games, quite a job in itself . . . Mark this date on your calendar. The Oct. 27 meeting between Albany Academy and Saugerties at the SHS gridiron. Albany has won three straight games and has yet to be scored on. The Sawyers, if they beat Wappingers Falls this week, will be going into the tilt with 20 straight victories, including two straight over the upstaters.

Oakland-Buffalo 'Also Rans' Game

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Oakland Raiders meet the Buffalo Bills here Saturday night in an American Football League game of divisional also-rans.

Oakland is the only club in the league with more troubles than Buffalo, having gone five games without a victory.

The Bills were in the same predicament a week ago, but upset San Diego (35-10) to break the losing spell.

The Western Division Raiders got a new head coach Tuesday when the front office tabbed William (Red) Conkright to replace the ousted Marty Feldman.

Conkright, who was one of Feldman's assistants, also was a member of Red Dawson's coaching company with the old Buffalo Bills in the All American Conference in 1948.

Could Be Rough

If the Bills can maintain the tempo they displayed against San Diego, Conkright's return to Buffalo and his head coaching debut could be an overwhelming flop.

Sticking to the ground, the Bills ripped the Chargers with outstanding rushing performances from fullback Cookie Gilchrist and former Raider halfback Wayne Crow.

So successful was the Bills' running attack against the Chargers' "fearsome-foursome" (their giant defensive line), that quarterback Warren Rabb threw only 12 passes, a new league low. He completed five for 136 yards and three touchdowns.

The combination of a Buffalo victory and a defeat of New York at Dallas Sunday would lift the Bills into a third-place tie with the faltering Titans.

In other league action this weekend, San Diego is at Boston Friday night and Houston will be at Denver Sunday.

Jordan Olivar Puts Stress on Passing

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Football coach Jordan Olivar led Yale through a passing drill Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's Ivy League battle here with Cornell.

The Blues, slight favorites, also worked on a defensive pattern to cope with the Big Red's lonely-end offensive formation.

Dennis Langa and Ronald Wilmore, both second line halfbacks, worked with the No. 1 platoon. Regular halfback Richard Berk was still recuperating from muscle strain. He may miss Saturday's contest.

Syracuse Respects Penn State Power

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Penn State's attack will be "tougher and more versatile" than any the Syracuse football team has encountered this season, Orange coach Ben Schwartzwalder says.

The two teams' meet Saturday at Penn State.

Schwartzwalder ran the Syracuse squad through a long defensive drill Wednesday.

Ray Seager, a 205-pound senior guard from Homer, will be Syracuse co-captain for the game.

BLUEGILL FISHING 10-18

BLUEGILL SUNFISH

USE A NO. 10 OR SMALLER HOOK

FOR MOST SUCCESS IN BAIT FISHING, USE TINY HOOKS AND BAIT. HALF OF A SMALL WORM, A SMALL GRUB, LARVA, A TINY GRASSHOPPER MINUS LEGS AND WINGS MAKE GOOD BAITS. USE A SMALL BOBBER THAT SUBMERGES AT THE SLIGHTEST PULL SO THE FISH FEELS NO RESISTANCE WHEN TAKING BAIT. WAIT A FEW SECONDS BEFORE SETTING HOOK IN BITING FISH.

IN LATE AFTERNOON, PRACTICE FLY FISHING WITH THESE SMALL GAMESTERS. RETRIEVE WET FLY BY SHORT TWITCHES. USE DRY FLIES ON DIMPLES.

Webfoot Back Is Top Catcher

NEW YORK (AP)—Vern Burke of Oregon State is grabbing passes at a record rate and West Texas State's Jerry Logan is making a one-man race of the individual scoring struggle, according to the latest NCAA individual college football statistics.

Burke has caught 32 passes in his first four games, or 59 per cent of the passes Oregon State has completed. Never before has a single receiver caught more than half the passes thrown by an air-minded major college team.

Hugh Campbell's record 66 receptions two years ago were exactly half of Washington State's total completions.

Burke is closely followed by John Simmons of Tulsa, with 30, but it's a long drop back to third, Jim Cure of Marshall with 22.

In individual scoring, Logan leads in total points with 80, in touchdowns with nine and in points after touchdowns with 26. He's 30 points up on Jim Turner of Utah State.

Black Hawks Bag First Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — "Now," said Chicago Black Hawk goalie Glenn Hall, "Maybe we can get going. It always takes some of the tension off when you get that first one."

His sentiments were echoed in the obviously relieved atmosphere of Chicago's dressing room Wednesday night after the Hawks had posted their first National Hockey League victory of the season, 5-1 over the New York Rangers.

"It should be a natural reaction (to the victory)," Hall said, "that we should start winning some now. You always get a lift from something like this."

The Black Hawks, Stanley Cup finalists last season but winless in three previous starts, swept from behind a 1-0 deficit and threatened to skate the disorganized Rangers off the ice in the last period. It was the only Wednesday game scheduled in the NHL.

In the three previous games, the Black Hawks had scored only three goals, with Hall turning in one shutout but failing to win a game. The shutout came in a scoreless tie.

Senior Halfback Top Cornell Runner

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Jimmy Lampkins of Buffalo, a senior left halfback, is the leading ground-gainer and scorer for the Cornell football team, Coach Tom Harp reports.

Lampkins led the Big Red first-string backfield through a light workout Wednesday in preparation for the game Saturday against Yale at New Haven, Conn.

International Set at Yonkers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hefty stakes combine tonight with international trotting champions to beef up a thinning harness schedule in New York State.

Eight leading trotters from six countries will vie for the $45,000 Transoceanic Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

Canada's Tie Silk, winner of the International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway last summer, has been installed as the 5-2 favorite in the 1¼-mile event.

The first four finishers in tonight's race will meet a quartet of American trotters in the $60,000 United Nations, a 1½-mile event.

At Yonkers Wednesday night, Star Guinea led all the way in the $3,000 Catskill Pace and paid $9.60. The 3-year-old filly registered a 2:04 and was driven by Del Insko.

Snow Volo held off a rush from Gentry Yates to capture a Class B-3 $1,300 pace at Batavia Downs. The winner was driven by Frank Radice and returned $8.20.

In another harness development, the owners of Impish, the world's 2-year-old trotting record holder, have announced that the three-year old filly will be taken out of training next week and retired.

Impish, owned by Mel and Tom Eaton of Norwich, N.Y., set her mark last year at 1:58 3-5 for the mile.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE AND RESTRICT THE LOCATION OF TRADES AND INDUSTRIES FOR BUILDINGS DESIGNED FOR SPECIFIC USES, ETC., KNOWN AS THE ZONING ORDINANCE APPROVED BY THE MAYOR AUGUST 8, 1928.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Common Council of the City of Kingston, New York, as follows:

SECTION 1. That an Ordinance to regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specific uses known as the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Kingston, be amended as follows:

That the following parcel of land now in the Residential district be included in the Business district and that the building zone maps, a part of the aforesaid Ordinance, be amended to include said parcels of land within the said business district:

All That Tract Or Parcel Of Land situate in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, State of New York, known and designate as 11 High Street, bounded north by High Street, east by Third Avenue, south by Balzer and VanSteenburgh, west by Second Avenue.

That the following parcel of land now in the Business district be included in the Industrial district, and that the building zone maps, a part of the aforesaid Ordinance, be amended to include said parcel of land within said Industrial district:

All That Tract Or Parcel Of Land situate in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, State of New York, known and designate as 12-14 Henry Street, bounded north by Henry Street, east by Thompson, south by Gildersleeve, west by DeMartino.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance shall be published twice in each of the official newspapers of the City of Kingston and shall take effect immediately following such publication.

Submitted to the Mayor by the City Clerk the 3rd day of October, 1962.

WALTER S. FOSTER
City Clerk

Approved by the Mayor the 3rd day of October, 1962.

JOHN J. SCHWENK
Mayor

NOTICE

The ordinance published herewith has been adopted on the 2nd day of October, 1962, and the validity of the obligations authorized by such ordinance may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is not authorized to expend money or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

WALTER S. FOSTER
CITY CLERK

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED OCTOBER 2, 1962, APPROPIATING $4,500 IN ADDITION TO $32,000 HERETOFORE APPROPRIATED FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A DIVERSION CHAMBER IN HASBROUCK AVENUE, IN SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST OF SAID SPECIFIC OBJECT OR PURPOSE, INCLUDING SAID ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION, IS $36,500 AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $4,500 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, State of New York, hereby appropriates the amount of $4,500, in addition to the amount of $32,000 heretofore appropriated pursuant to the ordinance duly adopted by the Common Council of said City on September 16, 1958, and approved by the Mayor of said City on September 17, 1958, for the construction of a diversion chamber in Hasbrouck Avenue, as an addition to the sewer system of said City. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof and including said additional appropriation, is $36,500. The plan of financing includes the use of the $32,000 heretofore appropriated and the $4,500 herein appropriated, the issuance of $4,500 serial bonds herein authorized to finance said additional appropriation and the levy and collection of taxes upon all the taxable real property within the City to pay the interest on said bonds and the principal thereof, as the same shall become due and payable.

Section 2. Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $4,500 are hereby authorized to be issued to finance said additional appropriation.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the bonds herein authorized are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 4 of said Local Finance Law, is thirty (30) years, but the maturity of said bonds shall not exceed five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required to be provided prior to the issuance of the serial bonds herein authorized or any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation thereof, pursuant to the provisions of Section 107.00 d. 4 of said Local Finance Law.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this resolution and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Law and said bonds and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligations of the City, and the City hereby irrevocably pledges its faith and credit to the punctual payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon and there shall be raised annually by tax on all the taxable real property in the City, a sum sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this resolution and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of §30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of §50.00 and §56.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds and renewals thereof, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. The validity of the bonds authorized by this resolution and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such resolution, are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Section 7. This ordinance, which takes effect immediately, shall be published, in full, after approval by the Mayor, in THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN and in the KINGSTONIAN, the official newspapers of the City, together with a notice in substantially the form as prescribed by §81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

WOODEN FLEET— Four armed junks of the South Viet Nam wooden navy are pictured near Saigon. The 34-foot vessels are similar to those in a fleet of 300 being built for use against the Red guerillas. There are 1,000 men working on the project.

Trio Will Share '62 Nobel Prize In Medicine Field

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1962 Nobel Prize for medicine was awarded jointly today to Dr. Francis Harry Compton Crick, Dr. James Dewey Watson and Dr. Maurice Hugh Frederick Wilkins "for their discoveries concerning the molecular structore of nucleic acids and its significance."

The prize this year totals 257,219 Swedish crowns, or $49,656.

Dr. Crick, 46, is attached to the Institute of Molecular Biology at Cambridge, England.

Dr. Watson, 34, is a professor of biology at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Dr. Wilkins, 46, is deputy director of the Biophysics Laboratory at King's College, London.

Mass for Bishop Burke

ROME (AP)—Six cardinals and 350 bishops filled the little church of Santa Susanna to overflowing today for a Requiem Mass for Bishop Joseph A. Burke of Buffalo, N.Y.

The 76-year-old prelate died of a heart attack in a Rome Hospital Tuesday. It was the first death among the 2,700 Roman Catholic prelates attending the Ecumenical Council in the Vatican.

Auxiliary Bishop Leo R. Smith of Buffalo celebrated the Mass for the dead, assisted by seminarians of the Pontifical North American College. Four candles burned on the altar during the simple 20-minute ceremony.

Bishop Burke's coffin was draped in black, with two small white skulls embroidered in the corners to symbolize human mortality.

Ethics Trial Delayed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Court on the Judiciary has postponed the trial of Justice Louis L. Friedman of State Supreme Court, who is charged with unethical and improper conduct.

The trial had been scheduled to open Friday.

John R. Davison, Albany attorney designated to prosecute the case, said today preparation had not been completed. Davison said that no new date had been set but that he expected the trial would open late next month.

Friedman is charged, among other things, with withholding business records of his brother, M. Malcolm Friedman, an attorney, during an investigation of ambulance-chasing by lawyers in New York City.

Ex-Cops Start Terms

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Three former policemen have begun one year house of correction sentences for burglaries committed while they were members of the Pittsfield force.

Sentenced Wednesday on pleas of guilty were Kenneth F. Card, 38; James A. Sincere, 29, and Francis J. LeBlanc, 31.

All resigned while awaiting trial. They were arrested and charged with larceny of $450 in merchandise after a rookie patrolman became suspicious because a flashlight was being used at night in a warehouse. Much of the merchandise has been recovered.

Was Denied Classes

ETTRICK, Va. (AP) —Hazel Ruth Adams, whose attendance at an all-white community college marked the first school desegregation in southside Virginia, says she returned to an all-Negro college because she was unable to enroll in two classes she sought.

The Negro girl spent one day in class at the Martinsville Patrick Henry branch of the University of Virginia, then returned to Virginia State College here.

Miss Adams said she withdrew from Patrick Henry after she found classes in commercial law and accounting were full and could not accommodate any more students.

May Ask Kennedy, Diefenbaker to York Battle Fete

TORONTO (AP) — President Kennedy and Prime Minister Diefenbaker may be asked to come to Toronto April 27 to attend ceremonies commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Battle of York.

The Toronto Board of Control suggested to the Toronto Historical Society Wednesday night that they proceed with plans to extend the invitation to the two government chiefs.

W. J. Stewart, chairman of the historical board, said the event would be similar to one held in Buffalo, N.Y., earlier this year when members of the Toronto City Council were invited to attend a luncheon commemorating the War of 1812.

Stewart said he would ask the Buffalo City Council to tender the invitation to Kennedy, while a local committee will invite Diefenbaker.

All Were Smokers, Surgeon Says of Cancer Surgery

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A surgeon who has operated on more than 200 lung cancer victims says that each of them had a history of smoking.

Dr. Victor H. Kaunitz of Buffalo testified Wednesday in the trial of Otto Pritchard, a 64-year-old Pittsburgh carpenter who is suing the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., claiming their Chesterfield cigarettes gave him lung cancer. Pritchard's right lung was removed in 1953.

Kaunitz testified that he believes cigarette smoke caused Pritchard's cancer.

Doctors Okay Davis Workout

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ernie Davis, the Cleveland Browns' prize rookie who was sidelined by leukemia, has been working out for a week and says he feels pretty good.

Davis said Wednesday his wind is good and his legs are in shape, and he is eager to play some football.

Doctors have said the disease is in a state of remission, and they approved having him start working out. However, club president Art Modell said Davis would need a couple of weeks more of exercises and running to get in shape.

Youth Will Face Second Charge in Shotgun Incident

A Binnewater youth, released on $200 bail pending sentencing on a third degree assault charge involving a 17-year-old girl, was arrested by Kingston state police Wednesday on a second degree assault charge for allegedly threatening the girl's mother with a shotgun, troopers reported.

Franklin Lee Lyons, 20 of Binnewater when he appeared Wednesday before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Arthur A Reilly, was granted an adjournment on the earlier charge. At that time he was issued a summons by troopers on the second degree assault charge and was committed to Ulster County Jail in lieu of $2,500 cash or $5,000 property bond, for appearance Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Troopers David Wachtel and Vincent Tobia reported the second warrant was issued on a complaint by Ms. John Liggan of Binnewater, who said Lyons threatened her and her two teenage daughters with a shotgun. He fired the shotgun three times in the air, she told troopers. The incident occurred near the Liggan home.

The earlier charge was filed as the result of an incident in the Dew Drop Inn parking lot at Eddyville, about midnight Friday, where troopers said Judith Liggan, 17, charged that Lyons forced his way into her car in the parking lot and struck her in the face with his open hand.

Quicker by Kite

CALAIS, France (AP)—French paraohutist Gil Delamare crossed the English Channel from France to England in 95 minutes Wednesday suspended from a huge kite 30 feet above the water and towed by a motor boat.

After arriving in Dover, Delamare, 42, climbed aboard one of the six small boats in his escort flotilla and started home. The fog was heavy, and it took him 7 hours to get back to Calais.

Japan Protests

Rockets Hit Near Pacific Targets, Is Moscow Claim

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union says it fired multistage rockets 7,500 miles Tuesday and Wednesday and they landed near their targets in the Pacific.

The range is about that reported when the Soviets said they fired a new rocket into the Pacific in September 1961.

The target area for the latest Soviet tests was near the Marshall Islands. The announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass said the area was temporarily open again to ships and planes.

In announcing a new series of rocket firings Monday, the Soviet Union asked ships and planes to stay out of the area near the Marshalls and from a second area northwest of the Hawaiian Islands.

The original announcement said the tests would run from Oct. 1 to Nov. 30.

TOKYO (AP) —The Japanese government announced today it protested to the Soviet Union against the closing of Pacific areas for rocket testing.

A note delivered in Moscow said closing Pacific areas to ships and planes was detrimental to Japanese airline and fishing operations and infringed on the rights of other nations to use the open seas.

Japan reserved the right to demand compensation for any damage suffered and insisted the Soviet government give 96 hours notice of each test.

Times Backs Javits

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times endorsed today Sen. Jacob K. Javits, Republican running mate of Gov. Rockefeller, whom the Times endorsed Tuesday for re-election.

An editorial in the Times today said Javits has made some mistakes but "is on the right side of most issues most of the time."

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Only rubble remains of an ammunition assembly building which was demolished when a woman panicked and tossed a smoking simulated bomb onto a production line.

The bomb touched off all 500 of the bombs in the plant in a chain reaction of explosions that shattered the building and had it flaming from end to end in a matter of minutes.

About 35 women employes moved swiftly and calmly out of the building seconds before it blazed up. They escaped injury, but three of them were treated at a hospital for shock.

Damage was estimated at $40,000.

The building, about 100 feet long by 30 feet wide, was located about 100 yards from the rest of the plant. Simulated bombs are the type used by the armed forces for training and, individually, are considered safe at a distance of 75 feet.

THE "MAGIC WHISTLE" blown by Bruce Prosser immobilizes Pratt Boice, N. Jansen Fowler, and Herman C. Schwenk, appearing in the Kiwanis Kapers to be presented at the Kingston High School Auditorium on Oct. 23-24-25. The "frozen Kiwanians" are from a scene in "The Making of a President" which will be given for the benefit of the Kiwanis Scholarship Fund next week. (Freeman photo)

Called 'House of Horrors'

Greene Jury Probes Leeds Sub-Station

A Greene County grand jury has started investigation of allegations by a Coxsackie man that the State Police sub-station at Leeds is "a house of horrors."

The investigation was requested by State Police Supt. Arthur Cornelius Jr. after charges were made by Charles Rajsky, of Coxsackie, in letters to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Supt. Cornelius and to newspapers.

Rajsky appeared about two hours Tuesday before a grand jury in session at Catskill. Rajsky also found fault with selection of jurors by the county.

Rosemary Byron, a Catskill attorney, was subpoenaed with a former employe to appear today before the grand jury, but she has indicated she may ask Supreme Court Justice Herbert D. Hamm to vacate the subpoena on the grounds that conversations between herself and her clients would be privileged.

According to Deputy State Police Supt. John Maguire, the grand jury probe will give Rajsky an opportunity to "put up or shut up." Maguire said the allegations were of drastic nature and charged misconduct by state police officers.

Campaign Grows Hotter in Pa.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania's gubernatorial scrap grew hotter today amid charges of graft, corruption and hypocrisy.

William W. Scranton, the Republican candidate, accused his Democratic opponent, Richard Dilworth, of "graft. . .corruption . . .and conflict of interest." Dilworth meanwhile, said Scranton was guilty of "indecisiveness, evasiveness, lack of integrity and downright hypocrisy."

2,000 Hear Scranton

Police estimated that more than 2,000 persons turned out to hear Scranton Wednesday night in South Philadelphia.

Dilworth, meanwhile, moved from place to place and meeting to meeting, shaking hands in Perryopolis, Uniontown, Connellsville, and Brownsville, addressing the Fayette County Development Council, a news conference and a Democratic dinner, and firing political broadsides all along the way.

"We have found that when the Republicans come into power in this state, labor gets clobbered," Dilworth told the Development Council. Then, turning on Scranton's plan to mobilize 100,000 solicitors to bring new jobs to Pennsylvania, Dilworth said, "it's a good political gimmick but I do not think it will help. We have our own local industrial groups doing the job right now."

In Philadelphia, Scranton drew repeated cheers as he spoke from a sound truck parked just a few blocks from where an angry crowd hurled rocks at Dilworth in the summer of 1961.

There to Bare Graft

Dilworth, who resigned as mayor to accept the Democratic nomination for governor, had designated the area for a pilot parking program. His appearance to explain a proposed $40 per year parking fee touched off a near riot.

Scranton told the crowd he was there "not to introduce a $40 parking program" but to tell them of "graft and corruption in Philadelphia and Harrisburg, too."

He repeated charges first made earlier in the day that Dilworth's former law firm—was paid more than $170,000 as special counsel on traffic problems while Dilworth was mayor.

Scranton's charge drew an immediate denial from H. Douglas Paxson, senior partner in the firm.

None Injured After Dutchess Collision

Occupants of two vehicles apparently escaped injury at 4:40 p. m. Wednesday, when the cars were involved in a rearend collision on Route 9 at the intersection of Calmer Place, Hlde Park.

Troopers said a car driven by Ruth Lamb, 46, Hyde Park, was stopped behind another vehicle that was preparing to make a left turn into Calmer Place from Route 9 when the Lamb car was struck in the rear by a vehicle operated by John Lynch, 69, Rhinebeck.

Trooper John Urey, Hyde Park, said neither driver claimed injuries at the time the accident was reported.

Find Bogus Bills In Po'keepsie, Know Car Owner

Several counterfeit $20 bills, allegedly passed at Poughkeepsie stores by Andrew Joseph Vayda, 26, of Bayonne, N. J. were recovered Wednesday by Poughkeepsie detectives.

Vayda is held on charges of possessing counterfeit bills and grand larceny involving a car he was driving when taken into custody Tuesday night by Detectives Dominic Frisone and William Paroli in uptown Poughkeepsie.

Detective Francis (Pete) Doerr, who questioned Vayda Wednesday with Detective Sergeant James Murphy and U. S. Treasury agents, said the ownership of the car had been determined and the grand larceny charge probably will be withdrawn Friday when Vayda appears before City Judge Milton Haven. Police said Vayda had borrowed the vehicle.

Doerr told The Freeman the defendant has admitted passing 116 counterfeit bills at liquor, grocery and drug stores in Poughkeepsie. Doerr said seven or eight bills have been recovered and detectives expect to recover those remaining in circulation today.

After Frisone and Paroli took Vayda, search of the car the defendant had with him disclosed a brief case with 24 counterfeit $20 bills.

Speakers Named For Institute on Alcoholism Nov. 1

DR. RUTH FOX

Community leaders and professionals will have an excellent opportunity to learn of the resources for help regarding alcoholism, to discuss the latest approaches to physical and mental therapy, and to identify the magnitude of the problem in the Mid-Hudson area.

Richard G. McCarthy and Dr. Ruth Fox will deliver lectures Thursday, Nov. 1, in the morning session of the all-day institute.

Dr. Fox will speak on "The Multi-Discipline Approach in the Treatment of Alcohlism." She is currently the medical director of the National Council on Alcohlism. As a practicing psychoanalyst, Dr. Fox is also a Fellow in the New York Academy of Medicine and the Academy of Psychoanalysis. An author of numerous books on the subject, and noted as a public speaker, Dr. Fox's message will be particularly meaningful to the professional who must deal with alcohlism on an inter personal basis.

The lecture, "Alcohlism—A Community Problem," will be the opening event of the institute. It will be presented by Richard G. McCarthy, director of the Division of Alcohlism, New York State Department of Mental Hygiene. Mr. McCarthy brings to the institute 18 years of experience as a teacher and administrator of programs aimed at alleviating the problem of alcoholism. Prior to his present state position, these activities were conducted at Yale University. His lecture theme is also that of the entire institute.

People can make reservations before Oct. 20 by contacting the institute's sponsor, the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street, Kingston. A nominal fee per person is charged for attendance at the lectures, lunch, and participation in the afternoon workshop sessions.

Powell Endorses N. H. Democrat

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Republican Gov. Wesley Powell, defeated for nomination last month, has thrown his support to the Democratic candidate but insists "I'm still a Republican."

Powell, 47, who sought an unprecedented third term and talked of a place on the GOP national ticket in 1964, said in a television speech Wednesday night he cannot support the primary winner, John Pillsbury of Manchester, a member of the New Hampshire House.

Can't Tolerate Surrender

"I frankly do not believe in John Pillsbury," Powell said. "I cannot subscribe to his obstructionism in the legislature. I cannot tolerate his surrender to William Loeb"—publisher of the Manchester Union Leader.

Powell is a former chairman of the national governors conference.

King said in a statement he is happy to receive Powell's support.

Powell, whose two terms have been marked by frequent clashes with Republican leaders, ran as an independent in 1950 against Republican Charles W. Tobey, who sought re-election to the U.S. Senate. Tobey, who has since died, easily won re-election.

In his television speech, Powell sharply criticized what he termed the "Old Guard" of the Republican party in New Hampshire. He said the party has lost in the nation because officials, even former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, "were unable to shake off the curse of the Old Guard."

Eisenhower spoke at Manchester Tuesday in behalf of Republican candidates. Powell was invited to sit on the platform but did not attend. Aides indicated he was unhappy because he had not been asked to welcome the former president.

Had to Select or Lose

Powell's speech attributed his defeat by Pillsbury in the Sept. 11 primary to his appointment of Maurice J. Murphy Jr. to fill the U.S. Senate vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Styles Bridges.

He said he made the appointment against the desires of publisher Loeb, who supported Doloris Bridges, widow of the senator.

"I had to select the choice of Loeb or lose the governorship," he said. "I did not hestitate and took the road of personal sacrifice rather than give in to the intruder."

Mrs. Bridges ran for the GOP nomination to the U.S. Senate in the September primary but lost to Rep. Perkins Bass. Loeb supported her in the primary campaign.

No comment was available immediately from Pillsbury or Loeb.

License Quota Gone

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The state Game Commission reported Wednesday 48 counties had sold their quotas of antlerless deer hunting license.

Counties that still have licenses for sale for the one-day season Dec. 17 are: Allegheny, Beaver, Bucks, Chester, Crawford, Delaware, Erie, Greene, Lancaster, Montour, Susquehanna, Washington and York.
